NATO To Study Suez Crisis

Anti-Integration Violence Flares For Second Day

Blast Damages British LST In Cyprus Harbor

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Aug. 30 (AP) — French troops and arms arrived by air and sea today for a Suez crisis base on this British Middle East bastion isle. The Frenchmen saw violence almost immediately.

More land and air forces and naval power are on the way from France. The new French forward position here is 250 miles from the north end of the Suez Canal.

Tonight a tank landing craft in Famagusta Harbor was damaged by an explosion blamed on a mine apparently placed by a frogman.

The blast was interpreted as perhaps the first act by Cypriots against the British decision to let French forces base on Cyprus during the crisis.

French Ship Arrives

The damaged British craft was anchored at a quay in an area near where a French arms ship with 150 French troops reported aboard had anchored earlier in the day.

The French sought and got permission from the British this week to set up a base here with the announced purpose of being in a position to protect French nationals in case of a breakdown in negotiations to free the canal from Egypt's control.

Ships Clog Harbor

Famagusta, the only Cyprus port that has much deep water, was filled with military cargo ships. The harbor is not deep enough for large warships, however, and landing ships and other lighter services may have to be used to put men and supplies ashore.

The first French ship to arrive was the 3,805-ton cargo ship Aulne, from Marseille. Four other ships, including some requisitioned by the British government to transport military supplies to the area, arrived 12 days ago.

Texans Declare They'll Use Guns To Bar Negroes

[By The Associated Press]

An angry crowd threatened to use guns if necessary to maintain segregation at the Mansfield, Tex., High School Thursday while violence flared for the second day at the newly integrated Clinton High School in east Tennessee.

Sheriff Harlan Wright said about 250 persons milled about Mansfield High after the figure of a Negro was found hanged in effigy from the school's flagpole. The figure bore a sign waying, "Stay away niggers."

The sheriff and four deputies went to the school to preserve order while town children registered for the fall term. No Negroes appeared but 12 from rural areas are scheduled to register Friday.

Wright said one member of the crowd demanded, "We want a yes or no answer: Are you gonna escort them in there with guns?"

No Incidents Develop

The sheriff replied, "You can't take the law into your own hands."

"If you escort them in with guns, we are gonna have to get guns ourselves," one man told Wright. The sheriff said he would charge anyone found with a gun.

"You'd better clean out the jail, then. You're gonna have a lot of us down there," someone in the crowd shouted.

No incidents developed and by midafternoon only about 50 persons remained outside the school. The sheriff said many declared they would return Friday.

In Dallas, Federal Dist. Judge Joe E. Estes confirmed his order for immediate integration of Mansfield High. An appeal is being sought, however.

At Clinton, Tenn., three white men were taken into custody during a brief melee in front of the school. Classes started Monday with 12 Negroes among the 800 pupils enrolled.

Negro Woman Pelted

Apples and tomatoes were hurled at a passing Negro woman during the disturbance. The crowd of about 100 moved on to the nearby jail when the three were taken there. A jail window was broken before authorities restored order.

Some two hours after the disturbance a motorcade carrying Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver drove through Clinton en route to Oak Ridge from the Tennessee Valley's Norris Dam. The caravan carrying the Democratic presidential and vice-presidential nominees passed within a block of Clinton High to a smattering of applause. No incidents were reported. Stevenson and Kefauver later met with party leaders from 10 Southern states at Knoxville.

Death Ends Car Ramming Duel

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 30 (AP)—A 30-year-old Louisville man is dead today, victim of an auto-ramming duel.

Vernon Montgomery was found early today on a highway near here about five minutes after a Levittown, Pa., couple reported witnessing a battle between two speeding cars on the highway.

The automobile duel, witnesses reported, grew out of a tavern fight between Montgomery and two unidentified men. When Montgomery fled, the two men chased him and the duel began.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blair were the only known witnesses to the crash which killed Montgomery.

They told police:

"They passed us at a terrific rate of speed. They were just about neck and neck when they started banging into each other. First, one would turn into the other car, then the other would bang away."

Montgomery's car either turned over or was rammed over, police said. He was thrown out and the car rolled over on him.

Wagner Tosses Hat In New York Senate Contest

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (AP)—Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner today became a candidate for the U.S. Senate seat held by retiring veteran Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY).

Wagner, under heavy pressure from Adlai Stevenson and other Democratic leaders to make the race, appeared assured of his party's nomination.

The mayor, overcoming previous reluctance to run this year, told a news conference in City Hall:

"If the Democratic convention at Albany—Sept. 10—sees fit to select me, I will accept."

The mayor's four-year term has a year to go. He will not have to give up his city post to campaign for the Senate.

GOP Choice Open Question

Whom the Republicans will nominate to oppose him still was an open question. The GOP State Committee will decide at a meeting in Albany the same day as the Democrats.

State Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits and J. Raymond McGovern, former state controller, are the major announced candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Among those mentioned as possibilities have been former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, now engaged in private law practice; U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., and National GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall, but none has shown any interest.

Bolsters Demo Ticket

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee; Lehman, Gov. Averell Harriman and other leaders have urged Wagner to make the race in the belief he is the party's best potential vote-getter in the state.

They have expressed belief he will add strength to the Stevenson-Kefauver national ticket in its quest for New York's 45 electoral votes and give the party a chance of holding its slim majority in the Senate.

The present Senate division is 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

State Democrats also are hopeful that he will bolster the campaigns of the party's legislative candidates so the GOP cannot attain its goal of a majority sufficient to override Harriman vetoes.

Tornado Injures Eight At Fargo, ND

FARGO, N. D., Aug. 30—(INS)—Eight persons were injured late today when a tornado cut a two-mile swath through the western end of Fargo, tore down power lines and smashed many homes.

The injured, members of three families, were reported in fair condition.

Fargo Police Chief Harvey Gillund reported that a trailer camp was hard hit and the Great Northern Railroad station demolished by the twister which swept through the North Dakota border town.

Two Israelis Killed

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, Aug. 30 (AP)—Two Israeli soldiers were killed and three wounded today by a land mine which blew up a command car in the Negev Desert, an Israel army spokesman said.

Uncle Sam Offers Buffalo, Elk, Mule Deer For Sale

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—If you want to buy a buffalo, Uncle Sam has nearly 500 for sale.

You can buy it alive or butchered, dressed and quartered.

Or perhaps you might prefer an elk, a mule deer, or longhorn cattle.

The Fish and Wildlife Service announced today it also has 76 elk, 110 mule deer and 151 longhorns for sale.

It said the animals are surplus to the range capacity of its big game preserves in Nebraska, North Dakota, Montana and Oklahoma.

Director John L. Farley said this season's disposal program at the Wichita Mountains refuge at Cache, Okla., and at the Fort Niobrara refuge at Valentine, Neb., is larger than usual for several reasons:

The herds have reached their best level in each place; drought conditions have restricted forage growth in the Fort Niobrara area; and only 240 of the 500 animals authorized for sale at Wichita last year were disposed of.

In selling the animals, the service gives preference to applicants proposing live purchase for use for propagation or exhibition.

Prices to persons desiring to purchase the animals alive are: buffalo, mature animal not less than two years of age $150; animals under two years, $125; elk, not less than two years of age, $90; under two years, $80.

A butchered carcass of a buffalo weighing about 450 pounds will be sold for $125 to $150, depending on where purchased, plus transportation charges.

A slaughtered whole elk weighing from 250 to 300 pounds will sell for $90 or $110; a half elk for $45 or $55.

Ike's Nuclear Policies Draw Adlai's Fire

Democratic Unity Theme Of Session At Knoxville, Tenn.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 30 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson aimed a new broadside at President Eisenhower today in a foray into Dixie where party leaders told him the South will go overwhelmingly Democratic.

Clayton Fritchie, news secretary to the Democratic presidential nominee, emerged from a closed-door conference with Democrats from 10 Southern states to tell reporters:

"This meeting is turning into a rally for the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket."

Earlier, on his arrival here, Stevenson contended in a speech that Eisenhower has shown no sign that he is "either able or determined" to stop the ghastly nuclear arms race.

And he charged that under what he termed Eisenhower "go-slow policies" this nation is "lagging seriously in the development of nuclear energy for peacetime purposes."

Unity Is Theme

The real purpose of his trip, to determine the South's attitude toward his own candidacy and that of his running mate—Tennessee Sen. Estes Kefauver — was attacked in a long executive session with office holders and party leaders.

Unity was the theme at all times, and the civil rights issue did not rear its troublesome head in speeches and closed-door reports.

Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi summed up the view of most when he told the conference that the situation has "stabilized" for the Democrats in Mississippi. He said his state, which Stevenson carried by 50,000 votes in 1952, will go Democratic by more than 150,000 in November.

State Sen. Harry C. Stuart of Virginia, which Eisenhower carried by more than 80,000 four years ago, said his state will return to the Democratic column in November by a margin of more than 10,000 votes.

Assurance From Kentucky

Sens. Earle Clements and Robert Humphreys of Kentucky assured the candidate, "Don't worry about Kentucky—we'll take care of that."

Kentucky barely went Democratic in 1952 when Tennessee, Virginia, Florida and Texas voted for Eisenhower.

Coleman said an attempt at a States Rights' movement in his state of Mississippi "has not caught fire."

"One group arrogated to themselves the title of States Righters," he said, but their ticket "has no real leadership." He declared that he would be surprised if the Republicans got 20,000 Mississippi votes this year.

Farm Values, And Debt, Rise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The value of the nation's farms increased to a record level last year—and so did farm debt.

The Federal Reserve System reported today that farm assets hit a new high of 171 billion dollars on Jan. 1, while farm debt climbed to nearly 19 billion.

These figures were reported in "The Balance-Sheet of Agriculture, 1956," appearing in the reserve's monthly bulletin.

The jump in farm assets was attributed mainly to increases in the value of farm real estate. Also figured as assets are such items as automobiles, household furnishings, buildings, tractors, trucks, farm machinery and inventories of crops.

Compared with the figure for a year earlier, farm assets were up 3½ billion, or about 2 per cent. The increase in 1954 had amounted to five billion, or 5 per cent.

Only two major types of farm assets declined in the two-year period. These were inventories of livestock and of crops.

Farm debts, including price-support loans, increased a billion dollars in 1955 compared with an increase of 600 million in 1954.

Canadian Air Record

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 30 (AP)—Two RCAF Sabre MK.6 jet planes today flew across Canada in 5 hours, 30 seconds, setting a new record.

Arrested In School Violence

Dewey Hopper, 21, Clinton, Tenn., was forcefully escorted to the Clinton jail yesterday as violence flared again at the Clinton High School where Negroes have been integrated for the first time. Hopper, in the Air Force, was charged with resisting arrest and later was turned over to military authorities. Two other men were also arrested. (AP Photofax)

Compromise Air Traffic Control Plan Approved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The government today approved a compromise air traffic control system for the forthcoming jet plane age by adopting the most favorable parts of conflicting military and civilian systems now in use.

The new combined system will be known as VORTAC.

Louis S. Rothschild, undersecretary of commerce for transportation, announced the decision, made by the Air Coordinating Committee which he heads. This is an interdepartmental policy-making body for the government.

Rothschild said the new system, which will add millions to the cost of preparations for handling high-speed plane directions, will be in use by 1960. He said 1965 is the target date for full-scale operation across the country.

Best Features Of Each

He told a news conference that integrating the best features of the military and civilian systems will "provide the most comprehensive and modern Distance Measuring Equipment and Directional Navigation Service."

The system will retain the Very High Frequency Omnidirectional Radio Range—VOR—now used by civilian directional stations across the country. There are now about 500 such stations in use and 82 already are scheduled to be put into operation within the next year.

The present Distance Measuring Equipment—DME—now used by the civilian stations will be dropped in favor of similar equipment used by the military services—Navy and Air Force.

Decision Ends Long Dispute

The system used by the military is known as TACAN—Tactical Air Navigation. That part of TACAN used for measuring distance will be combined with the VOR to form the new VORTAC system.

The decision ends a conflict that extends back for a couple of years and which figured in congressional hearings because millions have been spent in developing the rival systems.

July Traffic Deaths Highest In History

CHICAGO, Aug. 30 (AP)—The National Safety Council today announced auto deaths established two grim records during July.

There were more traffic deaths last month—3,570—than in any July in history. The previous high was 3,419, set in 1937, the council said.

The total for the seven-month period that ended July 31 also set a new record, the safety organization reported. There were 21,730 fatalities, a 9 per cent increase over the same period last year. The old record was 20,739 in 1937.

"July was the 17th consecutive month of traffic death increases," Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said.

Bus Passenger Gets Driver Lost

PATERSON, N.J. Aug. 30 (AP)—A man was driving a Public Service bus today but a woman passenger was doing the directing. The result: The bus ended up a mile off course and a male passenger had to direct the driver back to his route.

The driver of the bus, which was en route from Little Falls to Paterson, was forced to detour. Not being accustomed to the area, he turned to a woman passenger sitting in a front seat.

"Turn right," she said. He did and wound up a mile off course.

Finally a male passenger who said he had to get to work made a few suggestions and the bus driver, who was not identified, returned to his route. The bus was half an hour behind schedule.

Soldiers' Wives Shot On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Aug. 30 (AP)—Wives of two British army sergeants were wounded by bullets in a busy Nicosia street today.

They were walking in the fashionable area where most British servicemen live when a cyclist opened fire on an air force man and his wife. The airman drew his service revolver and fired at the fleeing cyclist.

A police communique said some of the bullets struck the two British women, wounding them in the arms.

The gunmen escaped.

While British families came under attack in Nicosia, the extremist EOKA organization struck in the village of Tsadha, near Paphos. Masked men invaded a coffee shot, singled out a Greek Cypriot, and seriously wounded him.

Bomb Fuse Found

INDIAN HEAD, Md., Aug. 30 (AP)—An object found in the Potomac River by a 13-year-old boy last week was identified today by the Naval Powder Factory here as a loaded World War II Japanese nose fuse for a bomb. It has not been learned how the fuse got into the river.

Egypt Protests Remarks Canal "International"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—Egypt today challenged the accuracy of statements by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles that the Suez Canal was "internationalized" by an 1888 treaty.

The Egyptian ambassador, Ahmed Hussein, personally carried to Dulles a verbal protest against the secretary's remarks on the status of the canal, nationalized by Egypt on July 26.

And, in Cairo, Egyptian President Nasser summoned U.S. Ambassador Henry Byroade and expresse "regret" over a statement by Eisenhower yesterday referring to the canal as an international waterway.

Clarification Expected

Hussein told newsmen he made a 15-minute call at the State Department "to express the view that all historical facts and documents prove the Suez Canal was never internationalized."

He declined to give Dulles' reaction but said he understood the department will issue a statement tomorrow which "will clarify this."

1866 Agreement Recalled

Nasser told Byroade that "in the agreement of 1866 setting up the Suez Canal Co. concession, it was specifically stated that the Suez Canal Co. was subject to Egyptian laws and customs."

He also said a 1954 Egyptian - British agreement providing for British evacuation of its Suez base recognized the Suez as an integral part of Egypt.

Dulles told a news conference yesterday that the canal "was internationalized by the treaty of 1888, which provides that it shall be a waterway freely open in time of peace and war to the traffic of all nations."

AFL-CIO Proposes Labor, Rights Campaign In South

FOREST PARK, Pa., Aug. 30 (AP)—A vast educational program to change the "whole mental attitude" of the South on labor unions and civil rights was proposed today by the AFL-CIO.

George Meany, president of the 15-million-member labor group, said the whole atmosphere and way of thinking of the South must be changed before Dixie workers can be organized by the AFL-CIO.

He said a staff committee has been set up to study the educational plan, which would employ radio, television and newspaper advertising.

"Southern opposition to labor unions and civil rights for Negroes, is a misguided tradition out of step with the rest of the nation," Meany declared.

He cited the project as "a constructive educational approach that will be closely related to our organizing work."

The plan was outlined by Meany at a news conference at the close of a four-day meeting of the AFL-CIO 28-member Executive Council in this Pocono Mountain resort.

Meany said, "We feel more and more people in the South are coming around to the liberal approach." The educational drive, he added, would emphasize that unions help to improve the lot of workers and by increasing purchasing power, help business and build community life.

Union leaders announced that retiring Sen. Herbert Lehman (D-NY) would receive the AFL-CIO annual award for outstanding service. It will be presented to him next December.

French Arms, Troops Pour Onto Cyprus

British Order Two Egyptian Diplomats To Leave Country

LONDON, Aug. 30 (AP)—French troops and arms descended on the British isle of Cyprus today for service as needed in the Suez crisis.

They arrived as tension mounted on the political front in a challenge from Egypt's President Nasser to statements made yesterday by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

Nasser contended neither was right in contending the Suez Canal is physically international in character by treaty.

And in this atmosphere of still mounting tension, the British Foreign Office announced the 13-nation North Atlantic Council will meet in Paris Wednesday to "consider the Suez Canal question."

Nasser "Expresses Regret"

In Cairo, President Nasser summoned U.S. Ambassador Henry Byroade to "express regret" at President Eisenhower's terming the canal "internationalized by the treaty of 1888." Nasser repeated to the ambassador his contention that the canal "is an integral part of Egypt and subject to Egyptian sovereignty.

An official communique issued in Cyprus, the British military base less than two flying hours from Egypt, said "first elements of French troops to be stationed in Cyprus have arrived here by air tonight."

The French cargo ship Aulne anchored off Famagusta, the deep water port on Cyprus' east shore. Reports from there said it carried military supplies and about 150 troops. More French ships are expected within 24 hours to land men on Cyprus.

Cairo Talks Open Monday

Representatives of the 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance will be meeting in Paris two days after the first meeting—in Cairo Monday—between Nasser and the five-nation committee taking him the London Suez conference's majority proposal for international control of the canal.

Diplomatic sources said it is assumed Britain and France want to tell their NATO allies what their next move will be if Nasser rebuffs the committee.

In a diplomatic cold war, Britain ordered two attaches of the Egyptian Embassy here to leave the country within 72 hours. The order retaliated for Egyptian President Nasser's expulsion of two British diplomats among seven Britons in Cairo whom Egypt accused of spying.

The Egyptian attaches are Abdelsalam Kafifi and Hamdi Hohammed Nassef. The Britons expelled were first secretaries J. B. Flux and J. G. Gove.

15 Dead, Missing In Plane Crash

KODIAK, Alaska Aug. 30 (AP)—A big Canadian airliner with 22 aboard caught fire over the Pacific last night and came down on a bleak Alaskan tidal flat in a crash that left 15 persons dead or missing. Some of the seven survivors were injured critically.

The U.S. Naval Station here reported there were 12 dead and three missing after hours of search and rescue operations hampered by rising tide on the beach at the tip of Alaska.

The pilot of the Canadian Pacific Airlines DC6B, bound for Tokyo from Vancouver, B.C., radioed Cold Bay, Alaska, that his plane was afire but did not give the cause. This was just before it went down at 9:58 p.m., 2½ miles southwest of Cold Bay.

The Navy flew a doctor and medical supplies to Cold Bay, a tiny settlement 500 miles southwest of Kodiak. Plans were made to fly survivors to Anchorage, Alaska.

CPA's Vancouver office reported the pilot, Capt. Thornton A. Tweed 33, of Burnaby, B.C., three other crew members and three passengers were the survivors.

Two Israelis Killed

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, Aug. 30 (AP)—Two Israeli soldiers were killed and three wounded today by a land mine which blew up a command car in the Negev Desert, an Israel army spokesman said.

Uncle Sam Offers Buffalo, Elk, Mule Deer For Sale

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—If you want to buy a buffalo, Uncle Sam has nearly 500 for sale.

You can buy it alive or butchered, dressed and quartered.

Or perhaps you might prefer an elk, a mule deer, or longhorn cattle.

The Fish and Wildlife Service announced today it also has 76 elk, 110 mule deer and 151 longhorns for sale.

It said the animals are surplus to the range capacity of its big game preserves in Nebraska, North Dakota, Montana and Oklahoma.

Director John L. Farley said this season's disposal program at the Wichita Mountains refuge at Cache, Okla., and at the Fort Niobrara refuge at Valentine, Neb., is larger than usual for several reasons:

The herds have reached their best level in each place; drought conditions have restricted forage growth in the Fort Niobrara area; and only 240 of the 500 animals authorized for sale at Wichita last year were disposed of.

In selling the animals, the service gives preference to applicants proposing live purchase for use for propagation or exhibition.

Prices to persons desiring to purchase the animals alive are: buffalo, mature animal not less than two years of age $150; animals under two years, $125; elk, not less than two years of age, $90; under two years, $80.

A butchered carcass of a buffalo weighing about 450 pounds will be sold for $125 to $150, depending on where purchased, plus transportation charges.

A slaughtered whole elk weighing from 250 to 300 pounds will sell for $90 or $110; a half elk for $45 or $55.

Ike's Nuclear Policies Draw Adlai's Fire

Democratic Unity Theme Of Session At Knoxville, Tenn.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 30 (AP) —Adlai E. Stevenson aimed a new broadside at President Eisenhower today in a foray into Dixie where party leaders told him the South will go overwhelmingly Democratic.

Clayton Fritchie, news secretary to the Democratic presidential nominee, emerged from a closed-door conference with Democrats from 10 Southern states to tell reporters:

"This meeting is turning into a rally for the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket."

Earlier, on his arrival here, Stevenson contended in a speech that Eisenhower has shown no sign that he is "either able or determined" to stop the ghastly nuclear arms race.

And he charged that under what he termed Eisenhower "go-slow policies" this nation is "lagging seriously in the development of nuclear energy for peacetime purposes."

Unity Is Theme

The real purpose of his trip, to determine the South's attitude toward his own candidacy and that of his running mate—Tennessee Sen. Estes Kefauver — was attacked in a long executive session with office holders and party leaders.

Unity was the theme at all times, and the civil rights issue did not rear its troublesome head in speeches and closed-door reports.

Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi summed up the view of most when he told the conference that the situation has "stabilized" for the Democrats in Mississippi. He said his state, which Stevenson carried by 50,000 votes in 1952, will go Democratic by more than 150,000 in November.

State Sen. Harry C. Stuart of Virginia, which Eisenhower carried by more than 80,000 four years ago, said his state will return to the Democratic column in November by a margin of more than 10,000 votes.

Assurance From Kentucky

Sens. Earle Clements and Robert Humphreys of Kentucky assured the candidate, "Don't worry about Kentucky—we'll take care of that."

Kentucky barely went Democratic in 1952 when Tennessee, Virginia, Florida and Texas voted for Eisenhower.

Coleman said an attempt at a States Rights' movement in his state of Mississippi "has not caught fire."

"One group arrogated to themselves the title of States Righters," he said, but their ticket "has no real leadership." He declared that he would be surprised if the Republicans got 20,000 Mississippi votes this year.

Farm Values, And Debt, Rise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The value of the nation's farms increased to a record level last year—and so did farm debt.

The Federal Reserve System reported today that farm assets hit a new high of 171 billion dollars on Jan. 1, while farm debt climbed to nearly 19 billion.

These figures were reported in "The Balance-Sheet of Agriculture, 1956," appearing in the reserve's monthly bulletin.

The jump in farm assets was attributed mainly to increases in the value of farm real estate. Also figured as assets are such items as automobiles, household furnishings, buildings, tractors, trucks, farm machinery and inventories of crops.

Compared with the figure for a year earlier, farm assets were up 3½ billion, or about 2 per cent. The increase in 1954 had amounted to five billion, or 5 per cent.

Only two major types of farm assets declined in the two-year period. These were inventories of livestock and of crops.

Farm debts, including price-support loans, increased a billion dollars in 1955 compared with an increase of 600 million in 1954.

Canadian Air Record

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 30 (AP)—Two RCAF Sabre MK.6 jet planes today flew across Canada in 5 hours, 30 seconds, setting a new record.

Arrested In School Violence

Dewey Hopper, 21, Clinton, Tenn., was forcefully escorted to the Clinton jail yesterday as violence flared again at the Clinton High School where Negroes have been integrated for the first time. Hopper, in the Air Force, was charged with resisting arrest and later was turned over to military authorities. Two other men were also arrested. (AP Photofax)

Compromise Air Traffic Control Plan Approved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The government today approved a compromise air traffic control system for the forthcoming jet plane age by adopting the most favorable parts of conflicting military and civilian systems now in use.

The new combined system will be known as VORTAC.

Louis S. Rothschild, undersecretary of commerce for transportation, announced the decision, made by the Air Coordinating Committee which he heads. This is an interdepartmental policy-making body for the government.

Rothschild said the new system, which will add millions to the cost of preparations for handling high-speed plane directions, will be in use by 1960. He said 1965 is the target date for full-scale operation across the country.

Best Features Of Each

He told a news conference that integrating the best features of the military and civilian systems will "provide the most comprehensive and modern Distance Measuring Equipment and Directional Navigation Service."

The system will retain the Very High Frequency Omnidirectional Radio Range—VOR—now used by civilian directional stations across the country. There are now about 500 such stations in use and 82 already are scheduled to be put into operation within the next year.

The present Distance Measuring Equipment—DME—now used by the civilian stations will be dropped in favor of similar equipment used by the military services—Navy and Air Force.

Decision Ends Long Dispute

The system used by the military is known as TACAN—Tactical Air Navigation. That part of TACAN used for measuring distance will be combined with the VOR to form the new VORTAC system.

The decision ends a conflict that extends back for a couple of years and which figured in congressional hearings because millions have been spent in developing the rival systems.

July Traffic Deaths Highest In History

CHICAGO, Aug. 30 (AP)—The National Safety Council today announced auto deaths established two grim records during July.

There were more traffic deaths last month—3,570—than in any July in history. The previous high was 3,419, set in 1937, the council said.

The total for the seven-month period that ended July 31 also set a new record, the safety organization reported. There were 21,730 fatalities, a 9 per cent increase over the same period last year. The old record was 20,739 in 1937.

"July was the 17th consecutive month of traffic death increases," Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said.

Bus Passenger Gets Driver Lost

PATERSON, N.J. Aug. 30 (AP)—A man was driving a Public Service bus today but a woman passenger was doing the directing. The result: The bus ended up a mile off course and a male passenger had to direct the driver back to his route.

The driver of the bus, which was en route from Little Falls to Paterson, was forced to detour. Not being accustomed to the area, he turned to a woman passenger sitting in a front seat.

"Turn right," she said. He did and wound up a mile off course.

Finally a male passenger who said he had to get to work made a few suggestions and the bus driver, who was not identified, returned to his route. The bus was half an hour behind schedule.

Soldiers' Wives Shot On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Aug. 30 (AP) — Wives of two British army sergeants were wounded by bullets in a busy Nicosia street today.

They were walking in the fashionable area where most British servicemen live when a cyclist opened fire on an air force man and his wife. The airman drew his service revolver and fired at the fleeing cyclist.

A police communique said some of the bullets struck the two British women, wounding them in the arms.

The gunmen escaped.

While British families came under attack in Nicosia, the extremist EOKA organization struck in the village of Tsadha, near Paphos. Masked men invaded a coffee shot, singled out a Greek Cypriot, and seriously wounded him.

Bomb Fuse Found

INDIAN HEAD, Md., Aug. 30 (AP) —An object found in the Potomac River by a 13-year-old boy last week was identified today by the Naval Powder Factory here as a loaded World War II Japanese nose fuse for a bomb. It has not been learned how the fuse got into the river.

Egypt Protests Remarks Canal "International"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP) — Egypt today challenged the accuracy of statements by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles that the Suez Canal was "internationalized" by an 1888 treaty.

The Egyptian ambassador, Ahmed Hussein, personally carried to Dulles a verbal protest against the secretary's remarks on the status of the canal, nationalized by Egypt on July 26.

And, in Cairo, Egyptian President Nasser summoned U.S. Ambassador Henry Byroade and expresse "regret" over a statement by Eisenhower yesterday referring to the canal as an international waterway.

Clarification Expected

Hussein told newsmen he made a 15-minute call at the State Department "to express the view that all historical facts and documents prove the Suez Canal was never internationalized."

He declined to give Dulles' reaction but said he understood the department will issue a statement tomorrow which "will clarify this."

1866 Agreement Recalled

Nasser told Byroade that "in the agreement of 1866 setting up the Suez Canal Co. concession, it was specifically stated that the Suez Canal Co. was subject to Egyptian laws and customs."

He also said a 1954 Egyptian - British agreement providing for British evacuation of its Suez base recognized the Suez as an integral part of Egypt.

Dulles told a news conference yesterday that the canal "was internationalized by the treaty of 1888, which provides that it shall be a waterway freely open in time of peace and war to the traffic of all nations."

AFL-CIO Proposes Labor, Rights Campaign In South

FOREST PARK, Pa., Aug. 30 (AP) —A vast educational program to change the "whole mental attitude" of the South on labor unions and civil rights was proposed today by the AFL-CIO.

George Meany, president of the 15-million-member labor group, said the whole atmosphere and way of thinking of the South must be changed before Dixie workers can be organized by the AFL-CIO.

He said a staff committee has been set up to study the educational plan, which would employ radio, television and newspaper advertising.

"Southern opposition to labor unions and civil rights for Negroes, is a misguided tradition out of step with the rest of the nation," Meany declared.

He cited the project as "a constructive educational approach that will be closely related to our organizing work."

The plan was outlined by Meany at a news conference at the close of a four-day meeting of the AFL-CIO 28-member Executive Council in this Pocono Mountain resort.

Meany said, "We feel more and more people in the South are coming around to the liberal approach." The educational drive, he added, would emphasize that unions help to improve the lot of workers and by increasing purchasing power, help business and build community life.

Union leaders announced that retiring Sen. Herbert Lehman (D-NY) would receive the AFL-CIO annual award for outstanding service. It will be presented to him next December.

French Arms, Troops Pour Onto Cyprus

British Order Two Egyptian Diplomats To Leave Country

LONDON, Aug. 30 (AP)—French troops and arms descended on the British isle of Cyprus today for service as needed in the Suez crisis.

They arrived as tension mounted on the political front in a challenge from Egypt's President Nasser to statements made yesterday by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

Nasser contended neither was right in contending the Suez Canal is physically international in character by treaty.

And in this atmosphere of still mounting tension, the British Foreign Office announced the 13-nation North Atlantic Council will meet in Paris Wednesday to "consider the Suez Canal question."

Nasser "Expresses Regret"

In Cairo, President Nasser summoned U.S. Ambassador Henry Byroade to "express regret" at President Eisenhower's terming the canal "internationalized by the treaty of 1888." Nasser repeated to the ambassador his contention that the canal "is an integral part of Egypt and subject to Egyptian sovereignty."

An official communique issued in Cyprus, the British military base less than two flying hours from Egypt, said "first elements of French troops to be stationed in Cyprus have arrived here by air tonight."

The French cargo ship Aulne anchored off Famagusta, the deep water port on Cyprus' east shore. Reports from there said it carried military supplies and about 150 troops. More French ships are expected within 24 hours to land men on Cyprus.

Cairo Talks Open Monday

Representatives of the 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance will be meeting in Paris two days after the first meeting—in Cairo Monday—between Nasser and the five-nation committee taking him the London Suez conference's majority proposal for international control of the canal.

Diplomatic sources said it is assumed Britain and France want to tell their NATO allies what their next move will be if Nasser rebuffs the committee.

In a diplomatic cold war, Britain ordered two attaches of the Egyptian Embassy here to leave the country within 72 hours. The order retaliated for Egyptian President Nasser's expulsion of two British diplomats among seven Britons in Cairo whom Egypt accused of spying.

The Egyptian attaches are Abdelsalam Kafifi and Hamdi Hohammed Nassef. The Britons expelled were first secretaries J. B. Flux and J. G. Gove.

15 Dead, Missing In Plane Crash

KODIAK, Alaska Aug. 30 (AP)—A big Canadian airliner with 22 aboard caught fire over the Pacific last night and came down on a bleak Alaskan tidal flat in a crash that left 15 persons dead or missing. Some of the seven survivors were injured critically.

The U.S. Naval Station here reported there were 12 dead and three missing after hours of search and rescue operations hampered by rising tide on the beach at the tip of Alaska.

The pilot of the Canadian Pacific Airlines DC6B, bound for Tokyo from Vancouver, B.C., radioed Cold Bay, Alaska, that his plane was afire but did not give the cause. This was just before it went down at 9:58 p.m., 2½ miles southwest of Cold Bay.

The Navy flew a doctor and medical supplies to Cold Bay, a tiny settlement 500 miles southwest of Kodiak. Plans were made to fly survivors to Anchorage, Alaska.

CPA's Vancouver office reported the pilot, Capt. Thornton A. Tweed 33, of Burnaby, B.C., three other crew members and three passengers were the survivors.

ALGIERS, Aug. 30 (AP)—French headquarters tonight reported 12 French marines, soldiers and about 50 rebels were killed yesterday in one of the sharpest battles of the Algerian nationalist insurrection.

Public's Pocketbook Contains More Cash, Credit Buying Eases

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The public's pocketbook is filled with more cash to buy goods now than a year ago and the zest for buying shows no let up, the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

A board survey showed consumer income has risen in 1956 at a greater rate than buying, which also has been on the rise.

The result, the board said, is that the consumer has more cash to pay for his purchases, installment credit has eased off from its fast rising pace started in 1955 and repayment of such debt has increased.

Further, the board noted, manufacturing payrolls are on the upswing, having started to rise before the July steel settlement and having speeded up in many industries soon after. It said many industries had negotiated pay raises ahead of the steel strike.

Also, adding to the cash available to consumers were increased jobs and earnings in nonmanufacturing lines, a rise in farm wage rates and steadying of farmers' cash receipts, the board said in its monthly publication—the Federal Reserve Bulletin.

The board said some of the rise in personal income to a record annual rate of 324 billion dollars in June stemmed from the increase in minimum wage rates last March from 75 cents to $1 an hour.

This annual rate of income was about 18 billion dollars greater than in June a year ago. Disposable income after taxes increased accordingly. The board noted at least one important change in the consumer's buying tendency. Late in 1954 and through 1955, expenditures for durable goods, especially automobiles, were rising sharply.

"This year, however," the board said, "further income gains have been reflected in somewhat greater expansion in demands for foods. Steady expansion over the past two years in consumer expenditures for foods has reflected further growth in population and income, a continuing shift of demand toward the more highly processed foods, and—more recently—higher food prices."

It said retail food prices that had declined last year rose 4 per cent last spring and at midyear were 2 per cent above 1955 levels.

2 Die In Crash Of Auto, Truck

CENTREVILLE, Md., Aug. 30 (AP)—A Philadelphia truck and a Florida-bound auto collided with a terrific impact near this Eastern Shore town today, killing two and injuring four.

Dead were Mrs. Josephine Ungolo, 48, of Hollywood, Fla., and a son, Frank Ungolo, 14.

Injured were:

John C. Boyd, 17, of Philadelphia, driver of the truck, cuts on one arm and chest and back injuries and possible leg fracture.

David Anderson, Jr., 19, of Philadelphia, passenger in the truck, cuts on head and chest and bruises of an arm, thigh and knee.

State Trooper J. W. Eckstorm said he would not be able to determine how the accident occurred until he could discuss it with one of the survivors.

The truck rammed the side of the car with such force that the truck motor was driven beneath the car. The car's steering wheel was forced through the windshield. The impact seemingly exploded the truck, scattering clothes, suitcases and golf clubs.

Bar Association May Relax Stand On Camera Ban

DALLAS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Richard P. Tinkham, chairman of the American Bar Assn.'s Public Relations Committee, today said the association next year may relax its stand against picture taking and radio-TV broadcasting in courtrooms.

Tinkham, in an interview, said a committee studying the problem is expected to recommend deletion from Canon 35 phrases that photography and broadcasting in courts tend to "distract the witness," and "degrade the court. . . . And should not be permitted."

The canons are a statement of ethics of the legal profession.

Tinkham also made a report to the association's House of Delegates asking that attorneys and the press be patient.

"Hasty or ill-considered action in dealing with this subject could lead to a public revulsion harmful to the press as well as to the courts," Tinkham said. "Some members of the media believe they are being deprived of their moral and constitutional rights in jurisdictions where Canon 35 is observed."

Tinkham pointed out in the interview that removal or change in the "degrade" and "distract" phrase would not automatically throw open the courts to photographers and radio-TV personnel. But it would relax the bar association's strong stand against the practice, he said.

Thoughtful Suicide

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—A man phoned police today to tell them he was going to kill himself. He said he wanted to be sure no one else would be blamed.

Minutes later police arrived at the address given and found Jay C. Knight Jr., 36, dead of a shotgun wound.

Ex-Jet Pilot Never Had It So Good

DENVER, Aug. 30 (AP)—Art Hare, who used to be an Air Force jet pilot, never had it so good.

It began Aug. 1 when Hare, a former Cornell football player from Chicago, lost the lease on a house he was renting just three weeks before he was due to be discharged from Lowry Air Force Base.

But Hare had girl friends who came to his rescue. They arranged for him to stay in a small room off the office of a girls-only apartment. The other tenants are 17 airline hostesses and seven models and secretaries.

They serve him breakfast, lunch and dinner, mix drinks for him, serenade him with song and ukulele music as he lounges around the apartment swimming pool—and keep him well supplied with dates.

Hare received his Air Force discharge on Aug. 20 and had planned to leave immediately for a job in Chicago.

World's Longest Bridge Opened

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Ribbon cutting ceremonies—reinforced with fireworks and bands—today opened the world's longest overwater bridge.

About 600 cars jammed the south plaza of the Lake Pontchartrain Causeway, in nearby Jefferson Parish, for the ceremonies headed by Chairman John J. Holtgreve of the Greater New Orleans Expressway Commission.

Holtgreve urged, "Let's have no drag strip driving on this bridge," and the autoists took their first ride over the 24-mile span.

The motorcade was greeted at the northern end of the bridge, at Mandeville in St. Tammany Parish, with more fireworks and band music. St. Tammany Sheriff Andrew Erwin cut another ribbon.

Girl, 15, Is Killed In Freak Accident

CAMBRIDGE, Aug. 30 (AP)—Julia Fairbanks, 15-year-old Cambridge girl, felt ill early today while riding over the bridge across the Choptank River.

The car moved close to the bridge guard rails and the girl's head struck a cement post.

Democrats Note "Name-Change" Efforts Of GOP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee today distributed a spoofing memorandum on GOP efforts "to change our name to the Democrat party." It urged Democrats not to retaliate in kind, declaring:

"Republican party is the brand name by which our opponents' product is known and mistrusted.

"We must emphasize in every speech that the Eisenhower-Nixon administration is a Republican administration."

Some Democrats, smarting under the frequent GOP practice ofd saying "Democrat" instead of "Democratic," have suggested referring to Republicans as "Republicrats" or "Publicans."

During the recent GOP National Convention in San Francisco, most speakers dropped the "ic" from Democratic. And as long ago as last Oct. 5 GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall explained his own use of the term "Democrat" by telling newsmen:

"I think their claims that they represent the great mass of the people and we don't is just a lot of bunk."

He said there was no party rule that "Democrat" be used, but he noted it was a common GOP practice.

President To Spend Quiet Labor Day

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower apparently will spend a quiet Labor Day weekend in Washington. Press secretary James Hagerty said he knew of no presidential plans for leaving the city.

Hagerty said he had not seen an invitation sent to Eisenhower by Joann McGuire of Pennsauken, N.J., but he said Joann's letter undoubtedly would be answered with the President's regrets.

Joann is the great-granddaughter of Peter J. McGuire, who is credited with having been the founder of Labor Day. She asked the President to place a wreath on the grave of her great-grandfather.

Eisenhower does plan a short talk Saturday at White House ceremonies celebrating the issuance of a new 3-cent Labor Day postage stamp.

Chicago Polio Rises

CHICAGO, Aug. 30 (AP)—Chicago's polio outbreak, declining steadily this week, took an upward spurt today as 11 new cases were reported.

Democrats Note "Name-Change" Efforts Of GOP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee today distributed a spoofing memorandum on GOP efforts "to change our name to the Democrat party." It urged Democrats not to retaliate in kind, declaring:

"Republican party is the brand name by which our opponents' product is known and mistrusted.

"We must emphasize in every speech that the Eisenhower-Nixon administration is a Republican administration."

Some Democrats, smarting under the frequent GOP practice ofd saying "Democrat" instead of "Democratic," have suggested referring to Republicans as "Republicrats" or "Publicans."

During the recent GOP National Convention in San Francisco, most speakers dropped the "ic" from Democratic. And as long ago as last Oct. 5 GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall explained his own use of the term "Democrat" by telling newsmen:

"I think their claims that they represent the great mass of the people and we don't is just a lot of bunk."

He said there was no party rule that "Democrat" be used, but he noted it was a common GOP practice.

President To Spend Quiet Labor Day

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower apparently will spend a quiet Labor Day weekend in Washington. Press secretary James Hagerty said he knew of no presidential plans for leaving the city.

Hagerty said he had not seen an invitation sent to Eisenhower by Joann McGuire of Pennsauken, N.J., but he said Joann's letter undoubtedly would be answered with the President's regrets.

Joann is the great-granddaughter of Peter J. McGuire, who is credited with having been the founder of Labor Day. She asked the President to place a wreath on the grave of her great-grandfather.

Eisenhower does plan a short talk Saturday at White House ceremonies celebrating the issuance of a new 3-cent Labor Day postage stamp.

Hare Is Sworn In

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—Raymond A. Hare, veteran career diplomat with long experience in the Middle East, was sworn in today as the new U. S. ambassador to Egypt.

Bar Association May Relax Stand On Camera Ban

DALLAS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Richard P. Tinkham, chairman of the American Bar Assn.'s Public Relations Committee, today said the association next year may relax its stand against picture taking and radio-TV broadcasting in courtrooms.

Tinkham, in an interview, said a committee studying the problem is expected to recommend deletion from Canon 35 phrases that photography and broadcasting in courts tend to "distract the witness," and "degrade the court. . . . And should not be permitted."

The canons are a statement of ethics of the legal profession.

Tinkham also made a report to the association's House of Delegates asking that attorneys and the press be patient.

"Hasty or ill-considered action in dealing with this subject could lead to a public revulsion harmful to the press as well as to the courts," Tinkham said. "Some members of the media believe they are being deprived of their moral and constitutional rights in jurisdictions where Canon 35 is observed."

Tinkham pointed out in the interview that removal or change in the "degrade" and "distract" phrase would not automatically throw open the courts to photographers and radio-TV personnel. But it would relax the bar association's strong stand against the practice, he said.

Thoughtful Suicide

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—A man phoned police today to tell them he was going to kill himself. He said he wanted to be sure no one else would be blamed.

Minutes later police arrived at the address given and found Jay C. Knight Jr., 36, dead of a shotgun wound.

Ex-Jet Pilot Never Had It So Good

DENVER, Aug. 30 (AP)—Art Hare, who used to be an Air Force jet pilot, never had it so good.

It began Aug. 1 when Hare, a former Cornell football player from Chicago, lost the lease on a house he was renting just three weeks before he was due to be discharged from Lowry Air Force Base.

But Hare had girl friends who came to his rescue. They arranged for him to stay in a small room off the office of a girls-only apartment. The other tenants are 17 airline hostesses and seven models and secretaries.

They serve him breakfast, lunch and dinner, mix drinks for him, serenade him with song and ukulele music as he lounges around the apartment swimming pool—and keep him well supplied with dates.

Hare received his Air Force discharge on Aug. 20 and had planned to leave immediately for a job in Chicago.

Scientist Disagrees Increased Wealth Reduces Birth Rate

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

STORRS, Conn., Aug. 30 (AP)—A Michigan biologist said yesterday "it is a common fallacy that increased wealth reduces the birth rate."

"It is the other way around," Dr. Lee R. Dice of the University of Michigan told the annual convention of the American Institute of Biological Sciences convened at the University of Connecticut.

Declaring that dangerous consequences—such as starvation and a general weakening of the population—could result in any country where the number of people became greater than resources available to support them, Dr. Dice said:

"It has been proposed that by increasing standards of living, birth rates will go down. The place for concern is in the fact that birth rates are continuously going up with standards of living, and death rates are going down. This means that the population rates are increasing almost twofold."

In the United States, he said, overpopulation does not exist at the present time, except in some local areas, but he added:

"Our population is growing rapidly, however. Considerable apprehension exists, consequently, that within a few decades our country also will have become overcrowded."

Among other reports to the biologists' meeting:

1. Air Force scientists are working on a new chemical which they say holds promise of helping protect clothing and textiles from destructive effects of fungi, while at the same time having certain advantages over present antifungal preservatives—including the advantage of being colorless.

Dr. Alton E. Prince and researcher Sam Bakanauskas of the Air Research and Development Command, Wright Air Development Center, said the chemical is a fluorine compound, synthesized by a scientist of the Illinois State Geological Survey.

2. The Army has developed a chemical "rain coat" in the form of a water repellent to be used in connection with fungus killing chemicals applied to sand bags, tentage, knapsacks, tarpaulins and other military items, to prevent deterioration.

Army researchers said the water repellent makes the fungicidal treatment last longer—thus increasing the service life of the equipment. In fact, they said, lower concentrations of fungicides than ordinarily used are made possible.

They declared this latter fact is important in that fungicides in use today contain copper and other ingredients that might be in short supply in the event of a national emergency.

And Fully Howls On

DOMODOSSOLA, Italy, Aug. 30 (AP)—The case of the howling dog spelled death. The Marcellos, owners of a mongrel named Fully, often clashed with their neighbors, the Maganzas, over Fully's howls. Late in August, Fully's wails led to a fight on a flimsy balcony and it collapsed. Alessandro Maganza, 64, a disabled veteran, was killed. His wife suffered a skull fracture. The Marcellos also were injured. Fully howled on.

Club Happy When Members Resign

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP) — A club that is happiest when its members resign set up a national headquarters yesterday.

It caters to the Forty Plus Clubs of the United States. These are organizations of executive and professional men over 40, banded together to find jobs.

The mutual aid clubs, for businessmen temporarily out of work at an age when job-hunting might prove difficult, have been active in leading American cities since 1938.

The National Conference of Forty Plus Clubs, with Henry Carter, an Alexandria, Va., lawyer as chairman, was opened here "as a point of contact with governmental agencies, public and private corporations and associations on a national level."

Atomic Settlements In Antarctic Seen

SHEFFIELD, England, Aug. 30 (AP)—A former polar explorer foresaw today that man might eventually live in atomic-powered settlements in the ice-capped antarctic.

Sir Raymond Priestly, 70, veteran of the Shackleton and Scott antarctic expeditions, said atomic plants could operate for long periods in remote places with a minimum of attention.

He concluded that man thus might use it to "add a seventh habitable continent to the six he already has in thrall."

"If atomic-powered icebreakers can be built," he asked, "why not atomic-powered settlements on the antarctic mainland?"

He discussed these possibilities in his prepared presidential address to the annual meeting of the British Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

$16,000 Pearl

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 30 (AP) — The Yamato Maru, mother ship of a Japanese pearling fleet operating north of Australia, has put back into port with 290 tons of oyster shells for U.S. button makers — and a 60 carat, one-inch diameter pearl valued at $16,000. A diver wrested the prize from a tropical oyster.

Not Gambling Game

SAO PAULO, Aug. 30 (AP) — A Brazil State Supreme Court has ruled that gin rummy is not a gambling game. Skill and attention are more important in it than luck, the court decided.

The average American of 60 can expect an average 15 years of life.

Jr. Showmanship Classes Included In Sept. Dog Show

Junior Showmanship classes will be offered at the third annual All Breed Show of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club, to be held September 8 in the National Guard Armory at Frostburg.

Boys and girls who are at least 10 years old and not over 16 are permitted to show. Each junior entering in a junior showmanship class must report to the show superintendent's office at the show which he or she is attending one hour before the class is scheduled to be called. At that time the junior will prepare an entry blank, showing the name of the show, date, location, full name, age, home address, city, state, breed handled, and dog's name. This entry blank is to be presented to the steward when the junior enters the ring.

Winner's cards and trophies will be presented to the winners in each division.

The divisions are Novice "A" for boys and girls 10 and under 13 years of age, who have never won a Junior Showmanship competition; Novice "B" for 13 and including 16-year-olds, who have never won a Junior Showmanship competition; Open Division, 10 and including 16-year-olds who have won one or more Junior Showmanship competition.

Dogs entered at this show in regular classes are eligible to be entered in Junior Showmanship competition without additional entry fee. Dogs must be owned by the handler or by a member of the family.

Winners who have won two or more Junior Showmanship competitions during the period between February 1956 and February 1957 in the Open Division will be eligible to compete for the Professional Handler's Association Leonard Drumby Sr. Memorial trophy, donated by the United States Vitamin Corporation at the Westminster Kennel Club Show, Madison Square Garden, New York, in February 1957.

Members of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club urge all juniors to enter this phase of the program, and are willing to give any necessary assistance as they feel the training of a dog is a full-time job, leaving little time for undesirable activities, said Mrs. Earl Smith, show chairman.

The convention opens Sunday with a vesper service. Dr. Imogene Bentley, dean of women at North Texas State College, Denton, is the speaker. Other speakers during the week include Allan Shivers, governor of Texas; Omar Burleson, Congressman of the Fourth Congressional District of Texas, and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, who is the banquet speaker.

Of the large delegation, 67 are combining the three-day meeting with a 12-day sightseeing tour through Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia. Highlights of the tour include stops at Gatlinburg in the Smoky Mountains, and at New Orleans.

Jr. Showmanship Classes Included In Sept. Dog Show

Junior Showmanship classes will be offered at the third annual All Breed Show of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club, to be held September 8 in the National Guard Armory at Frostburg.

Boys and girls who are at least 10 years old and not over 16 are permitted to show. Each junior entering in a junior showmanship class must report to the show superintendent's office at the show which he or she is attending one hour before the class is scheduled to be called. At that time the junior will prepare an entry blank, showing the name of the show, date, location, full name, age, home address, city, state, breed handled, and dog's name. This entry blank is to be presented to the steward when the junior enters the ring.

Winner's cards and trophies will be presented to the winners in each division.

The divisions are Novice "A" for boys and girls 10 and under 13 years of age, who have never won a Junior Showmanship competition; Novice "B" for 13 and including 16-year-olds, who have never won a Junior Showmanship competition; Open Division, 10 and including 16-year-olds who have won one or more Junior Showmanship competition.

Dogs entered at this show in regular classes are eligible to be entered in Junior Showmanship competition without additional entry fee. Dogs must be owned by the handler or by a member of the family.

Winners who have won two or more Junior Showmanship competitions during the period between February 1956 and February 1957 in the Open Division will be eligible to compete for the Professional Handler's Association Leonard Drumby Sr. Memorial trophy, donated by the United States Vitamin Corporation at the Westminster Kennel Club Show, Madison Square Garden, New York, in February 1957.

Members of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club urge all juniors to enter this phase of the program, and are willing to give any necessary assistance as they feel the training of a dog is a full-time job, leaving little time for undesirable activities, said Mrs. Earl Smith, show chairman.

SRC Revises Marker Program Policy

BALTIMORE, Aug. 30 (AP)—The road ahead for Maryland's historical highway markers was unclear today in the wake of a change by the State Roads Commission on its method of alloting money for the work.

The metal roadside plaques tell tourists — and unknowing Marylanders—when they are passing through an historic site or area.

Financial records show the new State Roads Commission administration has allotted only enough money to carry the marker program through September.

Commission action after that "is still pending," a spokesman said.

The new SRC chairman, Robert O. Bonnell, declined comment other than to say the work has "one-fourth of its annual allotment."

Since 1953 a full year's allotment was granted each July 1. It usually totals between $5,000 and $5,500.

Maryland's original 300 historical plaques were set up in 1930 under the direction of the late J. Alexis Shriver, Baltimore and Harford County antiquarian.

Since 1953 the work has been done in cooperation with the Maryland Historical Society.

Police Win Praise For Finding Teeth

SALISBURY, Aug. 30 (AP)—Hearts were lighter on the police force today after receipt of a letter from a Brooklyn, N. Y., woman.

The letter praised city and State police for their diligence in tracking down an important item lost by the woman on a trip through this area.

"I just wish to report," she wrote, "that the false teeth left in Edna's Diner & Motel . . . have been returned and we are most grateful. Thank you again for the help you gave us, and I hope we were not too troublesome."

Teenage Couple Issued License, Delays Wedding

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 30 (AP) — State's Atty, Omar T. Kaylor was on the side of the law and cupid today when a teenage couple from Harrisburg, Pa. showed up in search of a marriage license.

In the end they agreed to return to Harrisburg and presumably an at-home wedding.

Kaylor said a couple who said they were John C. Rowe and Yvonne K. Yohn, both 18, arrived at the courthouse today. Waiting for them was State Trooper Glenn L. Bowman, who had been alerted by a missing persons bulletin sent by Pennsylvania Police.

The parents of the girl had asked that police try to contact the two at Hagerstown, Kaylor said.

As the trooper talked to the couple, Kaylor walked by.

Informed the girl was 18, Kaylor told the trooper she was old enough to be married under Maryland law. Informed the prospective groom had written permission from his parents, Kaylor noted this, too, was all that Maryland law required.

He told the trooper he couldn't hold them and the couple was issued a license.

Kaylor said he then talked by telephone with the girl's parents and told them there was nothing he could do legally to stop the marriage. He said the girl's mother then said if the couple would return the wedding could be held in Harrisburg.

McKeldin Tells Why He Didn't Attack Mahoney

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 30 (AP)—"The occasion did not appear to be one for a prepared speech, so I just talked off the cuff," Gov. McKeldin said today in explaining why he abandoned a prepared attack on George P. Mahoney, Democratic nominee for the Senate.

McKeldin discarded the anti-Mahoney text in addressing a Washington County Republican rally near Hagerstown last night. In the speech which had been given to newsmen in advance he had said Mahoney "has been so busy for so many years seeking high office that he never has found time to acquaint himself with the problems of the nation."

In his actual speech, McKeldin made no reference to Mahoney.

He appeared at the rally with Mahoney's Republican opponent, Sen. John Marshall Butler, Rep. Dewitt S. Hyde (R-Md) and others.

Learn And Earn Program Set Up

TOWSON, Md., Aug. 30 (AP) — Goucher College, in cooperation with Baltimore public schools, will conduct an "earn while you learn" teacher training program this year.

The program will enable a liberal arts graduate without prior teacher training to obtain a master's degree in education in 10 months, and at the same time earn 50 per cent of a beginning teacher's salary.

The program works like this:

In a four-weeks pre-session in September and throughout the first semester of the school year, eligible students will receive intensive instruction in educational theory, including classroom observation and some practice teaching.

Then during the second semester, beginning Feb. 1, the students will take over a class in one of the Baltimore public schools, assuming full responsibility for that class on a full-time basis. She will, of course, be subject to normal supervision.

During the second part of the year, while teaching, the student will receive full pay at a starting teacher's salary—$1,550 for a half-year's work.

Those who receive their master's degrees in June will be considered qualified by the Baltimore Department of Education for a salary at the fifth year, or master's, scheduled of $3,850.

Intruder Beats Young Mother, Ties Up Her Son

WILLIAMSPORT, Md., Aug. 30 (AP)—A young mother told police she was beaten unconscious and her 2-year-old son tied up by a man who broke in and ransacked her apartment today.

Mrs. Gloria Jean Kirby, 20, said the assailant was "a big man wearing dirty clothes."

State Police said the woman's husband said he returned at lunchtime from the Byron Tannery to find his wife tied to a radiator and the boy tied to a bed.

The apartment is above a store across from the tannery.

The woman was treated by a doctor. She said the man hit her in the face and mouth. The child was not hurt.

The apartment has two doors, one of them nailed shut. It was this one the man smashed to gain entrance.

State Trooper David Hasenbuhler said Mrs. Kirby was not criminally assaulted.

She and her son, Donald Eugene, were tied up for about an hour before they were found by Mrs. Kirby's 23-year-old husband, Ernest.

She told Hasenbuhler her assailant was a white man, about six feet tall. The dirty clothing included grey trousers. The man had a "V" shaped scar under his right ear, she said.

Lehigh To Increase Prices For Cement

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Aug. 30 (AP)—The Lehigh Portland Cement Co. today announced prices at six of its 14 plants will be increased 15 cents a barrel, effective Oct. 1.

The boosts, which range from 4½ to 5 per cent, will be put in effect at three Lehigh Portland plants in Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley region, and also at plants at Hudson River, N.Y., Union Bridge, Md. and Fordwick, Va.

Joseph S. Young, company president, said there were no immediate plans to increase prices at the other plants.

Young said the company was faced with increases in the cost of obtaining gypsum, coal, fuel oil and other materials. He also cited higher costs for steel for repairs and replacement, as well as higher freight rates.

In a four-weeks pre-session in September and throughout the first semester of the school year, eligible students will receive intensive instruction in educational theory, including classroom observation and some practice teaching.

Then during the second semester, beginning Feb. 1, the students will take over a class in one of the Baltimore public schools, assuming full responsibility for that class on a full-time basis. She will, of course, be subject to normal supervision.

During the second part of the year, while teaching, the student will receive full pay at a starting teacher's salary—$1,550 for a half-year's work.

Those who receive their master's degrees in June will be considered qualified by the Baltimore Department of Education for a salary at the fifth year, or master's, scheduled of $3,850.

Intruder Beats Young Mother, Ties Up Her Son

WILLIAMSPORT, Md., Aug. 30 (AP)—A young mother told police she was beaten unconscious and her 2-year-old son tied up by a man who broke in and ransacked her apartment today.

Mrs. Gloria Jean Kirby, 20, said the assailant was "a big man wearing dirty clothes."

State Police said the woman's husband said he returned at lunchtime from the Byron Tannery to find his wife tied to a radiator and the boy tied to a bed.

The apartment is above a store across from the tannery.

The woman was treated by a doctor. She said the man hit her in the face and mouth. The child was not hurt.

The apartment has two doors, one of them nailed shut. It was this one the man smashed to gain entrance.

State Trooper David Hasenbuhler said Mrs. Kirby was not criminally assaulted.

She and her son, Donald Eugene, were tied up for about an hour before they were found by Mrs. Kirby's 23-year-old husband, Ernest.

She told Hasenbuhler her assailant was a white man, about six feet tall. The dirty clothing included grey trousers. The man had a "V" shaped scar under his right ear, she said.

Lehigh To Increase Prices For Cement

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Aug. 30 (AP)—The Lehigh Portland Cement Co. today announced prices at six of its 14 plants will be increased 15 cents a barrel, effective Oct. 1.

The boosts, which range from 4½ to 5 per cent, will be put in effect at three Lehigh Portland plants in Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley region, and also at plants at Hudson River, N.Y., Union Bridge, Md. and Fordwick, Va.

Joseph S. Young, company president, said there were no immediate plans to increase prices at the other plants.

Young said the company was faced with increases in the cost of obtaining gypsum, coal, fuel oil and other materials. He also cited higher costs for steel for repairs and replacement, as well as higher freight rates.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30 (INS)—The trumpets of the GOP convention drowned out the taps at Arlington National Cemetery a week ago. The hoop-de-doo of the GOP ratification conclave smothered the last words said over the simple grave of one of the most remarkable military men of all time—Col. Dave Schilling, USAF.

Dave Schilling was born in Leavenworth, Kas., a month after the curtain slammed down on World War I. It gave him just enough time to grow up for the next world war. Dave was made for that one, and for the weapon he used. He was an all-around athlete at Dartmouth and one of those rare birds who are secretly anointed to take charge. He could have had a dozen jobs after graduating in '39 with a degree in geology, but he moved resolutely to Randolph Field for flying training.

It never occurred to him to fly anything else except a fighter. "Dave can fly better upside down than most people can fly right side up," a brother officer said of him. It was an understatement. Dave Schilling had been born to fly. For a time it proved almost a handicap, at least as far as he was concerned. He was a test pilot at the time Pearl Harbor was bombed and the Air Force thought it might be best to keep him in that role. But Dave broke the bonds and soon was in England dog-fighting Herman Goering's best.

In two and a half years of combat flying he rose to the status of "old man" of the 56th Fighter Group. He knocked 33 German planes out of the air to rank among the top U. S. aces of all time. He picked up a few decorations en route: Two Distinguished Service Crosses, three Silver Stars, ten Distinguished Flying Crosses, 20 Air Medals, and awards of Britain, France, Belgium and other countries. He had 40 ribbons to wear, but seldom got around to pinning them on.

The end of World War II found the U. S. with a new dimension in arms—strategic bombing. Could the fighter plane keep pace with the new long range bombers on the boards? Dave thought so. In 1948 he led a flight of F-80 jets from the U. S. to Germany, utilizing North Atlantic bases. In 1950 he flew a fighter from England to Maine nonstop—3,300 miles—with the aid of mid-air refueling. He was moved over to where he belonged all along, with the Strategic Air Command. Curt LeMay had a little task for him: Take a wing of jets to Japan for use in the Korean War.

Under Dave Schilling the fighter plane became a weapon of world-wide scope, no longer confined to limited tactical and support missions. Two years ago he proved, by leading a jet fighter flight from Georgia to North African bases, that SAC's fighter wings based in the U. S. could be in combat on the other side of the Atlantic in less than half a day.

Dave Schilling, who couldn't be downed by the Luftwaffe nor swallowed by the oceans he successfully challenged, was killed in an automobile accident on a peaceful road in England. Gruff, tough Curt LeMay, deeply moved, said of him, "He was one of the most able and fearless air commanders I've ever known. The nation has suffered a great loss."

Who should know better than LeMay?

Market Sustains Biggest Drop In More Than Week

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (AP) — The stock market beat its biggest retreat in more than a week today in its fourth straight decline.

Oils, chemicals and metals were weak, with numerous losses of from 1 to more than 3 points a share. Other divisions joined the downturn as only aircrafts managed to hold steady.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.80 to $181.10 —its biggest loss since a decline of $2.10 on Aug. 21.

Brokers felt that much of today's selling was prompted by a combination of technical factors and a worsening of the international news, particularly in the Middle East. They said traders normally lighten their holdings before the three-day Labor Day weekend and the approaching religious holidays.

The arrival of French troops in Cyprus and other Suez developments were reported to have accentuated this trend among short-term investors.

The industrial component of the AP average fell $2.70, rails $2 and utilities 30 cents.

Of 1,159 issues traded, 812 declined ,160 rose and 187 closed unchanged. There were three new highs for the year, and 104 new lows.

Congressional Viewpoint

by Sen. John M. Butler

WASHINGTON—In the third act of Shapespeare's "Julius Caesar," Mark Anthony says, "The evil that men do lives after them. The good is oft interred with their bones." Karl Marx in discussing the international Communist conspiracy proclaimed that "in such great developments, 20 years are but as one day — and there may come days which are the concentrated essence of 20 years."

On November 16, 1933, this country officially recognized the Soviet Union as the legitimate government of Russia. That one solitary act was not only the concentrated essence of 20 years in terms of the Communist struggle for world domination, but it has certainly lived after the New Deal. The evil of that one act has not only lasted, but has grown in magnitude and prospered far beyond the deepest fears of those who advised against such action.

For today Communist Russia, well launched on its diabolically conceived career of wholesale human slaughter and enslavement, holds life-or-death sway over half of the human race. And, the other half—like a rabbit fascinated by a snake — seems to be frequently caught in a hypnotic spell.

The heirs of that discredited, moth-eaten handful of social outcasts who forced the surrender of the czarist regime in 1917, control by ruthless direct action and subtle indirect action, a majority of the minds of the human race! Why? When we probe—as a surgeon would—we find the answer; we find the inviolable law of nature asserting itself; disease lives and thrives in direct proportions to the decline of healthy tissue. The sinister men in the Kremlin hold the world in dangerous and delicate imbalance today simply because the primary and essential strength of international communism is, and always has been, the moral weakness of the free world.

Myron H. Bent, early perceived the depth of this weakness, in an article in the Brooklyn Times-Union, March 4, 1934, when he said: ". . . we are adopting the Soviet system so gradually that we do not know it. The Russian idea is being imposed upon us, not from Moscow but by ourselves, because of our proneness to go with the crowd or swim with the current."

The fabric of history in the past 25 years has been woven by instances of appeasement and compromise with the corrupt [illegible] of atheistic communism. Who then will deny that much of what we good in the world before that fateful day in 1933 — when the criminals of the Kremlin were adorned with a mantle of decency —has been interred with the bones of the New Deal era?

Congressional Viewpoint

by Sen. John M. Butler

WASHINGTON—In the third act of Shapespeare's "Julius Caesar," Mark Anthony says, "The evil that men do lives after them. The good is oft interred with their bones." Karl Marx in discussing the international Communist conspiracy proclaimed that "in such great developments, 20 years are but as one day — and there may come days which are the concentrated essence of 20 years."

On November 16, 1933, this country officially recognized the Soviet Union as the legitimate government of Russia. That one solitary act was not only the concentrated essence of 20 years in terms of the Communist struggle for world domination, but it has certainly lived after the New Deal. The evil of that one act has not only lasted, but has grown in magnitude and prospered far beyond the deepest fears of those who advised against such action.

For today Communist Russia, well launched on its diabolically conceived career of wholesale human slaughter and enslavement, holds life-or-death sway over half of the human race. And, the other half—like a rabbit fascinated by a snake — seems to be frequently caught in a hypnotic spell.

The heirs of that discredited, moth-eaten handful of social outcasts who forced the surrender of the czarist regime in 1917, control by ruthless direct action and subtle indirect action, a majority of the minds of the human race! Why? When we probe—as a surgeon would—we find the answer; we find the inviolable law of nature asserting itself; disease lives and thrives in direct proportions to the decline of healthy tissue. The sinister men in the Kremlin hold the world in dangerous and delicate imbalance today simply because the primary and essential strength of international communism is, and always has been, the moral weakness of the free world.

Myron H. Bent, early perceived the depth of this weakness, in an article in the Brooklyn Times-Union, March 4, 1934, when he said: ". . . we are adopting the Soviet system so gradually that we do not know it. The Russian idea is being imposed upon us, not from Moscow but by ourselves, because of our proneness to go with the crowd or swim with the current."

The fabric of history in the past 25 years has been woven by instances of appeasement and compromise with the corrupt [illegible] of atheistic communism. Who then will deny that much of what was good in the world before that fateful day in 1933 — when the criminals of the Kremlin were adorned with a mantle of decency —has been interred with the bones of the New Deal era?

Big Peach Crop Goes To Market

The harvesting of the year's biggest peach crop is in full swing in the area fruit belt.

So far this week, the demand has exceeded the supply on the market, and prices have been very good.

The orchardists are picking the Elbertas, which accounts for 75 per cent of the tonnage in the Hampshire area.

Prices for U. S. No. 1 size, two inches and up have been around $3 FOB the orchard.

The J. H. Hale variety, two and one quarter inches and up, are bringing from 25 to 50 cents more a bushel.

Wednesday was the last big shipment from the Romney section, because of the Labor Day weekend. R. L. Sumner, manager of Mountain Fruit Sales, Inc., Hampshire County fruit growers cooperative, said all fruit picked yesterday and today will be stored until shipment next week in the Fruit Growers' Cooperative storage plant near Romney.

Lamb Espagnol

A quick dish that can be served with boiled rice or spaghetti is made by cubing two pounds of lamb, preferably from the leg, and browning the pieces for eight minutes in a quarter cup of Spanish olive oil, adding a large sliced onion, then simmering this, covered, for five more minutes. Add two large ripe sliced tomatoes, then cover and simmer for half an hour, or until tender. If you wish, you can add a pound of sliced zucchini or summer squash, along with oregano, salt and pepper, simmering for an additional ten minutes.

Tuna Fish Valencia

Here's a sauce for all fish and sea foods that are served cold, particularly for cold tuna and salmon. Mash four hard-cooked egg yolks with a teaspoon of Spanish olive oil, then add one small crushed garlic clove. Slowly add four more tablespoons of the olive oil, two tablespoons of tomato catsup, and one tablespoon of tarragon vinegar, seasoning with small pinches of saffron, pepper and salt. Just before serving add two tablespoons of heavy cream.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Well, I guess that takes care of my shopping this week."

Lamb Used Many Ways In Flavorful Recipes

Lamb is a favorite meat of the peoples of foreign lands. In France, leg of lamb with garlic is a popular dinner choice. A clove of garlic is inserted in the meat near the bone and whether the leg is spit-roasted in front of an open fire, or baked in an oven, it is brushed before and during cooking with lard or butter.

Spanish cooks oven-brown lamb leg or breast in butter with a bay leaf, salt, and pepper in an earthenware casserole. The meat is simmered in a little white wine and towards the end of the cooking period, fried pimientos, minced garlic, and chopped parsley are added.

"Boiled" lamb with dill sauce is a popular meat choice in Sweden, and corned lamb, similar to our corned beef, is considered delicious eating in Norway.

All the peoples of Asia Minor — Syrians, Armenians, Turks—enjoy skewered meats, and most of them use lamb chunks for their meals-on-a-stick. Sometimes bit of onion, tomato, and green pepper are broiled with the lamb, but often the meat is cooked without the addition of vegetables, such as in this recipe for Armenians Shish Kebabs.

Armenian Shish Kebabs

5 to 6 pounds leg of lamb
2 large onions, sliced
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon oregano
½ cup dry red wine or sherry
¼ cup salad oil

Bone and cut lamb into 1 inch cubes. In a large bowl, alternate layers of meat and onion. Combine seasonings, wine and salad oil and pour over meat and onions. Refrigerate at least 1 hour (or overnight), turning occasionally. Thread meat on skewers and broil until crisp and brown on all sides. 6 to 8 servings.

The Greeks add lamb or mutton to many of their pilafs. In Arabia and Persia lamb is used in a variety of dishes, too. One of the most famous Arab dishes, known as Mechoui, is roast whole young lamb. In South America, whole lamb is roasted over a slow fire, and is known as Assado criollo.

Lamb is the meat most often used in Assyrian dishes. Lula chabab, is the Assyrian name for charcoal broiled ground lamb molded on long skewers. Dolma is a delicious combination of cooked lamb, rice, onions, parsley and basil used as a stuffing for tomatoes, green peppers, and cucumbers. Lobya, actually Assyrian lamb stew, is a flavorful blending of lamb with tomato sauce, green pepper, mushrooms and green beans. Prepare the stew as follows:

Assyrian Lamb Stew

3 pounds lamb shoulder, cut in 1½ inch cubes
4 large onions, sliced
1 tablespoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon paprika
2 cups water
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
1 pound green snap beans or 2 packages frozen green beans
1 green pepper, chopped
2 cups fresh mushrooms, sliced
Hot cooked rice

Place meat, onions, salt, pepper paprika, and water in a large heavy pan. Cover and cook slowly until meat is almost tender, about 1½ hours. Add tomato sauce; fresh beans, cut into short lengths; green pepper; and mushrooms. (If frozen beans are used, thaw and add to meat mixture the last 5 to 8 minutes of cooking.) Cover and cook 1 to 15 minutes longer or until beans and meat are tender. Spoon over hot rice to serve. 8 servings.

Vichyssoise Tops As Summer Soup

Few cold soups compare with the delightfully refreshing, yet completely satisfying Vichyssoise. Its smooth, creamy goodness has long made it a favorite in French restaurants. Now you can enjoy it at home, with little more effort than opening a can of frozen condensed cream of potato soup. For three servings, just heat a can of the frozen condensed cream of potato soup (10¼-ounce size) with ½ soup can of milk and 6 soup can of light cream. Stir over low heat until soup is completely thawed. Beat until smooth in an electric blender or mixer. Chill until cold, about 4 hours. Serve in chilled bowls, ganished with minced green pepper, chopped cucumber, minced celery, shredded carrot, or chopped chives. (Remember, it's unpardonable to service Vichyssoise anyway but icy cold.)

Morsels Of Goodness

Really choice hors d'oeuvres . . . that you remember with fondness, don't just happen without planning. Memorable concoctions, that delight women guests and satisfy male appetites as well, require but a slight touch of culinary genius. Try this dip that reflects a little of both: Perfection, they'll say, when you serve a bowl of this cheese-flavored dip with crisp celery or small plum tomatoes. Mix a can of chicken spread (5-ounce size) with ¼ cup shredded process sharp cheese, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and enough light cream to thin to the consistency you like. Chill well before serving. Equally successful when spread on small toasted bread rounds. Makes 1 cup.

Gourmet Touch For Chicken A La King

It's such a simple idea, yet one that gives chicken a la king party airs. For 2 to 3 luscious servings, heat a can of the new, wonderfully creamey, frozen chicken a la king (the 10-ounce size); then add ½ cup of cooked lobster, cut in chunks. Result is truly fit for a king!

Lamb Espagnol

A quick dish that can be served with boiled rice or spaghetti is made by cubing two pounds of lamb, preferably from the leg, and browning the pieces for eight minutes in a quarter cup of Spanish olive oil, adding a large sliced onion, then simmering this, covered, for five more minutes. Add two large ripe sliced tomatoes, then cover and simmer for half an hour, or until tender. If you wish, you can add a pound of sliced zucchini or summer squash, along with oregano, salt and pepper, simmering for an additional ten minutes.

Tuna Fish Valencia

Here's a sauce for all fish and sea foods that are served cold, particularly for cold tuna and salmon. Mash four hard-cooked egg yolks with a teaspoon of Spanish olive oil, then add one small crushed garlic clove. Slowly add four more tablespoons of the olive oil, two tablespoons of tomato catsup, and one tablespoon of tarragon vinegar, seasoning with small pinches of saffron, pepper and salt. Just before serving add two tablespoons of heavy cream.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Well, I guess that takes care of my shopping this week."

Lamb Used Many Ways In Flavorful Recipes

Lamb is a favorite meat of the peoples of foreign lands. In France, leg of lamb with garlic is a popular dinner choice. A clove of garlic is inserted in the meat near the bone and whether the leg is spit-roasted in front of an open fire, or baked in an oven, it is brushed before and during cooking with lard or butter.

Spanish cooks oven-brown lamb leg or breast in butter with a bay leaf, salt, and pepper in an earthenware casserole. The meat is simmered in a little white wine and towards the end of the cooking period, fried pimientos, minced garlic, and chopped parsley are added.

"Boiled" lamb with dill sauce is a popular meat choice in Sweden, and corned lamb, similar to our corned beef, is considered delicious eating in Norway.

All the peoples of Asia Minor — Syrians, Armenians, Turks—enjoy skewered meats, and most of them use lamb chunks for their meals-on-a-stick. Sometimes bit of onion, tomato, and green pepper are broiled with the lamb, but often the meat is cooked without the addition of vegetables, such as in this recipe for Armenians Shish Kebabs.

Armenian Shish Kebabs

5 to 6 pounds leg of lamb
2 large onions, sliced
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon oregano
½ cup dry red wine or sherry
¼ cup salad oil

Bone and cut lamb into 1 inch cubes. In a large bowl, alternate layers of meat and onion. Combine seasonings, wine and salad oil and pour over meat and onions. Refrigerate at least 1 hour (or overnight), turning occasionally. Thread meat on skewers and broil until crisp and brown on all sides. 6 to 8 servings.

The Greeks add lamb or mutton to many of their pilafs. In Arabia and Persia lamb is used in a variety of dishes, too. One of the most famous Arab dishes, known as Mechoui, is roast whole young lamb. In South America, whole lamb is roasted over a slow fire, and is known as Assado criollo.

Lamb is the meat most often used in Assyrian dishes. Lula chabab, is the Assyrian name for charcoal broiled ground lamb molded on long skewers. Dolma is a delicious combination of cooked lamb, rice, onions, parsley and basil used as a stuffing for tomatoes, green peppers, and cucumbers. Lobya, actually Assyrian lamb stew, is a flavorful blending of lamb with tomato sauce, green pepper, mushrooms and green beans. Prepare the stew as follows:

Assyrian Lamb Stew

3 pounds lamb shoulder, cut in 1½ inch cubes
4 large onions, sliced
1 tablespoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon paprika
2 cups water
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
1 pound green snap beans or 2 packages frozen green beans
1 green pepper, chopped
2 cups fresh mushrooms, sliced
Hot cooked rice

Place meat, onions, salt, pepper paprika, and water in a large heavy pan. Cover and cook slowly until meat is almost tender, about 1½ hours. Add tomato sauce; fresh beans, cut into short lengths; green pepper; and mushrooms. (If frozen beans are used, thaw and add to meat mixture the last 5 to 8 minutes of cooking.) Cover and cook 1 to 15 minutes longer or until beans and meat are tender. Spoon over hot rice to serve. 8 servings.

Vichyssoise Tops As Summer Soup

Few cold soups compare with the delightfully refreshing, yet completely satisfying Vichyssoise. Its smooth, creamy goodness has long made it a favorite in French restaurants. Now you can enjoy it at home, with little more effort than opening a can of frozen condensed cream of potato soup. For three servings, just heat a can of the frozen condensed cream of potato soup (10¼-ounce size) with ½ soup can of milk and 6 soup can of light cream. Stir over low heat until soup is completely thawed. Beat until smooth in an electric blender or mixer. Chill until cold, about 4 hours. Serve in chilled bowls, ganished with minced green pepper, chopped cucumber, minced celery, shredded carrot, or chopped chives. (Remember, it's unpardonable to service Vichyssoise anyway but icy cold.)

Morsels Of Goodness

Really choice hors d'oeuvres . . . that you remember with fondness, don't just happen without planning. Memorable concoctions, that delight women guests and satisfy male appetites as well, require but a slight touch of culinary genius. Try this dip that reflects a little of both: Perfection, they'll say, when you serve a bowl of this cheese-flavored dip with crisp celery or small plum tomatoes. Mix a can of chicken spread (5-ounce size) with ¼ cup shredded process sharp cheese, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and enough light cream to thin to the consistency you like. Chill well before serving. Equally successful when spread on small toasted bread rounds. Makes 1 cup.

Let Labor Day Weekend Be Holiday For Cook, Too

Since the Labor Day weekend marks the finale to most of our carefree summer living, plan the holiday this year so that you, too, can have a comparatively laborless day. If it's spent at home, arrange your menus so that the three meals you serve are tasteful and filling, yet as effortless in preparation as possible. This is no occasion for a six or seven course banquet, although you do want to make sure your three-squares include the seven basics for good nutrition.

Feature main dishes for dinner which can be prepared ahead of time—or at least in which much of the preparation is done in advance. Buy some foods which are ready to eat except for your own inimitable touches which make them special.

Here's a menu pattern you might follow for Labor Day. It's designed for easy preparation. Recipes are given for starred items in the menus.

Breakfast
Cantaloupe and Honeydew Slices
★Buttery French Toast
Honey or Preserves
Crisp Bacon
Coffee Milk

Cut thin slices of both melons and alternate slices on each serving dish.

For the Buttery French Toast, buttermilk instead of sweet milk is used in this delightful variation:

Combine 2 slightly beaten eggs and 1 cup buttermilk. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in large fry pan. Dip 8 slices day old white bread, one at a time, in egg mixture, turning to coat both sides. Brown bread on both sides in butter, adding more butter as needed. Serve at once.

Porch Lunch
★Beefburgers Deluxe on Buns
Tray of sliced Tomatoes, Cucumbers
French Dressing
Brownies with Orange Sherbet
Iced Tea

The deluxe part of these beefburgers is cottage cheese which is blended into the ground beef mixture. Use creamed cottage cheese for it adds moistness as well as good flavor to the patties.

Beefburgers Deluxe

For 6 servings simply combine 1 pound ground lean round steak, 1 cup creamed cottage cheese, 1 tablespoon finely minced onion, and salt and pepper to taste. Shape into 6 patties. Broil under moderate heat for about 7 minutes on each side.

Help Yourself Supper
★Crispy Chicken
Green Salad Hot Parkerhouse Rolls
Bakery Apple Slices
Coffee Milk Shakes

Chow mein noodles are used to coat chicken pieces before cooking them in this easy baked chicken recipe. You should have no difficulty buying the noodles or soy sauce in your local store under the LaChoy label.

Crispy Chicken

3 to 3½ lb. frying chicken, cut up
½ to cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon soy sauce
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon paprika
1½ cups finely crushed chow mein noodles
½ cup butter

Add soy sauce, salt, paprika to buttermilk. Dip chicken in buttermilk mixture; then in noodles to coat each piece thoroughly. Melt butter in a shallow baking pan in the oven. Arrange chicken in pan skin side down in single layer. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Turn skin-side up and bake 30 minutes longer or until fork tender.

Here's another beauty secret for you to share with the Powers girls.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Bathe With A Grain Of Salt

What a difference there is between your skin as it is now and the way it was at the beginning of summer. Exposure to the sun and air has made it live and glowing, quite a contrast to its pallor that first day in a bathing suit.

Why not keep that healthy glow all over, all year long? You can with weekly salt rubs. The Powers girls become devotees after the first treatment, and so will you. The action of salt on the skin is wonderfully stimulating as it wakens sluggish pores, and it has an excellent effect on blemishes and rough spots.

Wait until your skin has no trace of sunburn or tenderness from any other cause. Then follow these directions: Place on the floor beside the tub a bath mat, a saucer of salt, a bath brush, and a bottle of body lotion. Take a long, hot bath. When your skin is pink, remove yourself dripping, to the mat. Drain the tub and immediately start filling it with tepid water.

Lather the body brush with soap, dip it into the salt and gently rub the mixture into your skin. Resoap and resalt the brush until every inch below your chin is covered. Do not scrub, but use some pressure and pay extra attention to shoulders, elbows, wrists and, heels.

Then return to the tub and rinse all traces of the salt lather away. Follow with a brisk rub with not too soft a towel. Spread on the body lotion and let it dry. For the last step, a rub-down with a soft towel.

Tomorrow—Flattering necklines.

Let Labor Day Weekend Be Holiday For Cook, Too

Since the Labor Day weekend marks the finale to most of our carefree summer living, plan the holiday this year so that you, too, can have a comparatively laborless day. If it's spent at home, arrange your menus so that the three meals you serve are tasteful and filling, yet as effortless in preparation as possible. This is no occasion for a six or seven course banquet, although you do want to make sure your three-squares include the seven basics for good nutrition.

Feature main dishes for dinner which can be prepared ahead of time—or at least in which much of the preparation is done in advance. Buy some foods which are ready to eat except for your own inimitable touches which make them special.

Here's a menu pattern you might follow for Labor Day. It's designed for easy preparation. Recipes are given for starred items in the menus.

Breakfast

Cantaloupe and Honeydew Slices
★Buttery French Toast
Honey or Preserves
Crisp Bacon
Coffee Milk

Cut thin slices of both melons and alternate slices on each serving dish.

For the Buttery French Toast, buttermilk instead of sweet milk is used in this delightful variation:

Combine 2 slightly beaten eggs and 1 cup buttermilk. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in large fry pan. Dip 8 slices day old white bread, one at a time, in egg mixture, turning to coat both sides. Brown bread on both sides in butter, adding more butter as needed. Serve at once.

Porch Lunch

★Beefburgers Deluxe on Buns
Tray of sliced Tomatoes, Cucumbers
French Dressing
Brownies with Orange Sherbet
Iced Tea

The deluxe part of these beefburgers is cottage cheese which is blended into the ground beef mixture. Use creamed cottage cheese for it adds moistness as well as good flavor to the patties.

Beefburgers Deluxe

For 6 servings simply combine 1 pound ground lean round steak, 1 cup creamed cottage cheese, 1 tablespoon finely minced onion, and salt and pepper to taste. Shape into 6 patties. Broil under moderate heat for about 7 minutes on each side.

Help Yourself Supper

★Crispy Chicken
Green Salad Hot Parkerhouse Rolls
Bakery Apple Slices
Coffee Milk Shakes

Chow mein noodles are used to coat chicken pieces before cooking them in this easy baked chicken recipe. You should have no difficulty buying the noodles or soy sauce in your local store under the LaChoy label.

Crispy Chicken

3 to 3½ lb. frying chicken, cut up
½ to cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon soy sauce
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon paprika
1½ cups finely crushed chow mein noodles
½ cup butter

Add soy sauce, salt, paprika to buttermilk. Dip chicken in buttermilk mixture; then in noodles to coat each piece thoroughly. Melt butter in a shallow baking pan in the oven. Arrange chicken in pan skin side down in single layer. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Turn skin-side up and bake 30 minutes longer or until fork tender.

Here's another beauty secret for you to share with the Powers girls.

Secrets Of Charm

Bathe With A Grain Of Salt

What a difference there is between your skin as it is now and the way it was at the beginning of summer. Exposure to the sun and air has made it live and glowing, quite a contrast to its pallor that first day in a bathing suit.

Why not keep that healthy glow all over, all year long? You can with weekly salt rubs. The Powers girls become devotees after the first treatment, and so will you. The action of salt on the skin is wonderfully stimulating as it wakens sluggish pores, and it has an excellent effect on blemishes and rough spots.

Wait until your skin has no trace of sunburn or tenderness from any other cause. Then follow these directions: Place on the floor beside the tub a bath mat, a saucer of salt, a bath brush, and a bottle of body lotion. Take a long, hot bath. When your skin is pink, remove yourself dripping, to the mat. Drain the tub and immediately start filling it with tepid water.

Lather the body brush with soap, dip it into the salt and gently rub the mixture into your skin. Resoap and resalt the brush until every inch below your chin is covered. Do not scrub, but use some pressure and pay extra attention to shoulders, elbows, wrists and, heels.

Then return to the tub and rinse all traces of the salt lather away. Follow with a brisk rub with not too soft a towel. Spread on the body lotion and let it dry. For the last step, a rub-down with a soft towel.

Tomorrow—Flattering necklines.

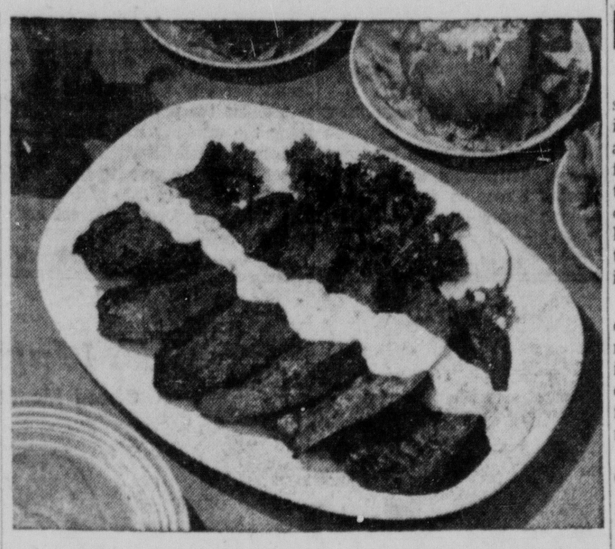
Broiled Liver With Bearnaise Sauce



Tender, gently cooked liver is first choice eating for many folks who enjoy its unique flavor more than they do the abundant supply of good nutrition in each serving.

A veritable storehouse of nutrition, liver is well known as the best food source of iron and an excellent source of vitimins A and B, so necessary for good health. Liver's contribution to healthy living is reason enough to serve it once a week.

Of the four kinds of liver available, calf and lamb livers are the most tender and delicate in flavor. Pork and beef livers, though stronger in flavor and less tender, are usually more economical. But all liver is economical from the standpoint of being all edible for the boneless meat contains no fat and its shrinkage is at a minimum when properly cooked.

Calf and lamb liver—and young beef liver, too—may be broiled or pan-broiled, while pork and beef liver is best cooked by braising. An easily prepared dinner combines broiled liver with Bearnaise sauce. The sauce provides just enough contrast in flavor to accent the delicate taste of the variety meat.

Broiled Liver Bearnaise

- 6 slices calves' liver, ½ inch thick
- ¼ cup bacon drippings or other fat
- 3 tablespoons finely minced onion
- 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
- 3 egg yolks
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 tablespoon minced sweet pickle

Brush liver with melted fat, place on broiler rack 3 inches below heat source and broil about 5 minutes per side or until well browned outside and faintly pink inside. Serve hot with a spoonful of sauce over each slice. To prepare sauce, simmer onion in vinegar 3 minutes. In the top of a double broiler, add yolks, one at a time, to vinegar mixture, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring over hot water. Add seasonings, parsley, pickel and serve immediately.

Liver Cookery Facts

To pan-fry, dip calf, lamb or beef liver slices in flour. Gently fry in a little hot fat until well browned on both sides, 4 to 5 minutes per side. Do not overcook. Season with salt and pepper and serve immediately.

To braise, flour sliced pork or beef liver and brown on both sides in a little hot fat. Season with salt and pepper. Add a small amount of liquid and cook, covered, over low heat until meat is tender, 30 to 45 minutes.

Fresh liver should be used within 24 hours after purchase. One pound yields 4 servings.

One crop acre of every six in the United States was dusted, sprayed, fertilized or seeded by aircraft in 1955.

Select Summer Meats From Cold Cut Family

In the early days when the sausage family migrated to America, it brought along all its cousins—and today we find members of the family in every city and town in the United States. Sausages, or cold cuts, as most of them are known, are available everywhere today in a wide selection of varieties.

One of the first sausages that comes to mind, and no doubt the most popular for summer serving, is the frankfurter. This member of the family came from Frankfurt, Germany and was given its name after the city of its origin.

Although franks represent 34% of the total sausage output now, America has adopted many other European sausages, too. These sausages also were often named according to the town in which they were produced. A product from Bologna, Italy, achieved the name bologna sausage. Rome was the birthplace of Romano; Braunschweig or Brunswick, Germany, of braunschweiger; and Genoa, Italy, of Genoa salami.

Everyone's taste for cold cuts can be satisfied today with the large selection of sausages which are produced. There are dry and semi-dry sausages, cooked meat specialties, cooked sausages, and cooked and smoked sausages all ready to slice and serve for snacks, picnics, lunches, and dinners.

Dry and Semi-Dry Sausages

Summer sausages, Cervelat, and the salamis are dry sausages well know today. Of the two kinds of salami, one is a rather firm product, containing garlic. It is often wound with string. The larger, softer varieties of salami are made with the same ingredients, but dried a shorter length of time.

The main difference between the salamis and Thuringer summer sausage is that summer sausage contains no garlic. Thuringer is made with finely chopped meat, with a lot of pork for juiciness. Cervelat is a smoked product of both ground beef and pork.

Cooked Meat Specialties

Another large classification of the sausage family is the cooked meat specialties. This group includes a variety of products ranging from head cheese and luncheon meat to pickle and pimiento loaf. These, too, are ready for slicing and serving.

The luncheon meats, which make up a large part of this class, have the ham-like flavor of good cured pork. They come in round and loaf shapes.

Beef, pork, and veal tongue are chopped for jellied tongue, sometimes called tongue loaf. Other loaves are tasty combinations of various meats and seasonings.

Cooked Sausages

Liver sausage (liverwurst or braunschweiger), liver cheese, and blood sausage are a part of a third family, the cooked sausages.

All the important nutritional values of liver are found in liver sausage, and there are many kinds produced—all the way from the soft to the firm types, from light pink to darker pink, and sometimes even smoked types.

Liver cheese or loaf is generally loaf shaped with a coating of fresh pork fat to keep it moist. It's good served hot, too.

Cooked Smoked Sausages

In this category fit the two best-known sausages, franks and bologna. Wholesome meat, delicately seasoned, these types are a pleasing combination of finely ground beef and pork, or occasionally all-beef. There dozens of styles of both of these, but no matter what shape or size, they mean good, nutritious eating.

Fritter Recipe Basis For Lunch Time

A budget dish with style—yet fancy enough for any party meal—that's ham and corn fritters. According to Reba Staggs, well known home economist, they are quick and easy to prepare, too. Since the fritters are prepared by deep lard frying, they will not require turning; consequently cooking time is shortened.

In fact, there is economy in deep-lard frying. Leftover meats and vegetables are brought forth completely new in the guise of golden brown fritters.

Another factor in favor of deep-lard frying is that it makes bland foods more palatable by the development of flavor in the browning.

Ham and Corn Fritters

- ½ cup ground cooked ham
- 1 cup canned or fresh cooked corn
- 1 tablespoon minced onion
- ⅔ cup enriched flour
- 1½ teaspoons baking powder
- Lard for frying

Mix ham, corn and onion. Sift flour and baking powder together and add to corn mixture. Blend well. Drop by teaspoons into deep hot lard at 360° F. and fry until golden brown. Drain well on absorbent paper. Serve with well-seasoned cream or tomato sauce. Corned beef may be used in place of the ham, if desired. Yields 4 to 5 servings.

Fried Turkey

A young turkey weighing 2 to 4 pounds, ready-to-cook weight is suitable for frying. The turkey should be disjointed and cut up to give 11 or 12 pieces — 2 drumsticks, 2 thighs or second joints, 2 or 3 pieces of breast, 2 wings, 2 or 3 pieces of back, the neck and giblets.

And here are the simple directions, for frying a small turkey to the point of perfection:

Coating: For each pound of turkey, blend ¼ cup flour; 1 teaspoon paprika; ¾ teaspoon salt; and ⅛ teaspoon pepper (⅛ teaspoon poultry seasoning optional) in a paper bag. Shake turkey, 2 or 3 pieces at a time, in bag to coat evenly. Save any leftover flour for gravy.

Preliminary Browning: Heat ½ inch of cooking fat in a skillet until a drop of water just sizzles. Start browning meaty pieces first, slipping less meaty pieces in between as turkey browns. To brown evenly, turn as necessary with kitchen tongs or two spoons. This browning takes 15 to 20 minutes.

Slow Cooking: Reduce heat, cover tightly and cook slowly until tender, 30 minutes for a 2-pound ready-to-cook weight, 40 to 50 minutes for a 4-pound ready-to-cook weight turkey. If pan cannot be covered tightly, add 1 to 2 tablespoons water and cover. The liver and precooked heart, gizzard and neck may be floured and browned with turkey the last 15 minutes.

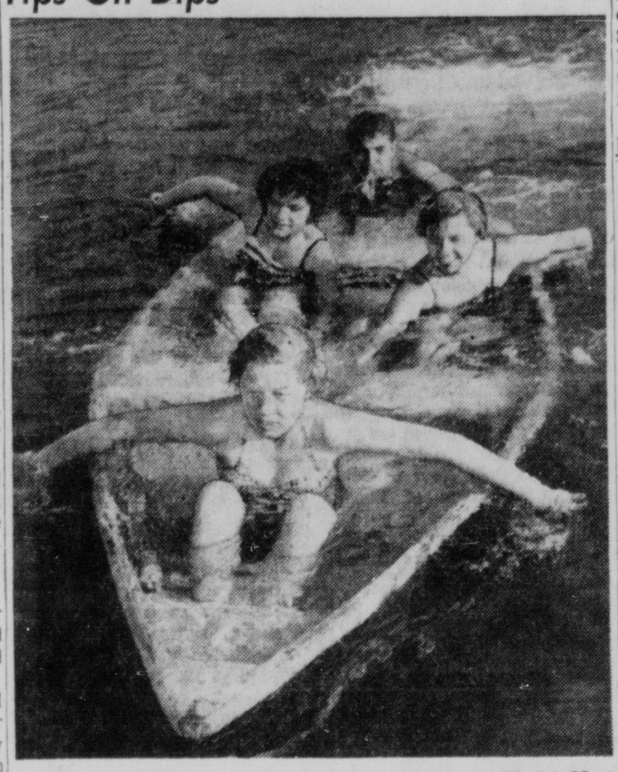
Uncover last few minutes to re-crisp skin.

Turkey is done when meat on the thickest part of the drumstick cuts easily and there is no pink color visible.

Pop the turkey parts into individual straw baskets (lined with paper napkin, wax paper, or aluminum foil). Serve with cranberry sauce, french fried potatoes or potato chips, and crisp green salad.

Cantaloupe melons are named from Cantaloupe, Italy, where the melons were first grown in Europe.

Tips On Dips



If your boat or canoe upsets or swamps, stay with it! Most small craft will float even if filled with water. Hang onto the boat and swim to shore, or sit in the bottom and hand-paddle it to safety.

Apple Custard

- 1 cup canned apple slices, drained
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1½ cups hot milk
- Nutmeg

Arrange apples in bottom of four custard cups. Combine sugar, salt, and eggs. Add milk slowly. Pour over apples, sprinkle with nutmeg. Set cups in a pan of hot water. Bake at 325° F. (slow oven) for 30 to 40 minutes, or until the custard is set.

4 servings. Over ⅓ cup of milk per serving.

Broiled Liver With Bearnaise Sauce

Tender, gently cooked liver is first choice eating for many folks who enjoy its unique flavor more than they do the abundant supply of good nutrition in each serving.

A veritable storehouse of nutrition, liver is well known as the best food source of iron and an excellent source of vitimins A and B, so necessary for good health. Liver's contribution to healthy living is reason enough to serve it once a week.

Of the four kinds of liver available, calf and lamb livers are the most tender and delicate in flavor. Pork and beef livers, though stronger in flavor and less tender, are usually more economical. But all liver is economical from the standpoint of being all edible for the boneless meat contains no fat and its shrinkage is at a minimum when properly cooked.

Calf and lamb liver—and young beef liver, too—may be broiled or pan-broiled, while pork and beef liver is best cooked by braising. An easily prepared dinner combines broiled liver with Bearnaise sauce. The sauce provides just enough contrast in flavor to accent the delicate taste of the variety meat.

Broiled Liver Bearnaise

- 6 slices calves' liver, ½ inch thick
- ¼ cup bacon drippings or other fat
- 3 tablespoons finely minced onion
- 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
- 3 egg yolks
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 tablespoon minced sweet pickle

Liver Cookery Facts

To pan-fry, dip calf, lamb or beef liver slices in flour. Gently fry in a little hot fat until well browned on both sides, 4 to 5 minutes per side. Do not overcook. Season with salt and pepper and serve immediately.

To braise, flour sliced pork or beef liver and brown on both sides in a little hot fat. Season with salt and pepper. Add a small amount of liquid and cook, covered, over low heat until meat is tender, 30 to 45 minutes.

Fresh liver should be used within 24 hours after purchase. One pound yields 4 servings.

One crop acre of every six in the United States was dusted, sprayed, fertilized or seeded by aircraft in 1955.

Select Summer Meats From Cold Cut Family

In the early days when the sausage family migrated to America, it brought along all its cousins—and today we find members of the family in every city and town in the United States. Sausages, or cold cuts, as most of them are known, are available everywhere today in a wide selection of varieties.

One of the first sausages that comes to mind, and no doubt the most popular for summer serving, is the frankfurter. This member of the family came from Frankfurt, Germany and was given its name after the city of its origin.

Although franks represent 34% of the total sausage output now, America has adopted many other European sausages, too. These sausages also were often named according to the town in which they were produced. A product from Bologna, Italy, achieved the name bologna sausage. Rome was the birthplace of Romano; Braunschweig or Brunswick, Germany, of braunschweiger; and Genoa, Italy, of Genoa salami.

Everyone's taste for cold cuts can be satisfied today with the large selection of sausages which are produced. There are dry and semi-dry sausages, cooked meat specialties, cooked sausages, and cooked and smoked sausages all ready to slice and serve for snacks, picnics, lunches, and dinners.

Dry and Semi-Dry Sausages

Summer sausages, Cervelat, and the salamis are dry sausages well know today. Of the two kinds of salami, one is a rather firm product, containing garlic. It is often wound with string. The larger, softer varieties of salami are made with the same ingredients, but dried a shorter length of time.

The main difference between the salamis and Thuringer summer sausage is that summer sausage contains no garlic. Thuringer is made with finely chopped meat, with a lot of pork for juiciness. Cervelat is a smoked product of both ground beef and pork.

Cooked Meat Specialties

Another large classification of the sausage family is the cooked meat specialties. This group includes a variety of products ranging from head cheese and luncheon meat to pickle and pimiento loaf. These, too, are ready for slicing and serving.

The luncheon meats, which make up a large part of this class, have the ham-like flavor of good cured pork. They come in round and loaf shapes.

Beef, pork, and veal tongue are chopped for jellied tongue, sometimes called tongue loaf. Other loaves are tasty combinations of various meats and seasonings.

Cooked Sausages

Liver sausage (liverwurst or braunschweiger), liver cheese, and blood sausage are a part of a third family, the cooked sausages.

All the important nutritional values of liver are found in liver sausage, and there are many kinds produced—all the way from the soft to the firm types, from light pink to darker pink, and sometimes even smoked types.

Cooked Smoked Sausages

In this category fit the two best-known sausages, franks and bologna. Wholesome meat, delicately seasoned, these types are a pleasing combination of finely ground beef and pork, or occasionally all-beef. There dozens of styles of both of these, but no matter what shape or size, they mean good, nutritious eating.

Fritter Recipe Basis For Lunch Time

A budget dish with style—yet fancy enough for any party meal—that's ham and corn fritters. According to Reba Staggs, well known home economist, they are quick and easy to prepare, too. Since the fritters are prepared by deep lard frying, they will not require turning; consequently cooking time is shortened.

In fact, there is economy in deep-lard frying. Leftover meats and vegetables are brought forth completely new in the guise of golden brown fritters.

Another factor in favor of deep-lard frying is that it makes bland foods more palatable by the development of flavor in the browning.

Ham and Corn Fritters

- ½ cup ground cooked ham
- 1 cup canned or fresh cooked corn
- 1 tablespoon minced onion
- ⅔ cup enriched flour
- 1½ teaspoons baking powder
- Lard for frying

Mix ham, corn and onion. Sift flour and baking powder together and add to corn mixture. Blend well. Drop by teaspoons into deep hot lard at 360° F. and fry until golden brown. Drain well on absorbent paper. Serve with well-seasoned cream or tomato sauce. Corned beef may be used in place of the ham, if desired. Yields 4 to 5 servings.

Fried Turkey

A young turkey weighing 2 to 4 pounds, ready-to-cook weight is suitable for frying. The turkey should be disjointed and cut up to give 11 or 12 pieces — 2 drumsticks, 2 thighs or second joints, 2 or 3 pieces of breast, 2 wings, 2 or 3 pieces of back, the neck and giblets.

And here are the simple directions, for frying a small turkey to the point of perfection:

Coating: For each pound of turkey, blend ¼ cup flour; 1 teaspoon paprika; ¾ teaspoon salt; and ⅛ teaspoon pepper (⅛ teaspoon poultry seasoning optional) in a paper bag. Shake turkey, 2 or 3 pieces at a time, in bag to coat evenly. Save any leftover flour for gravy.

Preliminary Browning: Heat ½ inch of cooking fat in a skillet until a drop of water just sizzles. Start browning meaty pieces first, slipping less meaty pieces in between as turkey browns. To brown evenly, turn as necessary with kitchen tongs or two spoons. This browning takes 15 to 20 minutes.

Slow Cooking: Reduce heat, cover tightly and cook slowly until tender, 30 minutes for a 2-pound ready-to-cook weight, 40 to 50 minutes for a 4-pound ready-to-cook weight turkey. If pan cannot be covered tightly, add 1 to 2 tablespoons water and cover. The liver and precooked heart, gizzard and neck may be floured and browned with turkey the last 15 minutes.

Uncover last few minutes to re-crisp skin.

Turkey is done when meat on the thickest part of the drumstick cuts easily and there is no pink color visible.

Pop the turkey parts into individual straw baskets (lined with paper napkin, wax paper, or aluminum foil). Serve with cranberry sauce, french fried potatoes or potato chips, and crisp green salad.

Cantaloupe melons are named from Cantaloupe, Italy, where the melons were first grown in Europe.

Tips On Dips

If your boat or canoe upsets or swamps, stay with it! Most small craft will float even if filled with water. Hang onto the boat and swim to shore, or sit in the bottom and hand-paddle it to safety.

Apple Custard

- 1 cup canned apple slices, drained
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1½ cups hot milk
- Nutmeg

Arrange apples in bottom of four custard cups. Combine sugar, salt, and eggs. Add milk slowly. Pour over apples, sprinkle with nutmeg. Set cups in a pan of hot water. Bake at 325° F. (slow oven) for 30 to 40 minutes, or until the custard is set.

4 servings. Over ⅓ cup of milk per serving.

Mayor Reports On Background Of Frederick-Bedford Street Improvement Contract

Mayor Roy W. Eves yesterday related the trend of events that led the City of Cumberland to enter into an agreement with the State Roads Commission and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads concerning parking and traffic restrictions on Frederick and Bedford streets.

Several weeks ago, the Bureau of Public Roads informed the SRC that it was withholding $66,000 in funds due the City of Cumberland for federal participation in the Frederick Street extension project.

The reason given was that the city had failed to comply with the parking restrictions on Bedford Street north of Henderson Avenue and institute one-way traffic on Bedford and Frederick streets south of Henderson Avenue.

Sunday, Police Commissioner William V. Keegan announced the Police Department would proceed with the necessary steps to comply with the Bureau of Public Roads demands.

But Keegan, said, in effect, he was doing so under protest, as the agreement as it was handed him did not contain these restrictions.

On December 1, 1952, the Mayor and City Council upon the motion of Mrs. Lucile Roeder, then street commissioner, seconded by William J. Edwards, water commissioner, unanimously approved and authorized the Mayor to execute an agreement with the State Roads Commission.

Paragraph 7, of this agreement, the Mayor said, provided for designating Frederick Street as one-way northbound, and to prohibit parking of vehicles along the easterly side of Frederick Street between North Mechanic Street and the corporate line.

It also designated Bedford Street one-way southbound, and to prohibit parking of vehicles along the westerly side between North Mechanic Street and the corporate line, and to enforce this program for a minimum trial period of at least 90 days before a final decision.

At the council meeting on December 1, 1952, Eves said, the council contended that this arrangement would create a traffic hazard and both streets should be kept two-way between Henderson Avenue and Mechanic Street.

"Council's understanding was that the State Roads Commission would modify the agreement to that extent and also allow a trial period of 90 days.

"However, the Bureau of Public Roads took exception to the modification and the agreement was rewritten in the form which would meet the bureau's approval," the Mayor declared.

The city council, according to minutes of meetings at that time, took exception to the restriction of parking on Bedford Street between Decatur and Marietta streets along the concrete wall.

The Mayor then pointed out that after extensive negotiations, both verbal and written, with the State Roads Commission, the council had read to its members by the City Clerk the final form of the contract on July 13, 1953.

The minutes show that the contract was unanimously approved by Order No. 13,305 upon motion of Mrs. Roeder, seconded by Keegan.

Paragraph 7 of the agreement read:

"The city agrees upon the completion of the project to designate Frederick Street as a northbound one-way thoroughfare, and to prohibit parking of vehicles along the westerly side of Frederick Street between North Mechanic Street and the corporate line, and to designate Bedford Street southbound one-way thoroughfare, and to prohibit the parking of vehicles along the westerly line of Bedford Street between North Mechanic Street and the corporate line, and along the easterly side of Bedford Street between Decatur Street and Marietta Street."

Final approval of the State Roads Commission was given to this agreement on August 19, 1953.

"The insertion of these parking restrictions in the contract, although vigorously protested by the Mayor and Council, became a part of the contract because otherwise the State Roads Commission could not have arranged for the securing of $250,000 of federal-aid urban development funds," the Mayor concluded.

But Keegan, said, in effect, he was doing so under protest, as the agreement as it was handed him did not contain these restrictions.

On December 1, 1952, the Mayor and City Council upon the motion of Mrs. Lucile Roeder, then street commissioner, seconded by William J. Edwards, water commissioner, unanimously approved and authorized the Mayor to execute an agreement with the State Roads Commission.

Paragraph 7, of this agreement, the Mayor said, provided for designating Frederick Street as one-way northbound, and to prohibit parking of vehicles along the easterly side of Frederick Street between North Mechanic Street and the corporate line.

It also designated Bedford Street one-way southbound, and to prohibit parking of vehicles along the westerly side between North Mechanic Street and the corporate line, and to enforce this program for a minimum trial period of at least 90 days before a final decision.

At the council meeting on December 1, 1952, Eves said, the council contended that this arrangement would create a traffic hazard and both streets should be kept two-way between Henderson Avenue and Mechanic Street.

"Council's understanding was that the State Roads Commission would modify the agreement to that extent and also allow a trial period of 90 days.

"However, the Bureau of Public Roads took exception to the modification and the agreement was rewritten in the form which would meet the bureau's approval," the Mayor declared.

The city council, according to minutes of meetings at that time, took exception to the restriction of parking on Bedford Street between Decatur and Marietta streets along the concrete wall.

The Mayor then pointed out that after extensive negotiations, both verbal and written, with the State Roads Commission, the council had read to its members by the City Clerk the final form of the contract on July 13, 1953.

The minutes show that the contract was unanimously approved by Order No. 13,305 upon motion of Mrs. Roeder, seconded by Keegan.

Paragraph 7 of the agreement read:

"The city agrees upon the completion of the project to designate Frederick Street as a northbound one-way thoroughfare, and to prohibit parking of vehicles along the westerly side of Frederick Street between North Mechanic Street and the corporate line, and to designate Bedford Street southbound one-way thoroughfare, and to prohibit the parking of vehicles along the westerly line of Bedford Street between North Mechanic Street and the corporate line, and along the easterly side of Bedford Street between Decatur Street and Marietta Street."

Final approval of the State Roads Commission was given to this agreement on August 19, 1953.

"The insertion of these parking restrictions in the contract, although vigorously protested by the Mayor and Council, became a part of the contract because otherwise the State Roads Commission could not have arranged for the securing of $250,000 of federal-aid urban development funds," the Mayor concluded.

Attack Stepped Up On Arteriosclerosis

One of the most painful of old-age diseases, arteriosclerosis, is under further attack by the scientific world. Better known as hardening of the arteries, this disease is one of the most feared among older people because of its crippling and fatal effects.

Because of the need for extensive research on the cause of arteriosclerosis, a group of scientists has formed an "Institute Without Walls"—that is, an organization to conduct arterial studies but with the participants performing their work in all sections of the United States and other countries, rather than under one roof.

Under the direction of Gen. Elbert DeCoursey, commandant of the Army Medical Service School at Brook Army Medical Center in San Antonio, the group will concentrate its work toward solving the apparent discrepancy between the generally accepted theory that diet is important to prevent the disease and evidence which suggests the beginnings of arterial troubles are present in a more dormant state in young children.

The "Institute Without Walls" idea was inaugurated because of the complex scope of arterial problems. The study was compared to a "giant jigsaw puzzle" which only concerted effort by many specialists, each studying a specific part, can solve.

One of the preliminary obstacles which must be removed before real progress can be made is the finding of an experimental animal with a circulatory system more similar to that of the human body than the chicken, rabbit or guinea pig. The researchers have indicated they will probably settle on one of the lower primates.

This arteriosclerosis study, like the many other medical research projects now under way, will someday produce the desired results. In the meantime, much money and time will be expended.

Governor Harriman's Presidential Campaign Spending Under Scrutiny

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's note: Drew Pearson is touring the Middle East. During his absence, his column will be written by his junior partner, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON—No one who has wandered through the ivy-colored, red brick Smithsonian Institution, home of our national relics, would suspect that hallowed institution of political favoritism. Yet the Smithsonian has slyly turned its brokerage business over to the Republican national finance chairman, J. Clifford Folger, whose partner happens also to be the son of Smithsonian executive committee chairman Robert V. Fleming.

This amounts to a nice windfall paid to the Folger-Fleming firm for handling Smithsonian investments. Involved is a juicy $5,000,000 consolidated fund which the institution invests in stocks and bonds. In the past, Washington's leading brokers shared in the brokerage fees. This policy was abruptly changed, however, after Fleming became executive committee chairman.

The Smithsonian's treasurer, Thomas Clark, acknowledged to this column that all investments—"except in rare instances"—are now made through the Folger-Fleming firm. Clark explained that Robert V. Fleming gives his time freely to the Smithsonian, hence it was considered a "nice gesture" for the institution to do its business through his son, Robert W.

The Folger-Fleming firm simply handles the transactions, however, and has no say-so on how the Smithsonian's funds should be invested. This decision is made by the staid Boston investment counselors — Scudder, Stevens, and Clark.

The elder Fleming, a respected Washington banker, has long donated his services to the Smithsonian Institution. He knew his son's firm handled "occasional" Smithsonian transactions, he said, but had no idea it received all the business.

Young Fleming, also contacted by this column, explained that his firm might handle two or three deals a month, or one deal in two or three months, for the Smithsonian. He also contended that long before he joined the Folger firm it was collecting brokerage commissions from the institution. This is true with one important difference: previously the firm got a small percentage, now it gets the whole works.

Harriman Confetti

The Democrats would rather forget about it, but they may be forced to investigate Governor Harriman's fabulous spending at the Chicago convention. It's no secret that he scattered money around like green confetti.

This hot political potato may be tossed to Tennessee's bright young Sen. Albert Gore, who, as Senate elections chairman, is supposed to help keep politics clean. He will start investigating election irregularities next month.

Dozens of Democratic delegates complained to Adlai Stevenson's headquarters in Chicago that they had been offered expense money and other favors by the Harriman forces. The charges were turned over to Arthur Grafton, Louisville law partner of Wilson Wyatt, to investigate. For the sake of Democratic amity, however, the Stevenson camp decided to do nothing about the charges.

Governor Harriman spent an estimated $2,000,000 on his abortive presidential campaign. He kept over 700 people on his campaign payroll, compared to Stevenson's 210 paid workers. Harriman headquarters supplied delegates with free whisky, football tickets and other favors.

Harriman sought an influential delegate to run his campaign in each state delegation. Those who consented usually were offered "expense money" and the privilege of keeping their own books. The approach was made sometimes by Tammany Hall boss Carmine DeSapio, sometimes by lesser lights such as Senator McCarthy's chum, Roy Cohn.

For example, Iowa delegate Jake Moore acknowledged to this column that he received $1,110 from Harriman headquarters to pay for travel and entertainment. Most of it went to pay out-of-pocket expenses, he said, for a trip to Minneapolis to court Minnesota delegates.

Hysterics Over "Bribe"

Nevada delegate Bea Thor went into hysterics on the convention floor after she was pressured to vote for Harriman and several $100 bills were waved under her nose by another delegate. She turned down the offer.

Another Nevada delegate, Mary Wells, gave up a modest room at the YMCA hotel for fancier quarters in the Conrad Hilton. She admitted to this column that Harriman headquarters arranged her Hilton accommodations, but claimed she paid for the room out of her own pocket.

Wisconsin delegate Edmund Dawicki also moved into a Conrad Hilton room that had been reserved by the Harriman camp. His wife insisted to this column, however, that Harriman put up no money.

Several delegates from Idaho, Nevada, Montana and Colorado told Stevenson headquarters that they had been offered travel money by Harriman workers. This column has the list of names in case Senator Gore is interested.

It will be interesting to see whether Senator Gore will now investigate his fellow Democrats, including some who voted for him for vice president.

Most Voters Now Know Presidential Preference

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—More than 43 out of the 45 months of the campaign to elect a president in November 1956 have been completed—and, judging by scientific surveys in past campaigns, a preponderant number of citizens have already made up their minds how they are going to vote.

Despite the hullaballoo of the autumn months just before a presidential election, the impressions made upon the voters are based primarily upon what they have learned from the everyday news in the previous three years or more.

Thus, the campaign of 1956 for and against the re-election of President Eisenhower really began on January 20, 1953, when he was inaugurated. The Democrats have revealed their strategy again and again. Though some partisan moves have been concealed by an outwardly professed concern for the public interest, there has been a noticeable awareness of the political factor in nearly every public question debated in the last three and a half years.

Followed Same Tactics

While the Democrats, for instance, railed against what they deemed the improper use of congressional investigations in 1953 and 1954, they promptly turned around and used the same tactics when they got control of the committee chairmanships in 1955. All through the 1956 session of Congress, too, the Democrats tried to make political capital by criticizing almost every action taken by the Eisenhower administration. They kept up an almost continuous attack on foreign policy. They exaggerated every incident surrounding the voluntary resignation of a few officials as implying a taint of alleged corruption.

There was also a deliberate effort to minimize the importance of the Communist infiltration in the Democratic regime as exposed by congressional committees.

These tactics were designed to render less effective the Republican weapons of the 1952 campaign, when communism and corruption in government were dramatized as issues. The Democrats have since sought to show that "security risk" procedures were unnecessary and that there had been a loss of individual liberties. The stratagem worked well in "left wing" circles.

It is not clear yet, however, how much progress was made elsewhere by the Democrats in sidetracking the communism and corruption issues. Voters are prone to forget some of the important controversies which four years before caused them to vote against a party in power. But there's one thing it takes a long while for people to forget—and that's corruption.

The scandals of the Truman administration are still remembered by the American people. It will be more important than ever for Adlai Stevenson to disassociate himself from the Truman regime, though among his advisers and conspicuous supporters are many of the former officials of the last administration.

Hiss, Nunan, White Remembered

The day-by-day effect of the Alger Hiss hearings and trials has by no means been removed, nor has the conviction of Joseph Nunan, collector of internal revenue under the Democratic administration, for personal income tax evasion been forgotten. These are facts that sink in long before a political campaign is finally decided. Also, Harry Truman has never explained why, after Harry Dexter White was accused by the FBI, the President wrote White two fervent letters of commendation.

Perhaps the most important influence on the voter, however, is the weekly pay envelope. It makes an impression every week—long before the actual campaign opens. The Democrats used to say, "aren't you better off than you were four years ago?" And their best slogan was, "you never had it so good!"

Then there's the military draft. The monthly calls now are low. The Democrats may cry, "there is no peace!" But as long as the draft calls are small and American boys aren't fighting in foreign wars, the "peace issue" will help the Republicans.

These elemental points take hold throughout the period between elections. Campaign speeches with personal attacks on President Eisenhower—and intimations that the Democratic high command has some inside information from some higher place as to how long the President is going to live—are not likely to prove effective. In 1952 President Truman made an attack on General Eisenhower's integrity. It was part of the "give 'em hell" campaign which the Democrats denounce if a McCarthy becomes vehement, but which they cheer with enthusiasm when one of their own number employs character assassination. The voting public resents personal slurs against the nominees of either party, and often such attacks boomerang in favor of the man assailed.

Stevenson Alienated Voters

Adlai Stevenson, for example, in his acceptance speech said that if he were elected and anything happened to him, "the people will have a new president they can trust." This was regarded by many who heard it as a slap at the integrity and honesty of Vice President Nixon. Letters received here indicate it alienated a good many "independents" who had looked to Stevenson to begin his campaign on a higher plane.

While a minority of the voters may change their minds as a result of printed speeches and broadcasts during a campaign, the impression has grown among practical politicians that elections are really decided by opinions formed long before November. In fact, political campaigns are never over. Party warfare starts out anew the day after a president's inauguration.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Free Passage

Must the world wait until the Egyptian Nasser transforms himself into the image of Hitler? He gives every evidence of aping the Austrian model who first paralyzed the world by his impudence and then brought it to disaster by his arrogance. The question that has faced the West at the London Conference is how long the principal nations can afford to appease Nasser and what his next step will be after the next appeasement.

The Arab News Digest, published in New York, justifies the seizure of the Suez Canal Company by saying: "Since the Egyptian government has agreed to reimburse all stockholders in the Suez Canal Company as soon as the canal's assets are turned over to Egypt, the Egyptians have violated no laws or principles of international practice." So far as the commercial nations of the world are concerned, the question is not who owns the canal but whether the canal is open to all shipping without political restriction by Egypt. For instance, it can be established from the facts that Egypt has already not only prevented Israeli ships from using the canal but has blacklisted the vessels of other nations dealing with Israel, even to the extent of withholding supplies of drinking water.

King Saud said:

"Egypt's action (on the Suez Canal) was dictated by Egypt's and the Arabs' interests. I support every measure made to consolidate the Egyptian economy and strengthen Arab prestige."

What shall we say when King Saud seizes the huge American investment in his country, an investment made in good faith and on generous terms? If Nasser can get away with seizing the property of the British and the French, why should not Ibn Saud seize the investment of the Americans when he can find it profitable to do so?

The Egyptians could have controlled the Suez Canal Company. Instead, they were profligate in their management and sold their shares to the British. The buy was such a good one that the British prime minister, Benjamin Disraeli, did not wait for Parliament to authorize the purchase. He bought those shares on his own, borrowing the money from the Rothschilds. Eventually, the shares were transferred to the British government.

So competent has been the management of the Suez Canal Company that shares which have a par value of $80.50 were selling for as high as $260 when Nasser pulled his coup d'etat. The value of those shares today depends not upon competent management but upon political circumstance. The fluctuation is probably very great. Unilateral seizure of a company, without negotiation or discussion, without payment or a responsible promise to pay is brigandage and should be regarded as intolerable no matter who does it or for what reason. According to the original agreement, the canal should revert to Egypt in 1968, but Nasser could not wait for an agreement to run its course. He is a man in a hurry and his kind of hurrying can, in time, bring on World War III.

By the Constantinople Convention of 1888, it was agreed that "The Suez Maritime Canal shall always be free and open in time of war as in time of peace, to every vessel of commerce or war, without distinction of flag. Consequently, the high contracting parties agree not in any way to interfere with the free use of the canal, in time of war as in time of peace. The canal shall never be subjected to the exercise of the right of blockade."

Since May 1948, however, Egypt has declared a maritime blockade of Israel. Despite United Nations efforts to terminate this blockade, it has continued unabated. On April 3, 1950, the Egyptian government decreed:

"Article 3: It is always permitted to use force, by opening fire when necessary, on any ship endeavoring to evade the procedures of search and thus to force it to halt and be searched."

"Article 17: Our ministers are charged, each in his own sphere, with the implementation of the present decree."

A number of other measures were taken to prevent goods from reaching Israel, all in violation of the Constantinople Convention which is binding upon Egypt. This experience cannot be ignored by countries which have geared their commerce to the use of the Suez Canal. Egypt might use the Israel experience, if it be condoned, as a precedent for "blacklisting" the ships of Western nations to suit some whim of Nasser.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

There are little over two months of super-marketing until election. Let's canvass the wire baskets.

We hope neither side gives us all it promises. We couldn't pay the taxes on it.

The Republicans predict the bag limit on November 6. At the same time the Democrats are as confident as a fisherman's cat.

The Demos might study the record of Sir Thomas Lipton who lost with the Shamrock One, Shamrock Two and Shamrock Three. But each time it was a different boat.

Is there a moral swinging from this incident? All we know is that Sir Tommy took the tea we heaved in Boston harbor and shoved it down our throats.

The main scrimmage will be in the South. Back in 1952 Virginia remembered there was a Santa Claus but forgot there was a Stevenson.

So did Texas, Florida and Tennessee. But don't be befiddled by that. We pointed out in 1928 that a Southern Democrat can vote Republican and still remain a Democrat.

We hope you got something out of this article. We didn't put anything into it.

The Dragon Killer

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

SALEM, Oregon

"The leftists are out to get Doug McKay. Back in 1950, I got the biggest vote anyone ever got for governor of Oregon. But now I've been away three years, on Ike's team. Leftwing New Dealers have been concocting things against me. They've been blackening me.

"Why right now, I believe I'd get more votes in Texas than in Oregon. Down in Texas, they like states' rights. But these people up here are still yaketty-yakking about the so-called give-away of the so-called tidelands. Hell, I was for states' rights before I ever went to Washington, and I'm for them still. The leftists are out to destroy Doug McKay, but I'll still fight them and I'll beat them yet, even though it's an uphill fight just now."

Querulous Saint George

Such is the present mood of the carefully chosen dragon-killer whom the White House has sent back to Oregon to chop off the head of that super-dragon, the Republican-Democratic turncoat, Sen. Wayne Morse. Douglas McKay has been a richly successful Chevrolet salesman, a markedly popular governor of this state, and the secretary of interior in the Eisenhower cabinet. But despite all these sources of self-confidence, he seems, at the moment, to be a rather querulous Saint George.

This reporter caught up with him (with great good luck, for he is keeping a gruelling campaign schedule) in the small apartment in a motel in downtown Salem where the McKays are campaigning for the duration. The candidate's wife Mabel, shrewd and friendly-looking in her gingham dress and rimless eye-glasses, explained amiably that they were in the motel because one of their daughters had their Salem house — "and three grandchildren under five don't combine very well with a hard campaign." But McKay himself hardly seemed to notice his surroundings, being utterly absorbed in his own problems.

Through all his talk of the campaign, there ran the same note. He had been "persecuted" by "wild-eyed Democrats" who had tried to pin the "giveaway label" on him. Wayne Morse, that "leftist" and "carpet bagger," had made all sorts of unsubstantiated charges. And what was worse, a good many people in McKay's beloved Oregon had listened to Morse and the other "leftists," so it was not gong to be easy to win although he thought he could do it.

In another sort of man, all this talk of "leftists'" plots would have been merely tiresome; but it was decidedly puzzling in Douglas McKay, who is normally brisk and likeable, extremely spare and tough, and neither a fool nor one given to self-pity. The clew to the riddle was at length provided by McKay himself. It lay in the story of his own life, which formed his other main theme.

Poor But Free

He is the descendant of Oregon pioneers, who "died poor but died free, like most pioneers." To help his widowed mother, he went to work when he was 14. By hard self-denial, he nonetheless completed his education, taking the agricultural course at Oregon State College. That year, he and Mrs. McKay were married, after keeping company for a long time.

But that year was 1917. He volunteered for the Army. He went overseas. He was heavily wounded at the front in France. So he had to give up his ambition to become a farmer, and instead started selling cars in Portland. He and Mrs. McKay scrimped and saved until he could open his own Chevrolet agency in Salem. It was cheap to do, because Salem was a little town then, and Chevrolet was not a big seller. But both Salem and Chevrolet forged ahead, and before too long Doug McKay was a very successful man.

His success took him into politics. He ran for mayor in 1932 — "to save Salem from a bunch of leftwingers." He was in the state senate after that. In World War II, he volunteered for the service, despite his wounds. Then in 1948, he was elected governor; and after that came the cabinet years, and now he was running for the Senate this time to "save the state from the leftwingers."

Urgent Problem

As McKay alternated his fragments of reminiscence and his charges of leftist plots, one began to understand his pain and bewilderment. After such a career, why should he now be open to attack? And if such careers were open to any poor young American with any grit and self-reliance, what was all this leftist talk about welfare and federal responsibility? Why were not the old ways good enough, as they had proved to be for Doug McKay? And was not anyone who challenged the old ways inherently a dangerous and sinister fellow?

The problem is, of course, whether the assumptions behind these questions still hold true in modern America, as they held true when Doug McKay so bravely set out to make his way in the world. It is a particularly urgent problem here in the Northwest, where a booming private enterprise economy has been squarely built on cheap power financed by the U. S. Treasury. That problem is the essence of this stirring Oregon election. And McKay, with his courage and kindliness and grim determination not to be beaten by "the leftists," is probably as good a man as any to thrash the problem out to a decision with the redoubtable Wayne Morse.

Miracles Are Accomplished Through Rehabilitation

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Rehabilitation centers must be seen to be appreciated. It is here that handicapped persons relearn to walk or use their hands so that they can again become independent and self-sufficient. Self-help devices enable the disabled to perform the daily activities of life and work.

Can one who is paralyzed from the waist down ever learn to walk? Yes, but hours of practice and barrels of encouragement are needed. I watched such a patient inch himself along with the aid of crutches. It took five minutes to go 10 feet but he was proud of himself because it meant the difference between living and existing.

His story is not unusual. The man's spine was injured at work and, within a few moments, he became paralyzed from the waist down. The case was settled in court but no provisions were made for rehabilitation.

Being helpless made it easier to get a large settlement but there is not much fun in lying paralyzed in bed, even with a bankful of money. This started the man on rehabilitation; it may not cure him but he will be less dependent on the whims of others if he can navigate in his own home.

Amputees usually are besieged by salesmen trying to sell their artificial appliances. But the majority of these devices are worthless unless the patient learns how to use them. Rehabilitation centers are filled with men and women undergoing instructions along this line.

Little things mean much to the handicapped. The ability to open a refrigerator door, for example, boosted the morale of an elderly man recuperating from the effects of a stroke. He was paralyzed on the right side but could stand and walk with the aid of a cane.

Because his right hand was helpless, he could not open the refrigerator door and was unable to let go of the cane to free the left hand. The therapist solved his problem by teaching him to stand without his cane. He was delighted and proud of this accomplishment.

Up to then he had been handicapped because his family worked during the day and his lunch was necessarily limited to foods that do not have to be kept cold. He loves to cook and access to the refrigerator gives him more freedom of action in the kitchen.

TOMORROW: Case histories.

CREW CUTS

H. Y. writes: Do crew cuts help the hair?

REPLY

No, but they help barbers because they represent a more difficult and expensive job. Short hair is easier to keep clean and requires less care.

WRITING BACKWARD

Mrs. F. writes: Is mirror writing in a child curable?

REPLY

Yes, with training. In many instances the trait is associated with left-handedness and poor reading.

INCISION HEALING

R. T. writes: When an incision after an abdominal operation has healed on the outside, does this mean it is healed on the inside too?

REPLY

Yes, even though some of the layers heal faster than others.

CORONARY JITTERS

H. Y. writes: I'm back to work after seven weeks in bed with a heart attack and find myself getting jittery after an hour or so of effort. Will this phase pass in time or get worse?

REPLY

Nervousness usually disappears in time. Post-coronary depression also is common after coronary thrombosis. But, as the saying goes: "This, too, shall pass."

BO

Mrs. D. writes: Can nervousness cause body odor?

REPLY

Yes, but there are other causes which are described in our leaflet on this subject. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for this material.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

John Straley comes up with a tale of three old card-playing cronies who were so plagued by a talkative kibitzer, they resorted to a strategem to rout him, inventing a brand-new game as they went along. While the kibitzer looked increasingly bewildered, the dealer tore the deck in half, dealt three pieces to one crony, seven to another, and kept the rest himself, deciding, "I have a mingle. I bet a buck."

The second player declared, "I've got a shnorkel. I raise you two."

The third enthused, "You can't bluff me out. I've a farfel and raise you both ten!"

At this point the kibitzer pulled himself together. He shook the third player's shoulder and hollered, "Are you nuts? With a fooie farfel, you got the nerve to raise a mingle and a shnorkel?"

Attack Stepped Up On Arteriosclerosis

One of the most painful of old-age diseases, arteriosclerosis, is under further attack by the scientific world. Better known as hardening of the arteries, this disease is one of the most feared among older people because of its crippling and fatal effects.

Because of the need for extensive research on the cause of arteriosclerosis, a group of scientists has formed an "Institute Without Walls"—that is, an organization to conduct arterial studies but with the participants performing their work in all sections of the United States and other countries, rather than under one roof.

Under the direction of Gen. Elbert DeCoursey, commandant of the Army Medical Service School at Brook Army Medical Center in San Antonio, the group will concentrate its work toward solving the apparent discrepancy between the generally accepted theory that diet is important to prevent the disease and evidence which suggests the beginnings of arterial troubles are present in a more dormant state in young children.

The "Institute Without Walls" idea was inaugurated because of the complex scope of arterial problems. The study was compared to a "giant jigsaw puzzle" which only concerted effort by many specialists, each studying a specific part, can solve.

One of the preliminary obstacles which must be removed before real progress can be made is the finding of an experimental animal with a circulatory system more similar to that of the human body than the chicken, rabbit or guinea pig. The researchers have indicated they will probably settle on one of the lower primates.

This arteriosclerosis study, like the many other medical research projects now under way, will someday produce the desired results. In the meantime, much money and time will be expended.

Governor Harriman's Presidential Campaign Spending Under Scrutiny

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's note: Drew Pearson is touring the Middle East. During his absence, his column will be written by his junior partner, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON—No one who has wandered through the ivy-colored, red brick Smithsonian Institution, home of our national relics, would suspect that hallowed institution of political favoritism. Yet the Smithsonian has slyly turned its brokerage business over to the Republican national finance chairman, J. Clifford Folger, whose partner happens also to be the son of Smithsonian executive committee chairman Robert V. Fleming.

This amounts to a nice windfall paid to the Folger-Fleming firm for handling Smithsonian investments. Involved is a juicy $5,000,000 consolidated fund which the institution invests in stocks and bonds. In the past, Washington's leading brokers shared in the brokerage fees. This policy was abruptly changed, however, after Fleming became executive committee chairman.

The Smithsonian's treasurer, Thomas Clark, acknowledged to this column that all investments—"except in rare instances"—are now made through the Folger-Fleming firm. Clark explained that Robert V. Fleming gives his time freely to the Smithsonian, hence it was considered a "nice gesture" for the institution to do its business through his son, Robert W.

The Folger-Fleming firm simply handles the transactions, however, and has no say-so on how the Smithsonian's funds should be invested. This decision is made by the staid Boston investment counselors — Scudder, Stevens, and Clark.

The elder Fleming, a respected Washington banker, has long donated his services to the Smithsonian Institution. He knew his son's firm handled "occasional" Smithsonian transactions, he said, but had no idea it received all the business.

Young Fleming, also contacted by this column, explained that his firm might handle two or three deals a month, or one deal in two or three months, for the Smithsonian. He also contended that long before he joined the Folger firm it was collecting brokerage commissions from the institution. This is true with one important difference: previously the firm got a small percentage, now it gets the whole works.

Harriman Confetti

The Democrats would rather forget about it, but they may be forced to investigate Governor Harriman's fabulous spending at the Chicago convention. It's no secret that he scattered money around like green confetti.

This hot political potato may be tossed to Tennessee's bright young Sen. Albert Gore, who, as Senate elections chairman, is supposed to help keep politics clean. He will start investigating election irregularities next month.

Dozens of Democratic delegates complained to Adlai Stevenson's headquarters in Chicago that they had been offered expense money and other favors by the Harriman forces. The charges were turned over to Arthur Grafton, Louisville law partner of Wilson Wyatt, to investigate. For the sake of Democratic amity, however, the Stevenson camp decided to do nothing about the charges.

Governor Harriman spent an estimated $2,000,000 on his abortive presidential campaign. He kept over 700 people on his campaign payroll, compared to Stevenson's 210 paid workers. Harriman headquarters supplied delegates with free whisky, football tickets and other favors.

Harriman sought an influential delegate to run his campaign in each state delegation. Those who consented usually were offered "expense money" and the privilege of keeping their own books. The approach was made sometimes by Tammany Hall boss Carmine DeSapio, sometimes by lesser lights such as Senator McCarthy's chum, Roy Cohn.

For example, Iowa delegate Jake Moore acknowledged to this column that he received $1,110 from Harriman headquarters to pay for travel and entertainment. Most of it went to pay out-of-pocket expenses, he said, for a trip to Minneapolis to court Minnesota delegates.

Hysterics Over "Bribe"

Nevada delegate Bea Thor went into hysterics on the convention floor after she was pressured to vote for Harriman and several $100 bills were waved under her nose by another delegate. She turned down the offer.

Another Nevada delegate, Mary Wells, gave up a modest room at the YMCA hotel for fancier quarters in the Conrad Hilton. She admitted to this column that Harriman headquarters arranged her Hilton accommodations, but claimed she paid for the room out of her own pocket.

Wisconsin delegate Edmund Dawicki also moved into a Conrad Hilton room that had been reserved by the Harriman camp. His wife insisted to this column, however, that Harriman put up no money.

Several delegates from Idaho, Nevada, Montana and Colorado told Stevenson headquarters that they had been offered travel money by Harriman workers. This column has the list of names in case Senator Gore is interested.

It will be interesting to see whether Senator Gore will now investigate his fellow Democrats, including some who voted for him for vice president.

Most Voters Now Know Presidential Preference

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—More than 43 out of the 45 months of the campaign to elect a president in November 1956 have been completed—and, judging by scientific surveys in past campaigns, a preponderant number of citizens have already made up their minds how they are going to vote.

Despite the hullaballoo of the autumn months just before a presidential election, the impressions made upon the voters are based primarily upon what they have learned from the everyday news in the previous three years or more.

Thus, the campaign of 1956 for and against the re-election of President Eisenhower really began on January 20, 1953, when he was inaugurated. The Democrats have revealed their strategy again and again. Though some partisan moves have been concealed by an outwardly professed concern for the public interest, there has been a noticeable awareness of the political factor in nearly every public question debated in the last three and a half years.

Followed Same Tactics

While the Democrats, for instance, railed against what they deemed the improper use of congressional investigations in 1953 and 1954, they promptly turned around and used the same tactics when they got control of the committee chairmanships in 1955. All through the 1956 session of Congress, too, the Democrats tried to make political capital by criticizing almost every action taken by the Eisenhower administration. They kept up an almost continuous attack on foreign policy. They exaggerated every incident surrounding the voluntary resignation of a few officials as implying a taint of alleged corruption.

There was also a deliberate effort to minimize the importance of the Communist infiltration in the Democratic regime as exposed by congressional committees.

These tactics were designed to render less effective the Republican weapons of the 1952 campaign, when communism and corruption in government were dramatized as issues. The Democrats have since sought to show that "security risk" procedures were unnecessary and that there had been a loss of individual liberties. The stratagem worked well in "left wing" circles.

It is not clear yet, however, how much progress was made elsewhere by the Democrats in sidetracking the communism and corruption issues. Voters are prone to forget some of the important controversies which four years before caused them to vote against a party in power. But there's one thing it takes a long while for people to forget—and that's corruption.

The scandals of the Truman administration are still remembered by the American people. It will be more important than ever for Adlai Stevenson to disassociate himself from the Truman regime, though among his advisers and conspicuous supporters are many of the former officials of the last administration.

Hiss, Nunan, White Remembered

The day-by-day effect of the Alger Hiss hearings and trials has by no means been removed, nor has the conviction of Joseph Nunan, collector of internal revenue under the Democratic administration, for personal income tax evasion been forgotten. These are facts that sink in long before a political campaign is finally decided. Also, Harry Truman has never explained why, after Harry Dexter White was accused by the FBI, the President wrote White two fervent letters of commendation.

Perhaps the most important influence on the voter, however, is the weekly pay envelope. It makes an impression every week—long before the actual campaign opens. The Democrats used to say, "aren't you better off than you were four years ago?" And their best slogan was, "you never had it so good!"

Then there's the military draft. The monthly calls now are low. The Democrats may cry, "there is no peace!" But as long as the draft calls are small and American boys aren't fighting in foreign wars, the "peace issue" will help the Republicans.

These elemental points take hold throughout the period between elections. Campaign speeches with personal attacks on President Eisenhower—and intimations that the Democratic high command has some inside information from some higher place as to how long the President is going to live—are not likely to prove effective. In 1952 President Truman made an attack on General Eisenhower's integrity. It was part of the "give 'em hell" campaign which the Democrats denounce if a McCarthy becomes vehement, but which they cheer with enthusiasm when one of their own number employs character assassination. The voting public resents personal slurs against the nominees of either party, and often such attacks boomerang in favor of the man assailed.

Stevenson Alienated Voters

Adlai Stevenson, for example, in his acceptance speech said that if he were elected and anything happened to him, "the people will have a new president they can trust." This was regarded by many who heard it as a slap at the integrity and honesty of Vice President Nixon. Letters received here indicate it alienated a good many "independents" who had looked to Stevenson to begin his campaign on a higher plane.

While a minority of the voters may change their minds as a result of printed speeches and broadcasts during a campaign, the impression has grown among practical politicians that elections are really decided by opinions formed long before November. In fact, political campaigns are never over. Party warfare starts out anew the day after a president's inauguration.

These Days

Free Passage

Must the world wait until the Egyptian Nasser transforms himself into the image of Hitler? He gives every evidence of aping the Austrian model who first paralyzed the world by his impudence and then brought it to disaster by his arrogance. The question that has faced the West at the London Conference is how long the principal nations can afford to appease Nasser and what his next step will be after the next appeasement.

The Arab News Digest, published in New York, justifies the seizure of the Suez Canal Company by saying: "Since the Egyptian government has agreed to reimburse all stockholders in the Suez Canal Company as soon as the canal's assets are turned over to Egypt, the Egyptians have violated no laws or principles of international practice." So far as the commercial nations of the world are concerned, the question is not who owns the canal but whether the canal is open to all shipping without political restriction by Egypt. For instance, it can be established from the facts that Egypt has already not only prevented Israeli ships from using the canal but has blacklisted the vessels of other nations dealing with Israel, even to the extent of withholding supplies of drinking water.

King Saud said:

"Egypt's action (on the Suez Canal) was dictated by Egypt's and the Arabs' interests. I support every measure made to consolidate the Egyptian economy and strengthen Arab prestige."

What shall we say when King Saud seizes the huge American investment in his country, an investment made in good faith and on generous terms? If Nasser can get away with seizing the property of the British and the French, why should not Ibn Saud seize the investment of the Americans when he can find it profitable to do so?

The Egyptians could have controlled the Suez Canal Company. Instead, they were profligate in their management and sold their shares to the British. The buy was such a good one that the British prime minister, Benjamin Disraeli, did not wait for Parliament to authorize the purchase. He bought those shares on his own, borrowing the money from the Rothschilds. Eventually, the shares were transferred to the British government.

So competent has been the management of the Suez Canal Company that shares which have a par value of $80.50 were selling for as high as $260 when Nasser pulled his coup d'etat. The value of those shares today depends not upon competent management but upon political circumstance. The fluctuation is probably very great. Unilateral seizure of a company, without negotiation or discussion, without payment or a responsible promise to pay is brigandage and should be regarded as intolerable no matter who does it or for what reason. According to the original agreement, the canal should revert to Egypt in 1968, but Nasser could not wait for an agreement to run its course. He is a man in a hurry and his kind of hurrying can, in time, bring on World War III.

By the Constantinople Convention of 1888, it was agreed that "The Suez Maritime Canal shall always be free and open in time of war as in time of peace, to every vessel of commerce or war, without distinction of flag. Consequently, the high contracting parties agree not in any way to interfere with the free use of the canal, in time of war as in time of peace. The canal shall never be subjected to the exercise of the right of blockade."

Since May 1948, however, Egypt has declared a maritime blockade of Israel. Despite United Nations efforts to terminate this blockade, it has continued unabated. On April 3, 1950, the Egyptian government decreed:

"Article 3: It is always permitted to use force, by opening fire when necessary, on any ship endeavoring to evade the procedures of search and thus to force it to halt and be searched."

"Article 17: Our ministers are charged, each in his own sphere, with the implementation of the present decree."

A number of other measures were taken to prevent goods from reaching Israel, all in violation of the Constantinople Convention which is binding upon Egypt. This experience cannot be ignored by countries which have geared their commerce to the use of the Suez Canal. Egypt might use the Israel experience, if it be condoned, as a precedent for "blacklisting" the ships of Western nations to suit some whim of Nasser.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

There are little over two months of super-marketing until election. Let's canvass the wire baskets.

We hope neither side gives us all it promises. We couldn't pay the taxes on it.

The Republicans predict the bag limit on November 6. At the same time the Democrats are as confident as a fisherman's cat.

The Demos might study the record of Sir Thomas Lipton who lost with the Shamrock One, Shamrock Two and Shamrock Three. But each time it was a different boat.

Is there a moral swinging from this incident? All we know is that Sir Tommy took the tea we heaved in Boston harbor and shoved it down our throats.

The main scrimmage will be in the South. Back in 1952 Virginia remembered there was a Santa Claus but forgot there was a Stevenson.

So did Texas, Florida and Tennessee. But don't be befiddled by that. We pointed out in 1928 that a Southern Democrat can vote Republican and still remain a Democrat.

We hope you got something out of this article. We didn't put anything into it.

The Dragon Killer

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

SALEM, Oregon

"The leftists are out to get Doug McKay. Back in 1950, I got the biggest vote anyone ever got for governor of Oregon. But now I've been away three years, on Ike's team. Leftwing New Dealers have been concocting things against me. They've been blackening me.

"Why right now, I believe I'd get more votes in Texas than in Oregon. Down in Texas, they like states' rights. But these people up here are still yaketty-yakking about the so-called give-away of the so-called tidelands. Hell, I was for states' rights before I ever went to Washington, and I'm for them still. The leftists are out to destroy Doug McKay, but I'll still fight them and I'll beat them yet, even though it's an uphill fight just now."

Querulous Saint George

Such is the present mood of the carefully chosen dragon-killer whom the White House has sent back to Oregon to chop off the head of that super-dragon, the Republican-Democratic turncoat, Sen. Wayne Morse. Douglas McKay has been a richly successful Chevrolet salesman, a markedly popular governor of this state, and the secretary of interior in the Eisenhower cabinet. But despite all these sources of self-confidence, he seems, at the moment, to be a rather querulous Saint George.

This reporter caught up with him (with great good luck, for he is keeping a gruelling campaign schedule) in the small apartment in a motel in downtown Salem where the McKays are campaigning for the duration. The candidate's wife Mabel, shrewd and friendly-looking in her gingham dress and rimless eye-glasses, explained amiably that they were in the motel because one of their daughters had their Salem house — "and three grandchildren under five don't combine very well with a hard campaign." But McKay himself hardly seemed to notice his surroundings, being utterly absorbed in his own problems.

Through all his talk of the campaign, there ran the same note. He had been "persecuted" by "wild-eyed Democrats" who had tried to pin the "giveaway label" on him. Wayne Morse, that "leftist" and "carpet bagger," had made all sorts of unsubstantiated charges. And what was worse, a good many people in McKay's beloved Oregon had listened to Morse and the other "leftists," so it was not gong to be easy to win although he thought he could do it.

In another sort of man, all this talk of "leftists' " plots would have been merely tiresome; but it was decidedly puzzling in Douglas McKay, who is normally brisk and likeable, extremely spare and tough, and neither a fool nor one given to self-pity. The clew to the riddle was at length provided by McKay himself. It lay in the story of his own life, which formed his other main theme.

Poor But Free

He is the descendant of Oregon pioneers, who "died poor but died free, like most pioneers." To help his widowed mother, he went to work when he was 14. By hard self-denial, he nonetheless completed his education, taking the agricultural course at Oregon State College. That year, he and Mrs. McKay were married, after keeping company for a long time.

But that year was 1917. He volunteered for the Army. He went overseas. He was heavily wounded at the front in France. So he had to give up his ambition to become a farmer, and instead started selling cars in Portland. He and Mrs. McKay scrimped and saved until he could open his own Chevrolet agency in Salem. It was cheap to do, because Salem was a little town then, and Chevrolet was not a big seller. But both Salem and Chevrolet forged ahead, and before too long Doug McKay was a very successful man.

His success took him into politics. He ran for mayor in 1932 — "to save Salem from a bunch of leftwingers." He was in the state senate after that. In World War II, he volunteered for the service, despite his wounds. Then in 1948, he was elected governor; and after that came the cabinet years, and now he was running for the Senate this time to "save the state from the leftwingers."

Urgent Problem

As McKay alternated his fragments of reminiscence and his charges of leftist plots, one began to understand his pain and bewilderment. After such a career, why should he now be open to attack? And if such careers were open to any poor young American with any grit and self-reliance, what was all this leftist talk about welfare and federal responsibility? Why were not the old ways good enough, as they had proved to be for Doug McKay? And was not anyone who challenged the old ways inherently a dangerous and sinister fellow?

The problem is, of course, whether the assumptions behind these questions still hold true in modern America, as they held true when Doug McKay so bravely set out to make his way in the world. It is a particularly urgent problem here in the Northwest, where a booming private enterprise economy has been squarely built on cheap power financed by the U. S. Treasury. That problem is the essence of this stirring Oregon election. And McKay, with his courage and kindliness and grim determination not to be beaten by "the leftists," is probably as good a man as any to thrash the problem out to a decision with the redoubtable Wayne Morse.

Miracles Are Accomplished Through Rehabilitation

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Rehabilitation centers must be seen to be appreciated. It is here that handicapped persons relearn to walk or use their hands so that they can again become independent and self-sufficient. Self-help devices enable the disabled to perform the daily activities of life and work.

Can one who is paralyzed from the waist down ever learn to walk? Yes, but hours of practice and barrels of encouragement are needed. I watched such a patient inch himself along with the aid of crutches. It took five minutes to go 10 feet but he was proud of himself because it meant the difference between living and existing.

His story is not unusual. The man's spine was injured at work and, within a few moments, he became paralyzed from the waist down. The case was settled in court but no provisions were made for rehabilitation.

Being helpless made it easier to get a large settlement but there is not much fun in lying paralyzed in bed, even with a bankful of money. This started the man on rehabilitation; it may not cure him but he will be less dependent on the whims of others if he can navigate in his own home.

Amputees usually are besieged by salesmen trying to sell their artificial appliances. But the majority of these devices are worthless unless the patient learns how to use them. Rehabilitation centers are filled with men and women undergoing instructions along this line.

Little things mean much to the handicapped. The ability to open a refrigerator door, for example, boosted the morale of an elderly man recuperating from the effects of a stroke. He was paralyzed on the right side but could stand and walk with the aid of a cane.

Because his right hand was helpless, he could not open the refrigerator door and was unable to let go of the cane to free the left hand. The therapist solved his problem by teaching him to stand without his cane. He was delighted and proud of this accomplishment.

Up to then he had been handicapped because his family worked during the day and his lunch was necessarily limited to foods that do not have to be kept cold. He loves to cook and access to the refrigerator gives him more freedom of action in the kitchen.

TOMORROW: Case histories.

CREW CUTS

H. Y. writes: Do crew cuts help the hair?

REPLY

No, but they help barbers because they represent a more difficult and expensive job. Short hair is easier to keep clean and requires less care.

WRITING BACKWARD

Mrs. F. writes: Is mirror writing in a child curable?

REPLY

Yes, with training. In many instances the trait is associated with left-handedness and poor reading.

INCISION HEALING

R. T. writes: When an incision after an abdominal operation has healed on the outside, does this mean it is healed on the inside too?

REPLY

Yes, even though some of the layers heal faster than others.

CORONARY JITTERS

H. Y. writes: I'm back to work after seven weeks in bed with a heart attack and find myself getting jittery after an hour or so of effort. Will this phase pass in time or get worse?

REPLY

Nervousness usually disappears in time. Post-coronary depression also is common after coronary thrombosis. But, as the saying goes: "This, too, shall pass."

BO

Mrs. D. writes: Can nervousness cause body odor?

REPLY

Yes, but there are other causes which are described in our leaflet on this subject. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for this material.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

John Straley comes up with a tale of three old card-playing cronies who were so plagued by a talkative kibitzer, they resorted to a strategem to rout him, inventing a brand-new game as they went along. While the kibitzer looked increasingly bewildered, the dealer tore the deck in half, dealt three pieces to one crony, seven to another, and kept the rest himself, deciding, "I have a mingle. I bet a buck."

The second player declared, "I've got a shnorkel. I raise you two."

The third enthused, "You can't bluff me out. I've a farfel and raise you both ten!"

At this point the kibitzer pulled himself together. He shook the third player's shoulder and hollered, "Are you nuts? With a fooie farfel, you got the nerve to raise a mingle and a shnorkel?"

Reports State Land Purchased East Of Keyser

Funds Allocated For Initial Work

KEYSER—Rep. Harley O. Staggers, (D-2nd W. Va.) said yesterday he is scheduled to attend a conference in Washington today, on the construction of a new $20,000,000 defense installation in his congressional district. Staggers first disclosed such a vast development was in the making several months ago.

There is no information available, he observed, as to the exact location of the installation, but reliable informants suggested that it would be in the Cumberland tri-state area and not too far from Keyser.

(The Second West Virginia District is comprised of the Eastern Panhandle and central counties of Barbour, Berkeley, Grant, Hampshire, Hardy, Jefferson, Mineral, Monongalia, Morgan, Pendleton, Pocahontas, Preston, Randolph, Tucker and Webster).

The spotlight was pointed to this national security project this week when Rep. Cleveland D. Bailey of Clarksburg told a Charleston, W. Va., radio station about the plant.

He said he understood the federal government has already bought the necessary land east of Keyser in the Eastern Panhandle and that it will be built almost entirely underground.

Congressman Staggers said at his home here that Rep. Bailey was referring to the information that he, Staggers, released several months ago.

Rep. Staggers recalled that when the national budget was set, he notified his constituents that the plant was to be constructed and that $1,500,000 had been allocated to it for the fiscal year that began July 1.

Rep. Staggers said he pledged defense department authorities that he would keep all information concerning the plant confidential.

But the Keyser legislator did add that it would be a Navy Department project.

Rep. Staggers added that he has been in close touch with this big installation and its planners since the beginning.

The Charleston radio station, WCHS, said Rep. Bailey had obtained his information from an "official" source but did not know whether it would be a missile base, producing plant or any other details.

Cubs Spill Dodgers, 4-3; Pirates, Braves Play 1-1 Tie

Hoak's Blow In Eleventh Beats Brooks

Singles Off First Base; Snaps Bessent's Long Runless String

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Aug. 30 (AP)—Ex-Dodger Don Hoak caromed an 11th inning single off first base to drive in Hobie Landrith from second with the winning run today as the last-place Chicago Cubs edged the pennant-pressing Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-3.

The Dodgers dropped off the pace by two full games as the league-leading Braves and the Pittsburgh Pirates played to a 1-1 tie at Milwaukee. The game was called in the ninth because of rain and wet grounds.

Reliefer Don Bessent, who had a string of 28 scoreless innings ended, gave an intentional walk to Dee Fondy to get at Hoak after Landrith singled and was sacrificed to second.

Ball Hits Bag

Hoak slashed the ball down the first base line and it bounced off first base into fair territory with first sacker Gil Hodges and second baseman Jackie Robinson in hopeless pursuit while Landrith romped home.

The winner was Turk Lown, notching his eighth triumph against six defeats, in relief of lefty Jim Davis, who worked for the Cubs until he left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

The Dodgers, in a tension-filled chase after pacesetting Milwaukee, thus broke even with the lowly Cubs in a four-game set and wound up a 14-game tour with a 9-5 record.

Bessent had relieved Brook starter Roger Craig in the seventh with an inning-ending strikeout of Ernie Banks with the bases loaded after the Cubs had scored one in that frame to tie it at 3-3.

Two Hit Homers

The game was tied for the second time at 2-2 in the second with homers by Randy Jackson of the Dodgers and Pete Whisenant of the Cubs.

Bessent, who allowed five hits after Craig gave six, was charged with his third defeat against one victory. Lown was nicked for only three hits in his four-inning stint, the same total Davis yielded in seven.

The first two runs by each team were scored in almost identical fashion.

Jackson's No. 8 homer after two were out in the top of the second was matched by Whisenant's 11th circuit clout of the season in the last of the same frame to knot the score at 2-2.

Campanella Injured

Ailing Ned Garver Will Join Tigers

DETROIT, Aug. 30 (AP) — Ailing righthander Ned Garver will join the Detroit Tigers pitching staff again tomorrow night against the Kansas City Athletics, the Tigers said today.

Garver has just completed his second 30-day disabled period of the season due to an injured elbow.

In 15 innings pitched this season for Detroit, Garver has an 0-2 record.

Hurler Heaves Bats, They're Live Ones

BALTIMORE, Aug. 30 (AP)—Baltimore Orioles Pitcher Mike Fornieles heaved two bats during last night's game with Cleveland but he wasn't fined. As a matter of fact, he was cheered.

The bats he heaved were live ones.

Dummy Scrimmage? Yep, That's the Navy Term Here

Colts' Pilot Dies • • • Don's Record 22-10

Dr. McLean Appointed • • • Clark Tossed Twice

By C. V. BURNS

JOE "HOOKER" PHILLIPS, who died the other day at the age of 72 at his home in Waynesburg, Pa., managed the Cumberland Colts during the first half of the Middle Atlantic League season in 1930.

Phillips managed the Fairmont Black Diamonds from 1926 through 1929 and took over the reins here at the start of the 1930 campaign. After the Dobbins finished the first half race with a 30-27 record things began going bad for the locals and after they had dropped 11 of their first 15 games in the second half of the split season schedule, "Hooker" Joe resigned and Johnny Byrnes, who had quit the club earlier in the season, returned as player-manager of the club. Under Byrnes, who hit safely in 16 consecutive games, the Colts won 25 and lost 21 and finished the season with an even .500—59 wins and 59 losses. Col. Nelson W. Russler was president of the club that season.

In 1930 Cumberland fans saw more ballplayers in Colt uniforms that any season in the local club's history. Don Thomas, Dave Black, Augis Davis, Bernie Connell, Bill Lange, Harry Grimm, Art Oeschler, Benny Artigiani, George Durning, Joe Conti, George Savino, Ted Bolgar, Marvin Duke, Frank Chase, Wally Bashore, Johnny Smittle, "Chip" Helmick,, Tommy Cloonan, "Stub" Rase were among the better known tossers who performed here.

Other managers in the loop that year were Wilbur Good, Johnstown; Bob Prysock, Wheeling; Earle "Greasy" Neale, Clarksburg; Del Gainer, Fairmont; Eddie Dyer, who later managed the St. Louis Cardinals was at Scottdale; Dave, Lamb, Charleroi, and Dan Pasqualla, Jeannette.

That's the year the Colts beat the Philadelphia Phillies in an exhibition game with "Stub" Rase gaining a 5-4 decision over "Sugar" Sweetland. The Phils' lineup included Denny Sothern, Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, "Chuck" Klein, Jack Sherlock, "Pinky" Whitney and Tommy Thevenow.

During the four years he piloted Fairmont, Phillips had the Black Diamonds in two M. A. playoffs. His 1926 team lost out to Johnstown, 4-2, but his 1928 team whipped Wheeling, four games to two, and then swept four in a row from Hanover, champions of the Blue Ridge League.

We believe Phillips' last managerial post was at Jeannette, Pa., in the 12-team M.A. loop of 1931, the year the Colts became a New York Yankee "farm" and the locals won the championship.

Phillips is credited with being the discoverer of Julius "Moose" Solters, the hard-hitting Fairmont outfielder, who starred with the Chicago White Sox. "Hooker" Joe saw Solters playing with a coal mining league team and gave him his first chance in organized ball. Solters is now blind, the result of being struck on the head by a pitched ball.

Oldtimers in the Georges Creek section recall that Phillips was an outfielder in his younger days and starred for Lonaconing about 40 years ago. Other members of that outstanding 'Coney team included "Shotgun" Keener, "Skinner" Flynn, Bill Kellough, Kenneth Knode, Johnny East and Frank Muster.

We always liked "Hooker" Joe Phillips and we agree with Bill Evans, of the Fairmont Times, who wrote:

"There are many in high places in baseball today who will feel a lump in the throat when they read of the passing of one they knew when they were on the way up. Hooker Joe was one who came from an old-fashioned mold. We shall not see his like again."

DONNIE WILKINSON, the Westernport lad, who has won 14 games and lost seven in his freshman, sophomore and junior years at Bruce High School, did exceptionally well in the Pen-Mar League this season by winning five games and losing none.

Wilkinson handed the pennant-winning Barrelville Bombers two setbacks, 18-5 and 7-6, while his other wins were scored at the expense of Zihlman, 6-2, Centerville 8-6 and Flintstone 13-2. Donnie and Bob Lookabaugh of the Bombers each posted 5-0 records for the 1956 campaign.

Counting his 3-3 record with the Midland American Legion junior nine in 1955, Wilkinson owns a three-year record of 22 victories and 10 losses. In his freshman year at Bruce he won four and lost two, posted a 5-3 record in 1955 and copped five and lost two this spring for the Bulldogs.

DR. JAMES EDWARD McLEAN has been appointed track physician for the 12-day race meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association which gets under way Wednesday, September 12.

A native of Ontario, Canada, Dr. McLean came to Cumberland 33 years ago. He has served in two wars, being attached to the British Navy in the First World War and to the United States Navy during the Second World War.

Dr. McLean was on the staff of both local hospitals for 28 years. At present he is physician for Allegany county, also at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America.

DURING the recent Hagerstown race meeting, Willie Clark had two narrow escapes from serious injury and a two-year-old filly named Hebe was the offender both times.

The first time Clark rode Hebe, the filly negotiated two fences after knocking Willie from her back. The second time out Hebe tried to jump an inside fence after leaving the starting gate. Clark was tossed again but escaped with only a shaking up.

Hebe, a daughter of Greek Ship, has been barred from further competition in Maryland.

JOHN J. LONG, Cumberland finance commissioner, got quite a chuckle when we reminded him of the story that came out of Trenton, N. J., many years ago about two of his football players tackling a horse on the practice field.

The story stated that Long's squad at Newman Prep School, Lakewood, N. J., was on the practice field when a horse wandered there and several of the players decided to tackle the animal.

One of the husky players was reported to have grabbed the horse by the forelegs while the other grabbed him by the hind legs and in "short order they had their equine opponent on the ground."

The story got wide circulation and was played up in many newspapers.

Long states he had nothing to do with the story, branding it as a publicity stunt by the school. He says he really was surprised when he read it in the newspapers.

Soo And Vasquez Fight At Capitol

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—Boxing's longest current winning streak goes on the line tomorrow night when undefeated Jimmy Soo of Philadelphia meets Baby Vasquez of Mexico City in a 10-round lightweight scrap at Capitol Arena.

Soo is rated a slight favorite on the strength of 33 consecutive victories—20 by knockouts. But Vasquez, the lightweight champ of Mexico, has an edge in experience in the caliber of his past opposition.

The fight will be carried over the usual Friday night TV and radio hookup (NBC, 9 p.m. EST).

World Series Plans Started In Milwaukee

Hopeful Move Will Not "Jinx" Braves

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30 (AP)—City fathers, acting as cautiously as a baserunner on an infield fly, today went ahead with plans for Milwaukee's first World Series so as not to be caught off base—if and when.

These plans include decorations for the city's main street and a welcome home celebration for the Braves if they should clinch the National League pennant on the road.

Uppermost in the minds of various officials, including Mayor Frank Zeidler, is the fear that they might "jinx" the Braves.

Zeidler, prefacing his remarks with the statement that he was afraid to pose the question for fear "to put a jinx on it," brought up the "if" problem at a meeting of the Milwaukee Civic Progress Commission yesterday.

The commission agreed that something ought to be done even though the pennant may not be decided until the last day of the season, Sept. 30.

The commission directed its planning commission to draw up a suitable symbol—preferably an Indian brave, swinging a bat, of course—for decorating purposes.

City Purchasing Agent Joseph W. Nicholson pointed out that the symbols wouldn't go to waste. If the Braves don't win, he said, the material could be stored "until next year."

The Parks and Recreation Committee authorized the Park Commission to add as many additional seats at County Stadium as possible if the Braves bag the pennant. The county operates the stadium, which has a capacity of 43,117.

Players Of Three Leagues Will See Bucs, Phils Play

Members of teams in the Hot Stove League, Dapper Dan League and Elks' Pony League planning to make the trip to Pittsburgh to see the Pirates and Phillies play Saturday afternoon are urged to be at City Hall Saturday at 7 a. m.

Managers of all teams are requested to be at City Hall at 6:45 a. m., Saturday.

It was announced last night that all those making the trip by bus must return by bus to avoid repitition of confusion that prevailed last year when some players returned by private cars after making the trip by bus.

Tri-Towns Scores 27th Win; Ridgeley Legion Victor, 8-4

The Tri-Towns' pennant-winning Merchants concluded their regular season schedule in the Mineral County Softball League with a 27-3 record by defeating Wiley Ford yesterday at Keyser by the score of 5-2.

Ridgeley American Legion defeated Patterson Creek at the latter place by the score of 8-4.

Eddie Powelson paced the victors at the plate with a double and two singles, Snyder homered and singled and Showers also collected two hits. Combs with a triple and single and Kenny with a double and single led the Patterson Creek hitters. Scores:

WILEY FORD	2	4	1
TRI-TOWNS	5	9	1

The longest winning streak in major league history is 26 straight triumphs by the Giants of 1916. All of these games were won at home. But the New Yorkers didn't win the pennant. They finished fourth.

Friend, Buhl Duel Stopped By Downpour

Rain Comes In 9th, Milwaukee Picks Up Half Game On Brooks

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30 (AP)—The pace - setting Milwaukee Braves played to a 1-1 no-decision tie with Pittsburgh today but picked up half a game over runnerup Brooklyn in the sizzling National League race.

The Braves now lead the Dodgers by two full games and third place Cincinnati, idle today, by three. Brooklyn lost ground in an 11-inning 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Chicago Cubs.

Downpour Hits Park

The Pirates had one out and a runner on first base in the ninth when a torrential downpour hit County Stadium. The infield became soaked before the ground crew was able to haul the tarpaulin over the field, and after a 55 minute wait, the umpires decided it would be impossible to continue.

Since this was the Pirates' final visit to Milwaukee, it was expected that the game would be transferred to Pittsburgh and played when the Braves appear there Sept. 18.

Bob Friend and Bob Buhl both went all the way on the mound. Friend giving up six hits and Buhl four. Friend himself made half of the hits off Buhl.

Bill Virdon got the Pirates off to a 1-0 lead with his 9th homer over the right field fence in the first inning.

Thompson Injured

The Braves' Bobby Thomson was hit on the head by a pitched ball in the second. His plastic helmet took the brunt of the shock and he was stunned but apparently not injured seriously. He left the game under his own power and was replaced by Wes Covington. Later Thomson was taken to the hospital for X-ray pictures, a move described as "precautionary."

Friend held the Braves hitless until the fourth inning but the first hit off him enabled the Braves to tie the score. Hank Aaron got on base when Dick Groat erred on his ground ball and Eddie Mathews walked. Joe Adcock singled, driving in Aaron for the tying tally.

A paid crowd of 17,783 attended the game, plus 3,669 ladies and 1,327 Knothole Club members.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (INS) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today invited representatives of the first division clubs in both major leagues to a meeting in his New York office Sept. 10 to formulate world series plans.

The series is expected to begin Oct. 3, barring playoffs for the American or National League pennants.

Charles Town Plans Harness Race Track

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Aug. 30 (AP)—Construction will begin soon on the harness race track approved last May in the biggest election turnout in Jefferson County history.

Charles Town Raceway Inc. announced today it had completed negotiations for exercising a year-long option on 137½ acres of land for the new 2½ million dollar plant.

The company said construction of the half-mile track for night racing will begin as soon as contractors submit bids for grading and excavating.

Lew Hoad Of Australia Seeks Quadruple Crown

U. S. Singles Tests Set To Open Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Australia's Lew Hoad starts after the fourth jewel in tennis' "quadruple crown" tomorrow, fearing the U. S. championship will be the hardest of all to win.

Lewis Hoad

"This is a tougher tournament than Wimbledon," the 21-year-old Sydney youth said today after a workout at the West Side Tennis Club. "You meet stronger players in the earlier rounds. You're in more danger of getting knocked out early."

Hoad, winner of the Australian, French and Wimbledon titles, plays Barry Walraven of Oklahoma City in an opening day match.

The top-seeded favorite, has such players as Eddie Moylan, Gardnar Mulloy, Gerry Moss, Allen Morris and Sweden's Ulf Schmidt in his quarter of the draw—and he's not taking any of them lightly.

This is Hoad's fifth appearance in the U. S. National. He's been beaten twice in the semifinals and twice in the quarterfinals.

Althea Gibson, New York, vs Mrs. Nell Hopman, Australia; Ulf Schmidt, Sweden, vs Allen Morris, Atlanta; Hamilton Richardson, Westfield, N. J., vs Rodney Laver, Australia; Malcolm Anderson, Australia, vs Mike Green, Miami.

Don Fairfield, Walter Burkemo Lead At Detroit

Shoot Sub-Par 69s In Motor City Open

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT, Aug. 30 (AP) — Young Don Fairfield and veteran Walter Burkemo banged into the lead in today's first round of the $20,000 Motor City Open Golf Tournament with three-under par 69s.

Fairfield, 27-year-old from Casey, Ill., played consistently over the par 72 course at Western Golf and Country Club, turning in rounds of 34 and 35 over the rain-drenched layout.

Burkemo blew hot and cold, his five birdies overshadowing two bogies as the one-time PGA titlist from Franklin, Mich., came in with rounds of 36 and 33. Burkemo collected four of his birdies on the back nine.

Eight other professionals were clustered just one stroke in back of the co-leaders. Taking 70s were Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, Jerry Kesselring of Toronto, Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.; Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Don January of Lampasas, Tex.; Ed Furgol of St. Louis; and Mike Souchak of Durham, N. C., winner of last week's St. Paul Open.

A field of 137 teed off in the first of four days of medal play over the 6,670-yard course.

After another 18 holes tomorrow, the low 90 scorers plus ties will battle it out Saturday for the 60-odd spots reserved for Sunday's showdown in the scramble for $4,000 top money.

Only two second basemen have ever won the National League batting championships. They are Rogers Hornsby and Larry Doyle.

Perfect Gem and the foal, a get of Nahar II, then teamed up to win first place in the judging of thoroughbred mares and foals.

Hoak's Blow In Eleventh Beats Brooks

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Aug. 30 (AP)—Ex-Dodger Don Hoak caromed an 11th inning single off first base to drive in Hobie Landrith from second with the winning run today as the last-place Chicago Cubs edged the pennant-pressing Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-3.

The Dodgers dropped off the pace by two full games as the league-leading Braves and the Pittsburgh Pirates played to a 1-1 tie at Milwaukee. The game was called in the ninth because of rain and wet grounds.

Reliefer Don Bessent, who had a string of 28 scoreless innings ended, gave an intentional walk to Dee Fondy to get at Hoak after Landrith singled and was sacrificed to second.

Ball Hits Bag

Hoak slashed the ball down the first base line and it bounced off first base into fair territory with first sacker Gil Hodges and second baseman Jackie Robinson in hopeless pursuit while Landrith romped home.

The winner was Turk Lown, notching his eighth triumph against six defeats, in relief of lefty Jim Davis, who worked for the Cubs until he left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

The Dodgers, in a tension-filled chase after pacesetting Milwaukee, thus broke even with the lowly Cubs in a four-game set and wound up a 14-game tour with a 9-5 record.

Bessent had relieved Brook starter Roger Craig in the seventh with an inning-ending strikeout of Ernie Banks with the bases loaded after the Cubs had scored one in that frame to tie it at 3-3.

Two Hit Homers

The game was tied for the second time at 2-2 in the second with homers by Randy Jackson of the Dodgers and Pete Whisenant of the Cubs.

Bessent, who allowed five hits after Craig gave six, was charged with his third defeat against one victory. Lown was nicked for only three hits in his four-inning stint, the same total Davis yielded in seven.

The first two runs by each team were scored in almost identical fashion.

Jackson's No. 8 homer after two were out in the top of the second was matched by Whisenant's 11th circuit clout of the season in the last of the same frame to knot the score at 2-2.

Campanella Injured

Ailing Ned Garver Will Join Tigers

DETROIT, Aug. 30 (AP) — Ailing righthander Ned Garver will join the Detroit Tigers pitching staff again tomorrow night against the Kansas City Athletics, the Tigers said today.

Garver has just completed his second 30-day disabled period of the season due to an injured elbow.

In 15 innings pitched this season for Detroit, Garver has an 0-2 record.

Hurler Heaves Bats, They're Live Ones

BALTIMORE, Aug. 30 (AP)—Baltimore Orioles Pitcher Mike Fornieles heaved two bats during last night's game with Cleveland but he wasn't fined. As a matter of fact, he was cheered.

The bats he heaved were live ones.

Dummy Scrimmage? Yep, That's the Navy Term Here

Colts' Pilot Dies • • • Don's Record 22-10

Dr. McLean Appointed • • • Clark Tossed Twice

By C. V. BURNS

JOE "HOOKER" PHILLIPS, who died the other day at the age of 72 at his home in Waynesburg, Pa., managed the Cumberland Colts during the first half of the Middle Atlantic League season in 1930.

Phillips managed the Fairmont Black Diamonds from 1926 through 1929 and took over the reins here at the start of the 1930 campaign. After the Dobbins finished the first half race with a 30-27 record things began going bad for the locals and after they had dropped 11 of their first 15 games in the second half of the split season schedule, "Hooker" Joe resigned and Johnny Byrnes, who had quit the club earlier in the season, returned as player-manager of the club. Under Byrnes, who hit safely in 16 consecutive games, the Colts won 25 and lost 21 and finished the season with an even .500—59 wins and 59 losses. Col. Nelson W. Russler was president of the club that season.

In 1930 Cumberland fans saw more ballplayers in Colt uniforms that any season in the local club's history. Don Thomas, Dave Black, Augis Davis, Bernie Connell, Bill Lange, Harry Grimm, Art Oeschler, Benny Artigiani, George Durning, Joe Conti, George Savino, Ted Bolgar, Marvin Duke, Frank Chase, Wally Bashore, Johnny Smittle, "Chip" Helmick,, Tommy Cloonan, "Stub" Rase were among the better known tossers who performed here.

Other managers in the loop that year were Wilbur Good, Johnstown; Bob Prysock, Wheeling; Earle "Greasy" Neale, Clarksburg; Del Gainer, Fairmont; Eddie Dyer, who later managed the St. Louis Cardinals was at Scottdale; Dave, Lamb, Charleroi, and Dan Pasqualla, Jeannette.

That's the year the Colts beat the Philadelphia Phillies in an exhibition game with "Stub" Rase gaining a 5-4 decision over "Sugar" Sweetland. The Phils' lineup included Denny Sothern, Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, "Chuck" Klein, Jack Sherlock, "Pinky" Whitney and Tommy Thevenow.

During the four years he piloted Fairmont, Phillips had the Black Diamonds in two M. A. playoffs. His 1926 team lost out to Johnstown, 4-2, but his 1928 team whipped Wheeling, four games to two, and then swept four in a row from Hanover, champions of the Blue Ridge League.

We believe Phillips' last managerial post was at Jeannette, Pa., in the 12-team M.A. loop of 1931, the year the Colts became a New York Yankee "farm" and the locals won the championship.

Phillips is credited with being the discoverer of Julius "Moose" Solters, the hard-hitting Fairmont outfielder, who starred with the Chicago White Sox. "Hooker" Joe saw Solters playing with a coal mining league team and gave him his first chance in organized ball. Solters is now blind, the result of being struck on the head by a pitched ball.

Oldtimers in the Georges Creek section recall that Phillips was an outfielder in his younger days and starred for Lonaconing about 40 years ago. Other members of that outstanding 'Coney team included "Shotgun" Keener, "Skinner" Flynn, Bill Kellough, Kenneth Knode, Johnny East and Frank Muster.

We always liked "Hooker" Joe Phillips and we agree with Bill Evans, of the Fairmont Times, who wrote:

"There are many in high places in baseball today who will feel a lump in the throat when they read of the passing of one they knew when they were on the way up. Hooker Joe was one who came from an old-fashioned mold. We shall not see his like again."

DONNIE WILKINSON, the Westernport lad, who has won 14 games and lost seven in his freshman, sophomore and junior years at Bruce High School, did exceptionally well in the Pen-Mar League this season by winning five games and losing none.

Wilkinson handed the pennant-winning Barrelville Bombers two setbacks, 18-5 and 7-6, while his other wins were scored at the expense of Zihlman, 6-2, Centerville 8-6 and Flintstone 13-2. Donnie and Bob Lookabaugh of the Bombers each posted 5-0 records for the 1956 campaign.

Counting his 3-3 record with the Midland American Legion junior nine in 1955, Wilkinson owns a three-year record of 22 victories and 10 losses. In his freshman year at Bruce he won four and lost two, posted a 5-3 record in 1955 and copped five and lost two this spring for the Bulldogs.

DR. JAMES EDWARD McLEAN has been appointed track physician for the 12-day race meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association which gets under way Wednesday, September 12.

A native of Ontario, Canada, Dr. McLean came to Cumberland 33 years ago. He has served in two wars, being attached to the British Navy in the First World War and to the United States Navy during the Second World War.

Dr. McLean was on the staff of both local hospitals for 28 years. At present he is physician for Allegany county, also at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America.

DURING the recent Hagerstown race meeting, Willie Clark had two narrow escapes from serious injury and a two-year-old filly named Hebe was the offender both times.

The first time Clark rode Hebe, the filly negotiated two fences after knocking Willie from her back. The second time out Hebe tried to jump an inside fence after leaving the starting gate. Clark was tossed again but escaped with only a shaking up.

Hebe, a daughter of Greek Ship, has been barred from further competition in Maryland.

JOHN J. LONG, Cumberland finance commissioner, got quite a chuckle when we reminded him of the story that came out of Trenton, N. J., many years ago about two of his football players tackling a horse on the practice field.

The story stated that Long's squad at Newman Prep School, Lakewood, N. J., was on the practice field when a horse wandered there and several of the players decided to tackle the animal.

One of the husky players was reported to have grabbed the horse by the forelegs while the other grabbed him by the hind legs and in "short order they had their equine opponent on the ground."

The story got wide circulation and was played up in many newspapers.

Long states he had nothing to do with the story, branding it as a publicity stunt by the school. He says he really was surprised when he read it in the newspapers.

Soo And Vasquez Fight At Capitol

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—Boxing's longest current winning streak goes on the line tomorrow night when undefeated Jimmy Soo of Philadelphia meets Baby Vasquez of Mexico City in a 10-round lightweight scrap at Capitol Arena.

Soo is rated a slight favorite on the strength of 33 consecutive victories—20 by knockouts. But Vasquez, the lightweight champ of Mexico, has an edge in experience in the caliber of his past opposition.

The fight will be carried over the usual Friday night TV and radio hookup (NBC, 9 p.m. EST).

World Series Plans Started In Milwaukee

Hopeful Move Will Not "Jinx" Braves

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30 (AP)—City fathers, acting as cautiously as a baserunner on an infield fly, today went ahead with plans for Milwaukee's first World Series so as not to be caught off base—if and when.

These plans include decorations for the city's main street and a welcome home celebration for the Braves if they should clinch the National League pennant on the road.

Uppermost in the minds of various officials, including Mayor Frank Zeidler, is the fear that they might "jinx" the Braves.

Zeidler, prefacing his remarks with the statement that he was afraid to pose the question for fear "to put a jinx on it," brought up the "if" problem at a meeting of the Milwaukee Civic Progress Commission yesterday.

The commission agreed that something ought to be done even though the pennant may not be decided until the last day of the season, Sept. 30.

The commission directed its planning commission to draw up a suitable symbol—preferably an Indian brave, swinging a bat, of course—for decorating purposes.

City Purchasing Agent Joseph W. Nicholson pointed out that the symbols wouldn't go to waste. If the Braves don't win, he said, the material could be stored "until next year."

The Parks and Recreation Committee authorized the Park Commission to add as many additional seats at County Stadium as possible if the Braves bag the pennant. The county operates the stadium, which has a capacity of 43,117.

Players Of Three Leagues Will See Bucs, Phils Play

Members of teams in the Hot Stove League, Dapper Dan League and Elks' Pony League planning to make the trip to Pittsburgh to see the Pirates and Phillies play Saturday afternoon are urged to be at City Hall Saturday at 7 a. m.

Managers of all teams are requested to be at City Hall at 6:45 a. m., Saturday.

It was announced last night that all those making the trip by bus must return by bus to avoid repitition of confusion that prevailed last year when some players returned by private cars after making the trip by bus.

Tri-Towns Scores 27th Win; Ridgeley Legion Victor, 8-4

The Tri-Towns' pennant-winning Merchants concluded their regular season schedule in the Mineral County Softball League with a 27-3 record by defeating Wiley Ford yesterday at Keyser by the score of 5-2.

Ridgeley American Legion defeated Patterson Creek at the latter place by the score of 8-4.

Eddie Powelson paced the victors at the plate with a double and two singles, Snyder homered and singled and Showers also collected two hits. Combs with a triple and single and Kenny with a double and single led the Patterson Creek hitters. Scores:

WILEY FORD	2	4	1
TRI-TOWNS	5	9	1

RIDGELEY	000	021	5—8	11	2

The longest winning streak in major league history is 26 straight triumphs by the Giants of 1916. All of these games were won at home. But the New Yorkers didn't win the pennant. They finished fourth.

Rain Comes In 9th, Milwaukee Picks Up Half Game On Brooks

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30 (AP)—The pace - setting Milwaukee Braves played to a 1-1 no-decision tie with Pittsburgh today but picked up half a game over runnerup Brooklyn in the sizzling National League race.

The Braves now lead the Dodgers by two full games and third place Cincinnati, idle today, by three. Brooklyn lost ground in an 11-inning 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Chicago Cubs.

Downpour Hits Park

The Pirates had one out and a runner on first base in the ninth when a torrential downpour hit County Stadium. The infield became soaked before the ground crew was able to haul the tarpaulin over the field, and after a 55 minute wait, the umpires decided it would be impossible to continue.

Since this was the Pirates' final visit to Milwaukee, it was expected that the game would be transferred to Pittsburgh and played when the Braves appear there Sept. 18.

Bob Friend and Bob Buhl both went all the way on the mound. Friend giving up six hits and Buhl four. Friend himself made half of the hits off Buhl.

Thompson Injured

The Braves' Bobby Thomson was hit on the head by a pitched ball in the second. His plastic helmet took the brunt of the shock and he was stunned but apparently not injured seriously. He left the game under his own power and was replaced by Wes Covington. Later Thomson was taken to the hospital for X-ray pictures, a move described as "precautionary."

Friend held the Braves hitless until the fourth inning but the first hit off him enabled the Braves to tie the score. Hank Aaron got on base when Dick Groat erred on his ground ball and Eddie Mathews walked. Joe Adcock singled, driving in Aaron for the tying tally.

Lew Hoad Of Australia Seeks Quadruple Crown

U. S. Singles Tests Set To Open Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Australia's Lew Hoad starts after the fourth jewel in tennis' "quadruple crown" tomorrow, fearing the U. S. championship will be the hardest of all to win.

Lewis Hoad

"This is a tougher tournament than Wimbledon," the 21-year-old Sydney youth said today after a workout at the West Side Tennis Club. "You meet stronger players in the earlier rounds. You're in more danger of getting knocked out early."

Hoad, winner of the Australian, French and Wimbledon titles, plays Barry Walraven of Oklahoma City in an opening day match.

The top-seeded favorite, has such players as Eddie Moylan, Gardnar Mulloy, Gerry Moss, Allen Morris and Sweden's Ulf Schmidt in his quarter of the draw—and he's not taking any of them lightly.

This is Hoad's fifth appearance in the U. S. National. He's been beaten twice in the semifinals and twice in the quarterfinals.

Althea Gibson, New York, vs Mrs. Nell Hopman, Australia; Ulf Schmidt, Sweden, vs Allen Morris, Atlanta; Hamilton Richardson, Westfield, N. J., vs Rodney Laver, Australia; Malcolm Anderson, Australia, vs Mike Green, Miami.

Don Fairfield, Walter Burkemo Lead At Detroit

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT, Aug. 30 (AP) — Young Don Fairfield and veteran Walter Burkemo banged into the lead in today's first round of the $20,000 Motor City Open Golf Tournament with three-under par 69s.

Fairfield, 27-year-old from Casey, Ill., played consistently over the par 72 course at Western Golf and Country Club, turning in rounds of 34 and 35 over the rain-drenched layout.

Burkemo blew hot and cold, his five birdies overshadowing two bogies as the one-time PGA titlist from Franklin, Mich., came in with rounds of 36 and 33. Burkemo collected four of his birdies on the back nine.

Eight other professionals were clustered just one stroke in back of the co-leaders. Taking 70s were Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, Jerry Kesselring of Toronto, Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.; Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Don January of Lampasas, Tex.; Ed Furgol of St. Louis; and Mike Souchak of Durham, N. C., winner of last week's St. Paul Open.

A field of 137 teed off in the first of four days of medal play over the 6,670-yard course.

After another 18 holes tomorrow, the low 90 scorers plus ties will battle it out Saturday for the 60-odd spots reserved for Sunday's showdown in the scramble for $4,000 top money.

Only two second basemen have ever won the National League batting championships. They are Rogers Hornsby and Larry Doyle.

Cubs Spill Dodgers, 4-3; Pirates, Braves Play 1-1 Tie

Hoak's Blow In Eleventh Beats Brooks

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Aug. 30 (AP)—Ex-Dodger Don Hoak caromed an 11th inning single off first base to drive in Hobie Landrith from second with the winning run today as the last-place Chicago Cubs edged the pennant-pressing Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-3.

The Dodgers dropped off the pace by two full games as the league-leading Braves and the Pittsburgh Pirates played to a 1-1 tie at Milwaukee. The game was called in the ninth because of rain and wet grounds.

Reliefer Don Bessent, who had a string of 28 scoreless innings ended, gave an intentional walk to Dee Fondy to get at Hoak after Landrith singled and was sacrificed to second.

Ball Hits Bag

Hoak slashed the ball down the first base line and it bounced off first base into fair territory with first sacker Gil Hodges and second baseman Jackie Robinson in hopeless pursuit while Landrith romped home.

The winner was Turk Lown, notching his eighth triumph against six defeats, in relief of lefty Jim Davis, who worked for the Cubs until he left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

The Dodgers, in a tension-filled chase after pacesetting Milwaukee, thus broke even with the lowly Cubs in a four-game set and wound up a 14-game tour with a 9-5 record.

Bessent had relieved Brook starter Roger Craig in the seventh with an inning-ending strikeout of Ernie Banks with the bases loaded after the Cubs had scored one in that frame to tie it at 3-3.

Two Hit Homers

The game was tied for the second time at 2-2 in the second with homers by Randy Jackson of the Dodgers and Pete Whisenant of the Cubs.

Bessent, who allowed five hits after Craig gave six, was charged with his third defeat against one victory. Lown was nicked for only three hits in his four-inning stint, the same total Davis yielded in seven.

The first two runs by each team were scored in almost identical fashion.

Jackson's No. 8 homer after two were out in the top of the second was matched by Whisenant's 11th circuit clout of the season in the last of the same frame to knot the score at 2-2.

Campanella Injured

The Dodgers lost their starting catcher when Roy Campanella had to leave the game in the eighth because he reinjured his right hand.

Ailing Ned Garver Will Join Tigers

DETROIT, Aug. 30 (AP) — Ailing righthander Ned Garver will join the Detroit Tigers pitching staff again tomorrow night against the Kansas City Athletics, the Tigers said today.

Garver has just completed his second 30-day disabled period of the season due to an injured elbow.

In 15 innings pitched this season for Detroit, Garver has an 0-2 record.

Hurler Heaves Bats, They're Live Ones

BALTIMORE, Aug. 30 (AP)—Baltimore Orioles Pitcher Mike Fornieles heaved two bats during last night's game with Cleveland but he wasn't fined. As a matter of fact, he was cheered.

The bats he heaved were live ones.

Colts' Pilot Dies • • • Don's Record 22-10

Dr. McLean Appointed • • • Clark Tossed Twice

By C. V. BURNS

JOE "HOOKER" PHILLIPS, who died the other day at the age of 72 at his home in Waynesburg, Pa., managed the Cumberland Colts during the first half of the Middle Atlantic League season in 1930.

Phillips managed the Fairmont Black Diamonds from 1926 through 1929 and took over the reins here at the start of the 1930 campaign. After the Dobbins finished the first half race with a 30-27 record things began going bad for the locals and after they had dropped 11 of their first 15 games in the second half of the split season schedule, "Hooker" Joe resigned and Johnny Byrnes, who had quit the club earlier in the season, returned as player-manager of the club. Under Byrnes, who hit safely in 16 consecutive games, the Colts won 25 and lost 21 and finished the season with an even .500—59 wins and 59 losses. Col. Nelson W. Russler was president of the club that season.

In 1930 Cumberland fans saw more ballplayers in Colt uniforms that any season in the local club's history. Don Thomas, Dave Black, Augis Davis, Bernie Connell, Bill Lange, Harry Grimm, Art Oeschler, Benny Artigiani, George Durning, Joe Conti, George Savino, Ted Bolgar, Marvin Duke, Frank Chase, Wally Bashore, Johnny Smittle, "Chip" Helmick,, Tommy Cloonan, "Stub" Rase were among the better known tossers who performed here.

Other managers in the loop that year were Wilbur Good, Johnstown; Bob Prysock, Wheeling; Earle "Greasy" Neale, Clarksburg; Del Gainer, Fairmont; Eddie Dyer, who later managed the St. Louis Cardinals was at Scottdale; Dave, Lamb, Charleroi, and Dan Pasqualla, Jeannette.

That's the year the Colts beat the Philadelphia Phillies in an exhibition game with "Stub" Rase gaining a 5-4 decision over "Sugar" Sweetland. The Phils' lineup included Denny Sothern, Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, "Chuck" Klein, Jack Sherlock, "Pinky" Whitney and Tommy Thevenow.

During the four years he piloted Fairmont, Phillips had the Black Diamonds in two M. A. playoffs. His 1926 team lost out to Johnstown, 4-2, but his 1928 team whipped Wheeling, four games to two, and then swept four in a row from Hanover, champions of the Blue Ridge League.

We believe Phillips' last managerial post was at Jeannette, Pa., in the 12-team M.A. loop of 1931, the year the Colts became a New York Yankee "farm" and the locals won the championship.

Phillips is credited with being the discoverer of Julius "Moose" Solters, the hard-hitting Fairmont outfielder, who starred with the Chicago White Sox. "Hooker" Joe saw Solters playing with a coal mining league team and gave him his first chance in organized ball. Solters is now blind, the result of being struck on the head by a pitched ball.

Oldtimers in the Georges Creek section recall that Phillips was an outfielder in his younger days and starred for Lonaconing about 40 years ago. Other members of that outstanding 'Coney team included "Shotgun" Keener, "Skinner" Flynn, Bill Kellough, Kenneth Knode, Johnny East and Frank Muster.

We always liked "Hooker" Joe Phillips and we agree with Bill Evans, of the Fairmont Times, who wrote:

"There are many in high places in baseball today who will feel a lump in the throat when they read of the passing of one they knew when they were on the way up. Hooker Joe was one who came from an old-fashioned mold. We shall not see his like again."

DONNIE WILKINSON, the Westernport lad, who has won 14 games and lost seven in his freshman, sophomore and junior years at Bruce High School, did exceptionally well in the Pen-Mar League this season by winning five games and losing none.

Wilkinson handed the pennant-winning Barrelville Bombers two setbacks, 18-5 and 7-6, while his other wins were scored at the expense of Zihlman, 6-2, Centerville 8-6 and Flintstone 13-2. Donnie and Bob Lookabaugh of the Bombers each posted 5-0 records for the 1956 campaign.

Counting his 3-3 record with the Midland American Legion junior nine in 1955, Wilkinson owns a three-year record of 22 victories and 10 losses. In his freshman year at Bruce he won four and lost two, posted a 5-3 record in 1955 and copped five and lost two this spring for the Bulldogs.

DR. JAMES EDWARD McLEAN has been appointed track physician for the 12-day race meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association which gets under way Wednesday, September 12.

A native of Ontario, Canada, Dr. McLean came to Cumberland 33 years ago. He has served in two wars, being attached to the British Navy in the First World War and to the United States Navy during the Second World War.

Dr. McLean was on the staff of both local hospitals for 28 years. At present he is physician for Allegany county, also at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America.

DURING the recent Hagerstown race meeting, Willie Clark had two narrow escapes from serious injury and a two-year-old filly named Hebe was the offender both times.

The first time Clark rode Hebe, the filly negotiated two fences after knocking Willie from her back. The second time out Hebe tried to jump an inside fence after leaving the starting gate. Clark was tossed again but escaped with only a shaking up.

Hebe, a daughter of Greek Ship, has been barred from further competition in Maryland.

JOHN J. LONG, Cumberland finance commissioner, got quite a chuckle when we reminded him of the story that came out of Trenton, N. J., many years ago about two of his football players tackling a horse on the practice field.

The story stated that Long's squad at Newman Prep School, Lakewood, N. J., was on the practice field when a horse wandered there and several of the players decided to tackle the animal.

One of the husky players was reported to have grabbed the horse by the forelegs while the other grabbed him by the hind legs and in "short order they had their equine opponent on the ground."

The story got wide circulation and was played up in many newspapers.

Long states he had nothing to do with the story, branding it as a publicity stunt by the school. He says he really was surprised when he read it in the newspapers.

Soo And Vasquez Fight At Capitol

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—Boxing's longest current winning streak goes on the line tomorrow night when undefeated Jimmy Soo of Philadelphia meets Baby Vasquez of Mexico City in a 10-round lightweight scrap at Capitol Arena.

Soo is rated a slight favorite on the strength of 33 consecutive victories—20 by knockouts. But Vasquez, the lightweight champ of Mexico, has an edge in experience in the caliber of his past opposition.

The fight will be carried over the usual Friday night TV and radio hookup (NBC, 9 p.m. EST).

World Series Plans Started In Milwaukee

Hopeful Move Will Not "Jinx" Braves

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30 (AP)—City fathers, acting as cautiously as a baserunner on an infield fly, today went ahead with plans for Milwaukee's first World Series so as not to be caught off base—if and when.

These plans include decorations for the city's main street and a welcome home celebration for the Braves if they should clinch the National League pennant on the road.

Uppermost in the minds of various officials, including Mayor Frank Zeidler, is the fear that they might "jinx" the Braves.

Zeidler, prefacing his remarks with the statement that he was afraid to pose the question for fear "to put a jinx on it," brought up the "if" problem at a meeting of the Milwaukee Civic Progress Commission yesterday.

The commission agreed that something ought to be done even though the pennant may not be decided until the last day of the season, Sept. 30.

The commission directed its planning commission to draw up a suitable symbol—preferably an Indian brave, swinging a bat, of course—for decorating purposes.

City Purchasing Agent Joseph W. Nicholson pointed out that the symbols wouldn't go to waste. If the Braves don't win, he said, the material could be stored "until next year."

The Parks and Recreation Committee authorized the Park Commission to add as many additional seats at County Stadium as possible if the Braves bag the pennant. The county operates the stadium, which has a capacity of 43,117.

Players Of Three Leagues Will See Bucs, Phils Play

Members of teams in the Hot Stove League, Dapper Dan League and Elks' Pony League planning to make the trip to Pittsburgh to see the Pirates and Phillies play Saturday afternoon are urged to be at City Hall Saturday at 7 a. m.

Managers of all teams are requested to be at City Hall at 6:45 a. m., Saturday.

It was announced last night that all those making the trip by bus must return by bus to avoid repitition of confusion that prevailed last year when some players returned by private cars after making the trip by bus.

Tri-Towns Scores 27th Win; Ridgeley Legion Victor, 8-4

The Tri-Towns' pennant-winning Merchants concluded their regular season schedule in the Mineral County Softball League with a 27-3 record by defeating Wiley Ford yesterday at Keyser by the score of 5-2.

Ridgeley American Legion defeated Patterson Creek at the latter place by the score of 8-4.

Eddie Powelson paced the victors at the plate with a double and two singles, Snyder homered and singled and Showers also collected two hits. Combs with a triple and single and Kenny with a double and single led the Patterson Creek hitters. Scores:

Friend, Buhl Duel Stopped By Downpour

Rain Comes In 9th, Milwaukee Picks Up Half Game On Brooks

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30 (AP)—The pace - setting Milwaukee Braves played to a 1-1 no-decision tie with Pittsburgh today but picked up half a game over runnerup Brooklyn in the sizzling National League race.

The Braves now lead the Dodgers by two full games and third place Cincinnati, idle today, by three. Brooklyn lost ground in an 11-inning 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Chicago Cubs.

Downpour Hits Park

The Pirates had one out and a runner on first base in the ninth when a torrential downpour hit County Stadium. The infield became soaked before the ground crew was able to haul the tarpaulin over the field, and after a 55 minute wait, the umpires decided it would be impossible to continue.

Since this was the Pirates' final visit to Milwaukee, it was expected that the game would be transferred to Pittsburgh and played when the Braves appear there Sept. 18.

Bob Friend and Bob Buhl both went all the way on the mound. Friend giving up six hits and Buhl four. Friend himself made half of the hits off Buhl.

Thompson Injured

The Braves' Bobby Thomson was hit on the head by a pitched ball in the second. His plastic helmet took the brunt of the shock and he was stunned but apparently not injured seriously. He left the game under his own power and was replaced by Wes Covington. Later Thomson was taken to the hospital for X-ray pictures, a move described as "precautionary."

Friend held the Braves hitless until the fourth inning but the first hit off him enabled the Braves to tie the score. Hank Aaron got on base when Dick Groat erred on his ground ball and Eddie Mathews walked. Joe Adcock singled, driving in Aaron for the tying tally.

Charles Town Plans Harness Race Track

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Aug. 30 (AP)—Construction will begin soon on the harness race track approved last May in the biggest election turnout in Jefferson County history.

Charles Town Raceway Inc. announced today it had completed negotiations for exercising a year-long option on 137½ acres of land for the new 2½ million dollar plant.

The company said construction of the half-mile track for night racing will begin as soon as contractors submit bids for grading and excavating.

Lew Hoad Of Australia Seeks Quadruple Crown

U. S. Singles Tests Set To Open Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Australia's Lew Hoad starts after the fourth jewel in tennis' "quadruple crown" tomorrow, fearing the U. S. championship will be the hardest of all to win.

Lewis Hoad

"This is a tougher tournament than Wimbledon," the 21-year-old Sydney youth said today after a workout at the West Side Tennis Club. "You meet stronger players in the earlier rounds. You're in more danger of getting knocked out early."

Hoad, winner of the Australian, French and Wimbledon titles, plays Barry Walraven of Oklahoma City in an opening day match.

The top-seeded favorite, has such players as Eddie Moylan, Gardnar Mulloy, Gerry Moss, Allen Morris and Sweden's Ulf Schmidt in his quarter of the draw—and he's not taking any of them lightly.

This is Hoad's fifth appearance in the U. S. National. He's been beaten twice in the semifinals and twice in the quarterfinals.

Althea Gibson, New York, vs Mrs. Nell Hopman, Australia; Ulf Schmidt, Sweden, vs Allen Morris, Atlanta; Hamilton Richardson, Westfield, N. J., vs Rodney Laver, Australia; Malcolm Anderson, Australia, vs Mike Green, Miami.

Don Fairfield, Walter Burkemo Lead At Detroit

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT, Aug. 30 (AP) — Young Don Fairfield and veteran Walter Burkemo banged into the lead in today's first round of the $20,000 Motor City Open Golf Tournament with three-under par 69s.

Fairfield, 27-year-old from Casey, Ill., played consistently over the par 72 course at Western Golf and Country Club, turning in rounds of 34 and 35 over the rain-drenched layout.

Burkemo blew hot and cold, his five birdies overshadowing two bogies as the one-time PGA titlist from Franklin, Mich., came in with rounds of 36 and 33. Burkemo collected four of his birdies on the back nine.

Eight other professionals were clustered just one stroke in back of the co-leaders. Taking 70s were Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, Jerry Kesselring of Toronto, Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.; Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Don January of Lampasas, Tex.; Ed Furgol of St. Louis; and Mike Souchak of Durham, N. C., winner of last week's St. Paul Open.

A field of 137 teed off in the first of four days of medal play over the 6,670-yard course.

After another 18 holes tomorrow, the low 90 scorers plus ties will battle it out Saturday for the 60-odd spots reserved for Sunday's showdown in the scramble for $4,000 top money.

Only two second basemen have ever won the National League batting championships. They are Rogers Hornsby and Larry Doyle.

Northwestern Will Not Play Fort Hill Here September 8

Wildcats Say Sentinels Not On 1956 Card

Principal Speicher Says School Planned To Play Here In '57

Fort Hill High School will not open its football season here on the night of Saturday, September 8, unless it is able to find a substitute to take the place of Northwestern High School of Prince Georges county, it was learned last night.

The Sentinels' 1956 schedule shows Northwestern as the first game at home, a week from tomorrow, but John Speicher, principal of Northwestern High School, informed the Cumberland News last night that Northwestern is not on Fort Hill's schedule this season.

Terms It Misunderstanding

Speicher stated there apparently had been "some misunderstanding over dates between the coaches because the Prince Georges countians are not scheduled to play Fort Hill until 1957. The schools met for the first time last year and the Sentinels won the game by the score of 12-6. It was the second game of the season on Fort Hill's 1955 schedule.

The Northwestern principal stated that his school's team opens a 10-game schedule on September 14 with John Carroll High School Washington, D. C., parochial school.

Speicher stated that Sept. 8 was "too early a starting date anyway and if Northwestern had scheduled Fort Hill the players would not have had enough practice." Northwestern, he added, starts practice later than August 15, the starting date prescribed for Maryland high schools. Fort Hill and Northwestern met here last year on September 16.

Speicher said that he "deeply regretted" that a misunderstanding on dates has left Fort Hill without an opponent September 8. "We have never broken a contract and we are planning to go through with the Fort Hill game in 1957," he concluded.

Heisey Makes Appeal

Meanwhile, Victor D. Heisey, principal at Fort Hill High School, when informed by Northwestern that they were not planning to play here this year, asked that a special concession be granted so that the Prince Georgians could play on September 8. The fact that Northwestern already has the limit of 10 games booked would make such a concession impossible, according to Speicher.

LaSalle High School and Bedford High School will officially open the local football season on Friday, September 7. Fort Hill will remain idle September 8 unless an opponent can be secured in the meantime. The Sentinels are listed to play LaSalle on Friday, September 14.

Five ACC Football Teams To Have New Head Coaches

Mont, Giese, Amen, Martin And Tatum Take Over Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is picture-taking day at most Atlantic Coast Conference college football practice fields. Coaches and about 500 players on the eight squad watched the birdie as cameramen snapped away.

Tomorrow morning the work will begin in earnest as the pre-season practice sessions get under way.

South Carolina, which opens at home Sept. 15 against Wofford, a state rival, has only two weeks in which to get ready for its opener. The other schools will open Sept. 22.

A busy off-season shuffling of head coaching assignments leaves Frank Howard, starting his 17th year as head man at Clemson, with a record of more time on the same job than the seven other ACC head coaches combined.

Of the others, only Bill Murray, starting his sixth season at Duke, and Earle Edwards, in his third at North Carolina State, are back on the job.

Jim Tatum has left Maryland to return to North Carolina, his alma mater where he had one terme as head man 14 years ago. He replaces George Barclay, who held the Chapel Hill job three years.

In Tatum's Maryland spot is Tommy Mont, Jim's assistant at Maryland. Another former Tatum aide, Warren Giese, has taken the head post at South Carolina where Rex Enright has left coaching to give all his time to the duties of athletic director. Rex had coached the Gamecocks for 15 of the previous 18 years, taking three years out for wartime naval duty.

Two former assistants at the service academies have moved into the ACC family in head posts. Paul Amen, one-time West Point end and backfield coach, is at Wake Forest, succeeding Tom Rogers who had the job five years.

Maryland and Duke, unbeaten in ACC play since the conference was formed three years ago, are again favored to battle it out for the top spot, with Clemson a possibility. The Tigers have the biggest squad, 75, and tie Maryland for the most plentiful supply of lettermen, 24. They get their big chance to put in a claim for the ACC Orange Bowl spot Jan. 1 when they play at Maryland Nov. 10.

Four Other Leagues Have Playoff Tilts

Rain knocked out the Hot Stove Baseball League playoff game between the Times-News and B'nai B'rith yesterday at Penn Avenue Field and the teams will try again today at 6 p.m.

B'nai B'rith, winner of the series opener on Wednesday by the score of 10-7, was leading 1-0 yesterday when rain washed out the game with 1½ innings completed.

The Red Sox-Athletics playoff game also was postponed yesterday and the Dapper Dan Leaguers are rescheduled for today at 8 p.m. at Penn Avenue Field. The Sox won the opener of the best-of-three series Wednesday by the score of 2-0.

Today at Stitcher Field, the Loyal Order of Moose and the Fraternal Order of Eagles hope to be able to finish their series which is now knotted at one win each. Rain knocked out the Rocking Chair League series finale yesterday. Today's game is billed for 6 o'clock.

East Side Field will be the scene of the Men's Rec Softball League playoff game today between Lytle's Sign Shop and the Tri-State Cleaners. Game time is 6 p.m.

Melody Manor and the Potomac Valley Old Germans will resume their County Softball League series today at 6 p.m. at Barrelville. The Old G's won the opener and the second game ended in a tie.

Soviet Star Charged With Shoplifting

Woman Discus Ace Pilfered Five Hats

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON, Aug. 30 (AP) — Russian athlete Nina Ponomareva, the world's top woman discus thrower, vanished today—all 168 pounds of her. So a London magistrate issued a warrant for her arrest on shoplifting charges.

The affair looked like it was blowing up into a minor international incident. The Soviet Embassy sent a representative to the British Foreign Office to discuss the case.

But a foreign office spokesman said: "We have no statement to make on the subject as the matter is still sub judice (before the courts)."

Nina, 27-year-old school teacher and favorite for the Olympic title in her event at Melbourne in November, was arrested yesterday in a low-price west end store on charges of stealing five hats valued at $4.60. She was bailed into the care of the Soviet Embassy, but she failed to appear in court today and no one would say where she was.

Name On Program

Nina is slated to take her place in the discus circle at the White City Stadium at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in a British-Soviet track and field meet. Her name is on the program, but many observers doubt if she will appear.

A detective testified: "Every inquiry has been made this morning in an effort to trace this lady. Inquiries have been made at the consulate and the embassy of the official in whose care she was placed. But she can't be seen. We have sent other messages to the hotel, but we have no reply as yet."

Led Discus Throwers

Pirates' Pilot Is Fined $100

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30 (AP) — Bobby Bragan, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was fined $100 today by Warren Giles, National League president, as the result of incidents in last night's game with the Milwaukee Braves here.

In his telegram Giles said the fine was imposed "for your general conduct and conduct of your players in constantly stepping out of the batters' box and employing tactics which obviously were designed to delay the game with threatening weather."

West Virginia Releases Dates For Bow Hunting

Season To Open Columbus Day

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 30 (AP)—Bow-and-arrow hunters are looking toward Columbus Day this year with special interest. That date, Oct. 12, marks the start of West Virginia's annual bow hunting season.

Bow hunters have from Oct. 12 through Dec. 8 for deer hunting —the longest deer season for bowmen in the east.

In addition bow hunters may seek any legal game during gunning seasons: squirrels, turkeys and grouse from Oct. 12 through Jan. 5; cottontail and showshoe rabbits from Nov. 12 through Jan. 5; water fowl from Nov. 5 through Jan. 13, and foxes statewide throughout the year.

This will be the first general bow hunting season in state parks, he pointed out. Five state parks are open to them — Watoga, Cacapon, Lost River, Holly River and Tomlinson Run.

Other areas the department recommends for deer hunting are Sleepy Creek, Camp Creek, Kumbrabow and Seneca state forests, and Monongahela and George Washington national forests.

Bowers said any deer is legal game during the bow season, except during the gunning season for deer, from Dec. 3 through Dec. 8, when gunning regulations also apply to bowmen.

Deer hunting is legal in all counties except Cabell, Wayne, Mongo, Lincoln, Fayette, Summers, Boone, Brooke, Ohio, and parts of Greenbrier, Kanawha, Monroe, Putnam and Raleigh counties.

Sets New Mark

ONE OF the stars of the women's A.A.U. track and field meet in Philadelphia, Pamela Kurrell of San Francisco cracked the American record for the discus with a heave of 140 feet 11 inches and also copped the baseball throw. Old discus record on books was 137 feet. (International)

Baker's Time Best In Trials For 500 Race

Buck Runs 119.659 At Darlington, N. C.

DARLINGTON, N. C., Aug. 30 (AP)—Buck Baker, the pre-race favorite from Charlotte, N. C., lived up to his billing today and smashed the track record for late model cars in qualifying for Monday's 500-mile stock car race at the Darlington International Raceway.

Baker, the mustachioed veteran of more than 10 years on the stock car circuit, drove his cream-colored Chrysler 300 to a new qualifying mark of 119.659 miles an hour, breaking a new mark set only 24 hours before.

Baker thus won position No. 3 in the second row for the $45,000 "world series" of stock car racing. Speedy Thompson of Monroe, N.C., Baker's team mate, won the pole position yesterday with a qualifying mark of 118.683 m.p.h.

Four others qualified with Baker for positions in the second, third and fourth rows over the banked, paved mile and three-eighths oval. Five more drivers will qualify tomorrow, with the remainder of the starting field of 75 to come from a mad scramble of qualifying on Saturday.

Frank Mundy of Atlanta, Ga., became the third fastest qualifier in the two days of speed runs—four laps or 5½ miles—when he pushed his dodge to an average of 118.117 m.p.h.

Another qualifier was Ralph Moody of Dania, Fla., whose mark was 116.197 in a Ford. Joe Eubanks of Spartanburg, S.C., who failed to qualify yesterday, turned in a 116.040 mark today to win an up-front berth in a Ford. Bill Widenhouse of Midland, N.C., won the other berth today with a mark of 115.040, also in a Ford.

Northwestern Will Not Play Fort Hill Here September 8

Principal Speicher Says School Planned To Play Here In '57

Fort Hill High School will not open its football season here on the night of Saturday, September 8, unless it is able to find a substitute to take the place of Northwestern High School of Prince Georges county, it was learned last night.

The Sentinels' 1956 schedule shows Northwestern as the first game at home, a week from tomorrow, but John Speicher, principal of Northwestern High School, informed the Cumberland News last night that Northwestern is not on Fort Hill's schedule this season.

LaSalle High School and Bedford High School will officially open the local football season on Friday, September 7. Fort Hill will remain idle September 8 unless an opponent can be secured in the meantime. The Sentinels are listed to play LaSalle on Friday, September 14.

The affair looked like it was blowing up into a minor international incident. The Soviet Embassy sent a representative to the British Foreign Office to discuss the case.

But a foreign office spokesman said: "We have no statement to make on the subject as the matter is still sub judice (before the courts)."

Nina, 27-year-old school teacher and favorite for the Olympic title in her event at Melbourne in November, was arrested yesterday in a low-price west end store on charges of stealing five hats valued at $4.60. She was bailed into the care of the Soviet Embassy, but she failed to appear in court today and no one would say where she was.

Name On Program

Nina is slated to take her place in the discus circle at the White City Stadium at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in a British-Soviet track and field meet. Her name is on the program, but many observers doubt if she will appear.

No one connected with the meet was able to throw any light on Nina—except the Russians.

In Marlborough Street Magistrate's Court her name was called three times. No one answered.

A detective testified: "Every inquiry has been made this morning in an effort to trace this lady. Inquiries have been made at the consulate and the embassy of the official in whose care she was placed. But she can't be seen. We have sent other messages to the hotel, but we have no reply as yet."

Led Discus Throwers

Nina led the world's women discus throwers last year with a heave of 185 feet 9 1-8 inches, close to the world record of 187 feet 1½ inches held by another Russian, the fabled Nina Dumbadze, now past her peak.

Pirates' Pilot Is Fined $100

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30 (AP) — Bobby Bragan, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was fined $100 today by Warren Giles, National League president, as the result of incidents in last night's game with the Milwaukee Braves here.

In his telegram Giles said the fine was imposed "for your general conduct and conduct of your players in constantly stepping out of the batters' box and employing tactics which obviously were designed to delay the game with threatening weather."

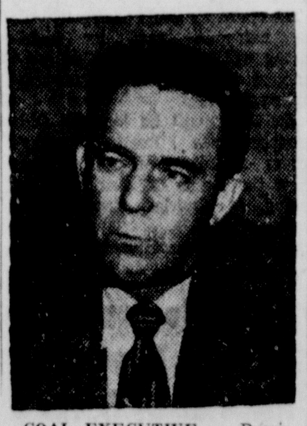
Maryland For PEPCO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Potomac Electric Power Co. announced today it would carry out an option to buy a 700-acre tract near Dickerson, Md.

PEPCO originally announced it would build a 100 million dollar generating plant on the Potomac River in Loudoun County, Va. It later switched its project to the Montgomery County, Md., location.



COAL EXECUTIVE — President A. R. Matthews of Pocahontas Fuel Co. is scheduled to become president of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. if and when a merger of that firm and Pocahontas Fuel becomes effective. A native of Nashville, Tenn., Matthews resigned as president of Clinchfield Coal Corp. at Dante, Va., in November of 1951 to become head of Pocahontas Fuel. He was general superintendent of Consolidation Coal Co. at Fairmont from 1930 until 1933. (AP Photo)

West Virginia Releases Dates For Bow Hunting

Season To Open Columbus Day

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 30 (AP)—Bow-and-arrow hunters are looking toward Columbus Day this year with special interest. That date, Oct. 12, marks the start of West Virginia's annual bow hunting season.

More bow hunters than ever are expected this year. The State Conservation Department considers the activity one of the fastest growing outdoor sports in West Virginia.

Bow hunters have from Oct. 12 through Dec. 8 for deer hunting —the longest deer season for bowmen in the east.

In addition bow hunters may seek any legal game during gunning seasons: squirrels, turkeys and grouse from Oct. 12 through Jan. 5; cottontail and showshoe rabbits from Nov. 12 through Jan. 5; water fowl from Nov. 5 through Jan. 13, and foxes statewide throughout the year.

"But no game animal may be hunted with anything except a boardhead arrow point," Bowers reminded bow hunters.

This will be the first general bow hunting season in state parks, he pointed out. Five state parks are open to them — Watoga, Cacapon, Lost River, Holly River and Tomlinson Run.

Other areas the department recommends for deer hunting are Sleepy Creek, Camp Creek, Kumbrabow and Seneca state forests, and Monongahela and George Washington national forests.

Bowers said any deer is legal game during the bow season, except during the gunning season for deer, from Dec. 3 through Dec. 8, when gunning regulations also apply to bowmen.

Deer hunting is legal in all counties except Cabell, Wayne, Mongo, Lincoln, Fayette, Summers, Boone, Brooke, Ohio, and parts of Greenbrier, Kanawha, Monroe, Putnam and Raleigh counties.

Sets New Mark

ONE OF the stars of the women's A.A.U. track and field meet in Philadelphia, Pamela Kurrell of San Francisco cracked the American record for the discus with a heave of 140 feet 11 inches and also copped the baseball throw. Old discus record on books was 137 feet. (International)

Baker's Time Best In Trials For 500 Race

Buck Runs 119.659 At Darlington, N. C.

DARLINGTON, N. C., Aug. 30 (AP)—Buck Baker, the pre-race favorite from Charlotte, N. C., lived up to his billing today and smashed the track record for late model cars in qualifying for Monday's 500-mile stock car race at the Darlington International Raceway.

Baker, the mustachioed veteran of more than 10 years on the stock car circuit, drove his cream-colored Chrysler 300 to a new qualifying mark of 119.659 miles an hour, breaking a new mark set only 24 hours before.

Baker thus won position No. 3 in the second row for the $45,000 "world series" of stock car racing. Speedy Thompson of Monroe, N.C., Baker's team mate, won the pole position yesterday with a qualifying mark of 118.683 m.p.h.

Four others qualified with Baker for positions in the second, third and fourth rows over the banked, paved mile and three-eighths oval. Five more drivers will qualify tomorrow, with the remainder of the starting field of 75 to come from a mad scramble of qualifying on Saturday.

Frank Mundy of Atlanta, Ga., became the third fastest qualifier in the two days of speed runs—four laps or 5½ miles—when he pushed his dodge to an average of 118.117 m.p.h.

Another qualifier was Ralph Moody of Dania, Fla., whose mark was 116.197 in a Ford. Joe Eubanks of Spartanburg, S.C., who failed to qualify yesterday, turned in a 116.040 mark today to win an upfront berth in a Ford. Bill Widenhouse of Midland, N.C., won the other berth today with a mark of 115.040, also in a Ford.

Pro Flavor To Staff

NOTRE DAME, Ind. (AP)—Outside of head coach Terry Brennan, Notre Dame's football staff has a definite professional background. New backfield coach Jim Finks quarterbacked for the Pittsburgh Steelers; new end coach Jack Zilly is a former end for the Los Angeles Rams; line coach Bill Fischer was with the Chicago Cardinals; line coach Bill Walsh was with the Steelers; backfield coach Bernie Witucki was an assistant coach with the defunct Chicago Rockets and freshman mentor Jack Landry played for the Chicago Cardinals.

French Rider Boots Mighty Mo To Victory

Foot Rides Victor In Saratoga 'Chase

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 30—(AP)—Montpelier's Mighty Mo, the outsider in the six horse field for the 49th running of the Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap, scored a clever two and three quarter length victory today over the testing two and a half mile course studded by sixteen obstacles. Newtondale Stable's Carthage was second to the seven-year-old winner, who returned $22.40, $7.40 and $4.20 across the board. The choice of the crowd of 11,455, Mrs. Ogden Phipp's Ancestor, finished next to last in the small field vying for the $11,400 prize.

Albert Foot, a native of Chantilly, France, was astride Mighty Mo as the gelded son of Battleship scored in his first 1956 outing. Mighty Mo, named for the U. S. S. Missouri, had not been seen in competition since last October and had never won a stakes event for his owner, Mrs. Marion DuPont Scott of Wilmington, Del. He carried 138 pounds today as he completed the soft infield course in 5:16 2/5, sixteen full seconds over the course mark.

Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's Basilia was third to the longshot winner and Ring O' Roses finished fourth, a head farther back. There was then a gap of eight lengths before Ancestor crossed the line and then twelve more lengths counted off the early-leader, Bavaria, who finished last.

Mighty Mo picked up a purse of $7,775 for his Delaware owner to duplicate Shipboard's win for the same stable in the race last year. In addition Montpelier earned the gold cup which goes with the race. Stephen C. Clark, vice-president of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association presented the trophy to Mighty Mo's trainer, Ray Woolfe after the race. Mr. Clark was assisted in the presentation by Eugene Finegan who had ridden Herculoid to win the first running of the race in 1906.

Slo-Mo-Shun Is Demolished, Pilot Injured

Speedboat Wrecks On Detroit River

DETROIT, Aug. 30—(INS)—The world's fastest speedboat, Slo-Mo-Shun IV, was wrecked today and its' driver was seriously injured, after a crack-up on the Detroit river during a qualifying run.

Saturday's Gold Cup Race favorite was roaring along at 140 miles an hour when, as pilot Joseph Taggart of Canton, Ohio, described:

"We hit a wave, flew into the air about three times and went under."

Physicians said he would recover despite multiple fractures and severe bruises. Most of his clothing was ripped from his body when he struck the water.

Called "The Old Lady of Racing," Slo-Mo-Shun was one of the top choices in the Gold Cup finals, along with another Seattle craft, Shanty I.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — High school basketball is a red-hot sport for girls at two tiny Arkansas schools. If it weren't, there wouldn't be a team.

Village, Ark. showed up for a state tournament with 10 of the 15 girls in the school suited out to play. Glendale, Ark. appeared for the same tournament with 10 of the school's 14 girls ready to play.

WRECKAGE OF SLO-MO-SHUN IV—This is what is left of the Gold Cup entry Slo-Mo-Shun IV after it hit the wake of another boat in a test run yesterday on the Detroit river, in preparation for the Gold Cup trophy race to be held at Detroit Saturday. Its nationally known driver, 47-year-old Joe Taggart was seriously injured. At the time of the crash Taggart was doing 140 miles per hour. (AP Photofax)

French Rider Boots Mighty Mo To Victory

Foot Rides Victor In Saratoga 'Chase

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 30—(AP)—Montpelier's Mighty Mo, the outsider in the six horse field for the 49th running of the Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap, scored a clever two and three quarter length victory today over the testing two and a half mile course studded by sixteen obstacles. Newtondale Stable's Carthage was second to the seven-year-old winner, who returned $22.40, $7.40 and $4.20 across the board. The choice of the crowd of 11,455, Mrs. Ogden Phipp's Ancestor, finished next to last in the small field vying for the $11,400 prize.

Albert Foot, a native of Chantilly, France, was astride Mighty Mo as the gelded son of Battleship scored in his first 1956 outing. Mighty Mo, named for the U. S. S. Missouri, had not been seen in competition since last October and had never won a stakes event for his owner, Mrs. Marion DuPont Scott of Wilmington, Del. He carried 138 pounds today as he completed the soft infield course in 5:16 2/5, sixteen full seconds over the course mark.

Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's Basilia was third to the longshot winner and Ring O' Roses finished fourth, a head farther back. There was then a gap of eight lengths before Ancestor crossed the line and then twelve more lengths counted off the early-leader, Bavaria, who finished last.

Mighty Mo picked up a purse of $7,775 for his Delaware owner to duplicate Shipboard's win for the same stable in the race last year. In addition Montpelier earned the gold cup which goes with the race. Stephen C. Clark, vice-president of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association presented the trophy to Mighty Mo's trainer, Ray Woolfe after the race. Mr. Clark was assisted in the presentation by Eugene Finegan who had ridden Herculoid to win the first running of the race in 1906.

Slo-Mo-Shun Is Demolished, Pilot Injured

Speedboat Wrecks On Detroit River

DETROIT, Aug. 30—(INS)—The world's fastest speedboat, Slo-Mo-Shun IV, was wrecked today and its' driver was seriously injured, after a crack-up on the Detroit river during a qualifying run.

Saturday's Gold Cup Race favorite was roaring along at 140 miles an hour when, as pilot Joseph Taggart of Canton, Ohio, described:

"We hit a wave, flew into the air about three times and went under."

The 50-year-old nationally-known driver was tossed about 200 feet and was unconscious when rescued from the Detroit river.

Physicians said he would recover despite multiple fractures and severe bruises. Most of his clothing was ripped from his body when he struck the water.

The famous powerboat, whose 178-mph straightaway record is a world mark, was demolished. Owner Stanley S. Sayres of Seattle, estimated the loss at $40,000.

Called "The Old Lady of Racing," Slo-Mo-Shun was one of the top choices in the Gold Cup finals, along with another Seattle craft, Shanty I.

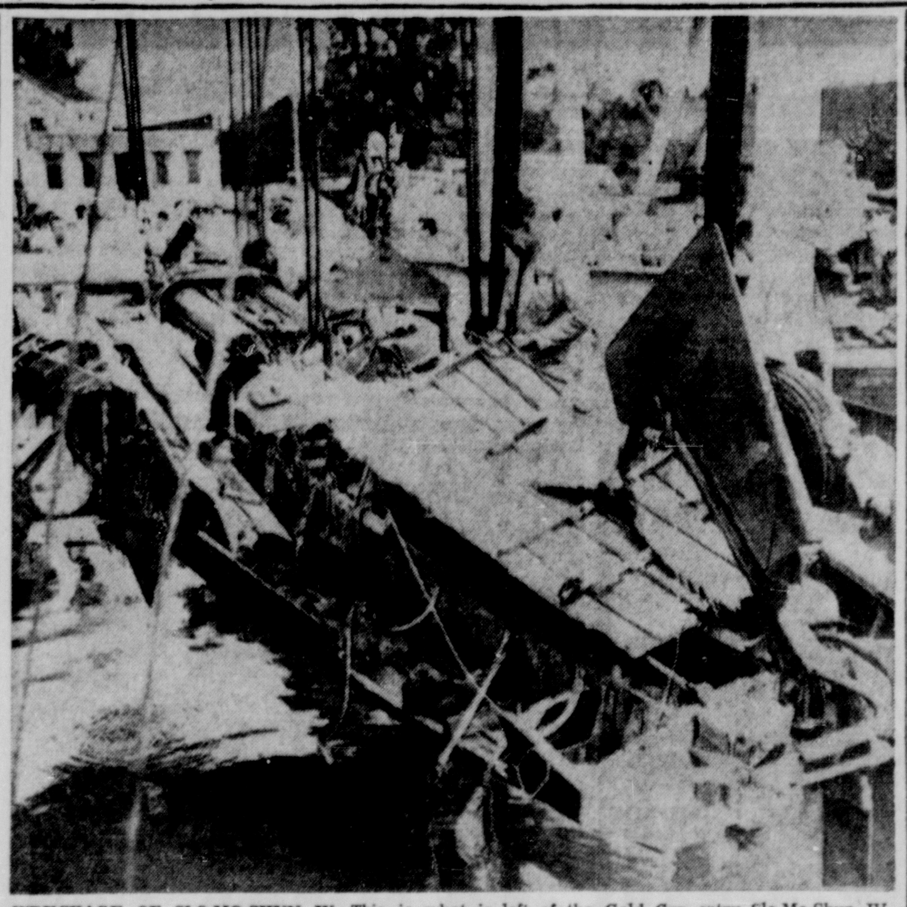
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — High school basketball is a red-hot sport for girls at two tiny Arkansas schools. If it weren't, there wouldn't be a team.

Village, Ark. showed up for a state tournament with 10 of the 15 girls in the school suited out to play. Glendale, Ark, appeared for the same tournament with 10 of the school's 14 girls ready to play.



WRECKAGE OF SLO-MO-SHUN IV—This is what is left of the Gold Cup entry Slo-Mo-Shun IV after it hit the wake of another boat in a test run yesterday on the Detroit river, in preparation for the Gold Cup trophy race to be held at Detroit Saturday. Its nationally known driver, 47-year-old Joe Taggart was seriously injured. At the time of the crash Taggart was doing 140 miles per hour. (AP Photofax)

Labor Day Holidays Will Be Marked By Fun — And Automobile Accidents

The summer season is generally climaxed over the Labor Day weekend with parties, picnics, homecomings, family reunions and other gatherings.

Locally the streets of Cumberland have played "host" for some 21 accidents during the past five years over the long holiday.

Records compiled by Mrs. Viviar Turley, clerk of the Traffic Department of the Cumberland Police Department, show property damage has amounted to $4,857 in the 21 accidents, and some 11 persons have been hospitalized because of the mishaps.

The year 1951 was the best during the past five years as far as safety within the city limits is concerned. During this holiday only two accidents were reported, no injuries were recorded and property damage amounted to only $492.

The worst year was in 1953 when seven persons were injured in four accidents and property damage ran to the $1,200 mark.

Last year set a record for the total number of accidents in Cumberland with seven mishaps reported to local police. Although the total of accidents was the highest in the past year, only one person was hospitalized, and damage netted only $895.

The year 1951 was a quiet one as far as injuries were concerned, but damage hit the $1,025 mark in five accidents recorded. The years '51 and '52 were the only "free years" of injuries.

Damage Suit Filed In Court

A Cumberland couple filed suit in Circuit Court yesterday for damages totaling $35,000 as the result of injuries suffered by the wife in an unusual accident May 8, 1955 on North Centre Street.

Mrs. Mary E. Danner is asking for $25,000 damages for her injuries while her husband, Robert E. Danner, is seeking $10,000 for the loss of her services as a result of the mishap.

Mrs. Danner was walking along North Centre Street when a car operated by Melvin E. Holliday careened across the sidewalk and knocked her against a plate glass display window of the Curl Camera Shop.

The declaration in the case, docketed by Harold E. Naughton, attorney for the Danners, states that the woman suffered numerous lacerations about the head, face, arms and body from the shower of plate glass. It was also claimed she suffered from shock and was hospitalized for some time.

In the split second that it takes the average driver to move his foot from accelerator to brake a car travelling 60 miles an hour will have moved 66 feet. It will travel another 94 before stopping—but only if it has perfect brakes.

Labor Day Holidays Will Be Marked By Fun — And Automobile Accidents

The summer season is generally climaxed over the Labor Day weekend with parties, picnics, homecomings, family reunions and other gatherings.

But all the fun of these gatherings is dampened for some families throughout the nation with highway accidents.

Records compiled by Mrs. Vivian Turley, clerk of the Traffic Department of the Cumberland Police Department, show property damage has amounted to $4,857 in the 21 accidents, and some 11 persons have been hospitalized because of the mishaps.

The year 1951 was the best during the past five years as far as safety within the city limits is concerned. During this holiday only two accidents were reported. No injuries were recorded and property damage amounted to only $492.

The worst year was in 1953 when seven persons were injured in four accidents and property damage ran to the $1,200 mark.

Last year set a record for the total number of accidents in Cumberland with seven mishaps reported to local police. Although the total of accidents was the highest in the past year, only one person was hospitalized, and damage netted only $895.

In 1954 the city suffered another "bad holiday" with four accidents, three persons being hospitalized and damage running into the $1,245 figure.

The year 1951 was a quiet one as far as injuries were concerned, but damage hit the $1,025 mark in five accidents recorded. The years '51 and '52 were the only "free years" of injuries.

Damage Suit Filed In Court

A Cumberland couple filed suit in Circuit Court yesterday for damages totaling $35,000 as the result of injuries suffered by the wife in an unusual accident May 8, 1955 on North Centre Street.

Mrs. Mary E. Danner is asking for $25,000 damages for her injuries while her husband, Robert E. Danner, is seeking $10,000 for the loss of her services as a result of the mishap.

Mrs. Danner was walking along North Centre Street when a car operated by Melvin E. Holliday careened across the sidewalk and knocked her against a plate glass display window of the Curl Camera Shop.

The declaration in the case, docketed by Harold E. Naughton, attorney for the Danners, states that the woman suffered numerous lacerations about the head, face, arms and body from the shower of plate glass. It was also claimed she suffered from shock and was hospitalized for some time.

In the split second that it takes the average driver to move his foot from accelerator to brake a car travelling 60 miles an hour will have moved 66 feet. It will travel another 94 before stopping—but only if it has perfect brakes.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of spades.

When a player faces the necessity for making a guess, the evil moment should be put off as long as possible. When a missing queen or a missing jack can be finessed in either direction it is good policy not to commit one's self too soon. If there is some other work to be done, set right to it and in the meantime the opposition might help you out of your dilemma by leading the suit that has presented you with the problem.

The declarer in today's hand was up against the question of locating the jack of trumps and succeeded in obviating the problem by a simple little ruse. The final contract of four hearts was slightly on the optimistic side, but the hand is admittedly difficult to bid. The two diamond response is normal enough and the rebid to two hearts is routine. North felt that he had just a little too much to give up and commit the hand to a part score so he decided to make one more move. Inasmuch as the hearts had been rebid he decided his holding was adequate trump support and offered a distinctly questionable raise to three hearts. South had ample reason for going on to game.

The king of spades was opened and taken with the ace. The success of the ambitious contract depended upon the ability to pick up the jack of trumps. As can be seen the finesse can be taken in either direction. But rather than commit himself at once, declarer hit upon a simple method of getting the opponents to lead trumps for him. He promptly returned the jack of spades in order to give the impression that he desired to use the dummy's hearts for ruffing spades. There was no way for West to know that his partner had five spades and from the bidding it did not appear that the jack of hearts would be a very vital card, inasmuch as the trump suit had been rebid by declarer. West, therefore, fell into the trap and returned a heart. From this point on it was clear sailing for the declarer.

In Memoriam

In memory of our beloved mother, Bertha A. Kreitzburg who passed away August 31, 1954.

There's an open gate at the end of the road,
Through which each must go alone.
And there in a light, we cannot see
Our Father claims His own
Beyond the gate, our loved ones
Find happiness and rest
And there is comfort in the thought,
That a loving God knows best.

Sadly missed by her daughter and family

In Memoriam

In memory of our beloved mother, Bertha A. Kreitzburg who passed away August 31, 1954.

There's an open gate at the end of the road,
Through which each must go alone.
And there in a light, we cannot see
Our Father claims His own
Beyond the gate, our loved ones
Find happiness and rest
And there is comfort in the thought,
That a loving God knows best.

Sadly missed by her

$100,000 Sought In Damage Suits Filed In Court

Wheeling Woman Injured In Crash

Two separate declarations totaling $100,000 were filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday by a Wheeling, W. Va., couple seeking damages in an auto accident July 11, 1955 in LaVale, in which one of the plaintiffs was hospitalized for nearly a month.

In a $75,000 declaration, Mrs. Irene Samuel, 432 Richland Avenue, Wheeling, through her attorney, Thomas N. Berry, is suing Roy V. Sleeman, 273 East Main Street, Frostburg, driver of a station wagon which struck her while she was walking along U. S. Route 40 in LaVale.

Husband Also Sues

Her husband, Arthur Samuel, is suing Sleeman for $25,000.

According to the declarations the defendant was operating his station wagon west on Route 40 in LaVale when it went across the center line of the highway while traveling at a high rate of speed, and struck Mrs. Samuel from the rear, knocking her to the ground.

The plaintiff was walking toward the Grand Motel in LaVale where she was staying.

Severely Injured

She suffered severe painful and permanent injuries, was confined to Sacred Heart Hospital for 28 days, and after discharge from the local institution required additional medical and dental care, according to the declarations.

She also suffered the loss of her ability to obtain and hold employment as a qualified school teacher, according to the declaration.

Among the expenses claimed by Samuel were heavy loss of his earnings due to loss of time required by his attention to his hospitalized wife, expense of care, rooming and boarding of their two children, hospital and medical expenses, as well as loss of services of his wife.

48 Boy Scouts Complete Junior Training Program

Some 48 Boy Scouts of Potomac Council completed the annual three-day junior leader training program held this week at Camp Potomac near Oldtown.

They were presented certificates Wednesday evening at the conclusion of final events of the Camp.

Wilbert R. Sifton, council field executive, was in charge of the program. He was assisted by Harrison Lewis, Walter Riddleberger and Leonard Johnson.

The junior leaders were divided into two troops of three patrols each. Elections were held in each troop to pick the officers. Joseph Grahme Jr. and John Fatkin were elected scoutmasters of the troops.

The course was held to teach the boys the basic scouting skills so they may better assist the scoutmasters with their duties.

While at the camp the youths lived in tents and did all of their own cooking. All activities were conducted in the patrol method of operation.

This was the last summer scouting event which will be held this year. All equipment is being stored and Camp Potomac is being cleaned up.

Scouts attending the course were from the following troops: Tropp 55, Ellerslie; Troop 25, Barton IOOF; Troop 26, Lonaconing Rotary; Troop 30, Piedmont Rotary; Troop 1, St. Luke's Church; Troop 63, Petersburg, W. Va., Kiwanis Club; Troop 31, Oakland Lions Club; Troop 23, John Humbird PTA; Troop 9, Cresaptown Methodist.

Trop 2, B. and O. YMCA; Troop 45, Friendsville Methodist Church; Troop 8, St. Mary's Church; Troop 17, Kelly Springfield Tire Company; Troop 35, Franklin Mission; Troop 54, Walden Methodist Church; Troop 10, LaVale Methodist Church and Troop 37, Keyser Presbyterian Church.

War Orphans Eligible For GI Education

The importance of the War Orphans Education Law is being noted by officials of the Veterans Administration as many young people orphaned as a result of World War II or the Korean conflict are reaching the age where they can become eligible for benefits under this little-publicized phase of veterans' benefits.

Under the War Orphans Education Law, B. J. Flack, local contact representative for the Veterans Administration, noted, persons eligible are war orphans between the ages of 18 and 23.

Any person whose veteran-parent died of injuries or disease resulting from military service during World War I, World War II or the Korean conflict may apply for these educational benefits.

It is estimated that there are probably 2,500 such young people in Maryland. Many, upon completion of high school, are not aware that they can make application for educational benefits under this law.

The benefits are similar to those granted any veteran under the educational phases of the GI Bill, except that allotment checks are usually sent to the surviving parent or guardian, rather than the students themselves.

Also, Flack points out, the parent or guardian must help work out, with the help of VA counselors, an educational plan showing the student's goal, his program of education, what school or schools he plans to attend, and the estimated cost.

Only after a complete plan is submitted may the VA give its final approval for the training.

Full details of this War Orphans Educational program may be obtained at any contact office of the Veterans Administration. The local office of the VA is located on the third floor of the Cumberland Post Office Building.

ASC Is Seeking Agreements For Wheat Allotment

Some 180 wheat growers of Allegany County have been forwarded letters by James H. Weimer, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, in reference to the wheat allotment of the Acreage Reserve Program.

Interested farmers may sign an agreement during the period, August 30 through September 21. The program applies to wheat planted for harvest in 1957.

A farmer may enter the part of his wheat allotment he does not plant, provided it is at least three acres or his allotment, whichever is smallest and not more than 50 acres or half of his allotment, whichever is larger.

Any acreage of pasture, hay or cropland on a farm may be designated for the acreage reserve, provided it has been planted to wheat during one or more of the years 1952 through 1956 inclusive.

The cash payment also is explained in the letter, which reminds the wheat growers the agreement must be signed in the ASC office, 37 Washington Street, no later than 4:30 p. m. September 21.

Included in the letter is a pamphlet entitled "Soil Bank Highlights" which is of interest to county farmers.

Aerie 245 Marks 245th Day With Drive For 245

The goal: 245 new members before December 18.

Aerie 245 adopted the number gimmick to spark interest in the campaign among its members, and to help them remember the goal without any trouble.

William T. Damm is chairman of the drive, and speakers will discuss the subject at all meetings during the drive.

Mrs. Lowery Heads Playground Group

Mrs. Jack Lowery has been elected president of the Centre Street Playground Association.

Other officers, elected at a meeting on the playground Wednesday night, are Mrs. Charles Gurley, vice president; Mrs. Eugene Keyser, treasurer, and Mrs. Ernest Stewart, secretary.

State Police Barracks To Be Dedicated Oct. 10

The recently completed Maryland State Police Barracks on the north side of U.S. Route 40 at Allegany Grove will be formally dedicated and inspected on October 10.

Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent, in making the announcement, said Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will deliver the dedicatory address at the local barracks, after which the inspection tour will be made by the superintendent.

The dedication program, which is open to the public, will get under way at 2 p. m.

Colonel Munshower will inspect the installation, award pistol qualification medals at the public meeting of friends and neighbors of the barracks.

The barracks and headquarters will be open for inspection by everyone. Munshower said it is the sincere desire of the superintendent, as well as the officers and men of the department, that all who can will take the opportunity to see how the organization functions and thereby create a closer relationship.

Governor McKeldin also will deliver the dedicatory address at the new barracks at Waldorf at 11 a. m. October 1.

During the month of September inspections of other installations throughout the state will be conducted by Colonel Munshower.

Field Testing Of Fire Hose To End Today

Task Is Part Of Training Program

Field testing of the last of some 18,000 feet of hose used by the Cumberland Fire Department will be completed today, according to Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker.

The testing program, he said, is being supervised by Assistant Fire Chief Robert C. Long as part of the department's training program.

New Men Trained

The untrained men, he said, are taken out as they can be spared, and shown how to hook up to fire hydrants and to operate the pumper.

Parker said the hose used here will generally withstand pressures of 600 pounds and that some will take up to 1,000 pounds.

New Equipment Needed

Hose which fails in the tests is taken to Central Fire Department to undergo repairs and further tests.

For this, the department is using aging equipment which is to be replaced soon by an electric-hydraulic hose testing and repair device.

The equipment will cost about $1,000 and is already on order. It will enable firemen to test hose at any specified pressure and to install new couplings on repairable hose.

Chief Parker said classes are limited to 10 men for the field training.

Schoolboy Belts, Badges Available

Some of the members of the Shoolboy Patrol of public and parochial schools of Allegany County will be sporting new belts and badges this year.

In a letter to principals of the schools of the county, Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation, announced that the Board of County Commissioners has provided $300 in its budget for the purchase of belts and badges.

Ramey said he will try to supply the needs of the several schools as far as possible. With the limited amount of $300, it may not be possible to buy as many belts and badges as the schools may request.

Principals are asked to be considerate as possible in making requests, and orders are to be returned to Ramey's office no later than Thursday, September 13.

Little Orleans Man Sentenced To 60 Days

A Little Orleans man was sentenced yesterday tot 60 days in County Jail after being found guilty of being drunk and disorderly by Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

Robert R. Morris, 57, also faces a possible six-month sentence on charges of assaulting his wife, Ida.

He had been found guilty of assaulting his wife on March 27 and was given six-month suspended sentence. On June 3, he was charged again with assaulting his wife and was ordered to serve his suspended sentence.

Norris appealed his case and was released on $1,000 bond to await the October term of the Circuit Court. But his surety withdrew bond yesterday after the hearing.

Yoder Receives Degree

James A. Yoder, 531 Lowell Avenue, was graduated from Gettysburg (Pa. College August 23 with a bachelor's degree in psychology

Labor Day Slow-Down Is Asked

Safe Holiday Urged By Police Official

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn yesterday appealed to residents of this area to drive safely over the Labor Day holidays.

"All we are asking," Chief Flynn said, "is for people to slow down" and to drive carefully.

All officers who can be spared, he said, will be assigned to traffic duty over the holidays in an effort to reduce the toll of accidents.

Progress is being made, he sail, in Cumberland's campaign to curb speeding, but the job is by no means done.

About two months ago, the department embarked on an intensive program to curb speeding.

Arrests Are Heavy

As a result, 36 speeding arrests were made during July and 40 have been made by City Police so far this month.

Virtually all of the motorists charged with exceeding the city's speed limits were charged through evidence obtained by radar equipment.

Chief Flynn said most of the arrests were made on Frederick and Greene streets, and on Oldtown Road.

He said the department will continue the campaign until people realize "that we mean business."

Some Are Warned

Up to 30 drivers, he added, have received warning slips from officers operating the radar speed measuring device.

He said the warnings are given to those who are driving slightly above the speed limit—if the speed in that locality and at that time did not actually endanger the lives of others.

All such warning slips, he warned, are kept on file at Police Headquarters and will be used in prosecution if the driver is arrested for excessive speed a second time.

Chief Flynn said that present fines have not proved to be sufficient to curb speeding, and that larger fines, and suspension of licenses of repeaters, may be necessary.

Labor Day Is Theme Of Church Services

In observance of the Labor Day celebration, the members of Emmanuel Methodist Sunday School and church are invited to attend Sunday morning services in the clothes they ordinarily wear to work.

It is hoped that by this the congregation will be led to feel that there is spiritual value to the work they do. During the service, a special prayer will be offered on behalf the multitudes of men and women who represent the labor force of a strong United States of America, said Rev. Kenneth Grove, pastor.

Holy Communion will be administered during the worship service. Sunday school will convene at 9:45 a. m. and the morning worship service will begin at 11 o'clock.

Crossing Crash Suit Is Filed

Elmer L. Coop, through his attorney, W. Earle Cobey, is seeking damages for injuries and property damage incurred in a wreck on the Western Maryland Railway Company crossing in Ridgeley when his car was hit by a train on March 31.

Coop said he was driving south on a Ridgeley street, and when he approached the crossing he stopped his car, looked and listened.

A railway employe was on the crossing and moved a lantern indicating the Coop car was to proceed, he declared. As he proceeded across the tracks the car was hit by a train which was traveling north.

The plaintiff and his wife suffered contusions, abrasions, lacerations and severe nervous shock as well as damage to their car. They required hospital and medical care.

Luke Hearing Set Tuesday At Oakland

John Guthrie Luke II, accused of shooting his wife and an 18-year-old bystander on Monday at Deep Creek Lake, will be given a preliminary hearing Tuesday at 10 a. m. before Trial Magistrate W. O. Bitzer in Oakland.

Luke, who is confined to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, has been charged with assault with intent to kill. His wife and the bystander, Kermit W. Governor McKeldin has proclaimed the same week in Maryland and is urging all residents of the state to join in the observance.

Locally a possible demonstration of a CD alert will be held on Thursday, September 13 with the general public participating. Other demonstrations are being planned.

During the Wednesday meeting, Barger said, CD officials of the city and county viewed a CD film made in Anne Arundel County, upon which the local film will be patterned.

The course was held to teach the boys the basic scouting skills so they may better assist the scoutmasters with their duties.

While at the camp the youths lived in tents and did all of their own cooking. All activities were conducted in the patrol method of operation.

War Orphans Eligible For GI Education

The importance of the War Orphans Education Law is being noted by officials of the Veterans Administration as many young people orphaned as a result of World War II or the Korean conflict are reaching the age where they can become eligible for benefits under this little-publicized phase of veterans' benefits.

Under the War Orphans Education Law, B. J. Flack, local contact representative for the Veterans Administration, noted, persons eligible are war orphans between the ages of 18 and 23.

Any person whose veteran-parent died of injuries or disease resulting from military service during World War I, World War II or the Korean conflict may apply for these educational benefits.

It is estimated that there are probably 2,500 such young people in Maryland. Many, upon completion of high school, are not aware that they can make application for educational benefits under this law.

The benefits are similar to those granted any veteran under the educational phases of the GI Bill, except that allotment checks are usually sent to the surviving parent or guardian, rather than the students themselves.

Also, Flack points out, the parent or guardian must help work out, with the help of VA counselors, an educational plan showing the student's goal, his program of education, what school or schools he plans to attend, and the estimated cost.

Only after a complete plan is submitted may the VA give its final approval for the training.

Full details of this War Orphans Educational program may be obtained at any contact office of the Veterans Administration. The local office of the VA is located on the third floor of the Cumberland Post Office Building.

The cash payment also is explained in the letter, which reminds the wheat growers the agreement must be signed in the ASC office, 37 Washington Street, no later than 4:30 p. m. September 21.

Field Testing Of Fire Hose To End Today

Task Is Part Of Training Program

Field testing of the last of some 18,000 feet of hose used by the Cumberland Fire Department will be completed today, according to Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker.

The testing program, he said, is being supervised by Assistant Fire Chief Robert C. Long as part of the department's training program.

New Men Trained

The untrained men, he said, are taken out as they can be spared, and shown how to hook up to fire hydrants and to operate the pumper.

During the field work, hose is being tested under up to 400 pounds of pressure as the firemen learn how to handle the surging lines.

Parker said the hose used here will generally withstand pressures of 600 pounds and that some will take up to 1,000 pounds.

New Equipment Needed

Hose which fails in the tests is taken to Central Fire Department to undergo repairs and further tests.

For this, the department is using aging equipment which is to be replaced soon by an electric-hydraulic hose testing and repair device.

The equipment will cost about $1,000 and is already on order. It will enable firemen to test hose at any specified pressure and to install new couplings on repairable hose.

Schoolboy Belts, Badges Available

Some of the members of the Shoolboy Patrol of public and parochial schools of Allegany County will be sporting new belts and badges this year.

In a letter to principals of the schools of the county, Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation, announced that the Board of County Commissioners has provided $300 in its budget for the purchase of belts and badges.

Ramey said he will try to supply the needs of the several schools as far as possible. With the limited amount of $300, it may not be possible to buy as many belts and badges as the schools may request.

Principals are asked to be considerate as possible in making requests, and orders are to be returned to Ramey's office no later than Thursday, September 13.

Norris appealed his case and was released on $1,000 bond to await the October term of the Circuit Court. But his surety withdrew bond yesterday after the hearing.

Labor Day Slow-Down Is Asked

Safe Holiday Urged By Police Official

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn yesterday appealed to residents of this area to drive safely over the Labor Day holidays.

"All we are asking," Chief Flynn said, "is for people to slow down" and to drive carefully.

All officers who can be spared, he said, will be assigned to traffic duty over the holidays in an effort to reduce the toll of accidents.

Progress is being made, he said, in Cumberland's campaign to curb speeding, but the job is by no means done.

The Police Department, he reported, is still getting entirely too many complaints of speeding on city streets.

About two months ago, the department embarked on an intensive program to curb speeding.

Arrests Are Heavy

As a result, 36 speeding arrests were made during July and 40 have been made by City Police so far this month.

Virtually all of the motorists charged with exceeding the city's speed limits were charged through evidence obtained by radar equipment.

The drivers generally forfeited bonds or, if they appeared for hearings, pleaded guilty.

Chief Flynn said most of the arrests were made on Frederick and Greene streets, and on Oldtown Road.

He said the department will continue the campaign until people realize "that we mean business."

Some Are Warned

Up to 30 drivers, he added, have received warning slips from officers operating the radar speed measuring device.

He said the warnings are given to those who are driving slightly above the speed limit—if the speed in that locality and at that time did not actually endanger the lives of others.

All such warning slips, he warned, are kept on file at Police Headquarters and will be used in prosecution if the driver is arrested for excessive speed a second time.

Chief Flynn said that present fines have not proved to be sufficient to curb speeding, and that larger fines, and suspension of licenses of repeaters, may be necessary.

Labor Day Is Theme Of Church Services

In observance of the Labor Day celebration, the members of Emmanuel Methodist Sunday School and church are invited to attend Sunday morning services in the clothes they ordinarily wear to work.

During the service, a special prayer will be offered on behalf the multitudes of men and women who represent the labor force of a strong United States of America, said Rev. Kenneth Grove, pastor.

Holy Communion will be administered during the worship service. Sunday school will convene at 9:45 a. m. and the morning worship service will begin at 11 o'clock.

The latter part of the film will include demonstrations of the rescue teams, first aid teams, casualty clearance teams, as well as control centers and welfare activities.

Barger pointed out that the County Commissioners have approved such an educational film, which will be shown at schools and PTA meetings, as well as to other interested groups.

National Civil Defense Week will be observed September 9 through September 15, according to Barger, who said President Eisenhower has declared the national observance as a means of developing awareness of general participation in Civil Defense.

Governor McKeldin has proclaimed the same week in Maryland and is urging all residents of the state to join in the observance.

Locally a possible demonstration of a CD alert will be held on Thursday, September 13 with the general public participating. Other demonstrations are being planned.

During the Wednesday meeting, Barger said, CD officials of the city and county viewed a CD film made in Anne Arundel County, upon which the local film will be patterned.
